Theatre Production To Open Thursday

By Ronald King

The tragedy of the Scottish general with "black and deep desire" will unfold at Phi Beta Kappa Hall when the William and Mary Players present Macbeth on Thursday, Friday, Saturday, March 11, 12 and 13. The curtain will part promptly at 8 o'clock on each night.

Although the Theatre has done every Shakespearean comedy, the forthcoming production marks the first attempt at one of gentle Will's tragedies in the history of the college.

Mann, McCarthy Star

Cast in the title role is John Mann, and his Lady is Mary McCarthy. Both are members of long standing in the local theatrical group, and both are tackling the toughest acting assignments of their years.

William Norgren, another familiar figure on the Phi Beta stage, will be Banquo, the fool and high-minded rival to Macbeth. Richard Lee, a newcomer, will appear as Macduff with Nancy Adams at his side as Lady Macduff.

Seniors May Obtain Graduation Invitations

Senior nominating committee expressed dissatisfaction with 19 residents. Kappa Gamma's have the highest ties. The Phi Mu's have the highest individual ties. The number living in the houses varies at the discretion of Miss Wynne-Roberts, assistant dean of women, and the individual sororities. The Phi Mu's have the smallest number of 19 residents, and the Kappa Kappa Gamma's have the highest with 19 residents.

Several members of the committee expressed dissatisfaction that it is necessary for sorority women to pay $184.50 annually for housemother's rent for the housemother's rent. During the war the college agreed to allow more girls to live in the "small dormitories" at the same cost of $215.85 for just 18 occupants. At present the number living in the houses varies at the discretion of Miss Wynne-Roberts, assistant dean of women, and the individual sororities. Music In Amphitheater?

Ronald King's mid-Winter wonderland

We sawed in one of our exchanges last week an article and an advertisement announcing a concert to be given by a well-known symphony orchestra. The Manzella amphitheater, owned by the Jannestown Corporation, would be a beautiful place for such a symphony orchestra to perform, and if a concert were given at the right time with the proper advertising it might fill the amphitheater and bring a profit. The Manzella family has given a lot of money to the college and if the profits from the advertising propaganda were handled in an appealing way, there would be a good chance for the Jannestown Corporation to allow the amphitheater to be used for a concert, and whether the college would underwrite the cost. But, if such a concert were to be given by such an orchestra as the Manzella's, it would go, and a great many of the college students would go, as well as the faculty and townsmen. Many high school students attend plays produced by such an orchestra, and they also could be attracted by the healthy dose of culture by hearing the performance of a good symphony orchestra.

People in other cities jam outdoor concert halls to listen to good music, and people here certainly would enjoy that same music, and be attracted by the Manzella orchestra.

If the expense of such an event is too great for the college to undertake, we suggest that the Student Assembly look into the prospect of having the Jannestown Corporation sponsor the concert. And the amphitheater certainly isn't making any money by remaining empty until May 1—advantage in any sort of state secondary school will give one an edge over the others in the applicant's favor. A cynic may say that any sort of advantages, especially those his grades and his interest in music, the Manzella family, the Jannestown Corporation, and the Student Assembly could all work together to...

Students Question Publication Of News; Bill Doesn't Like Cafeteria Prices

To the Editor:

I wish to state the position of some of us fraternity pledges on the article which appeared in last week's Flat Hat. This week we attempted to contract Gene Krupa's orchestra; the College dance, and we hope to obtain some "big sister" orchestras for large dances, and sorority balls. The fraternity association have the authority to do this, if we could institute a lecture or seminar whereby upperclass women could be drafted to bring in new students, but Dean Hocutt, spokesman of the University of Virginia of my fraternity, reversed peristalsis, and his value I've yet to find out. But speaking of sex, etc., there are many which are absolutely up because parents are adding necessary help and it will give the money are small, parents are adding funds to leave in a body the day before the meat capitulates. To the Richmond Road Veterans' Hall has caved in. For the cost of adding all smoke into the bottle and putting the butts in the empty bottle. For half, that's my grope, and now that's off my chest I'll go back to the cafeteria and pay 75 cents for unedible spaghetti and pay 75 cents for unedible spaghetti and pay 75 cents for unedible spaghetti. Southerners Attempt Truman Defeat

These demagogues often cause a violent reaction in their program among white Southerners. These Southerners, like most Americans, are just "contrite" enough to say "yes" to when someone tries to "tell them what to do." This reaction, combined with the fear of the low-born element among the colored population, makes harmony seem impossible.

Whorter progress is impeded. Such evils as lynching are on their way out. Despite the hard cries of the sensationalists among Northern metropolitan newspaper offices, papers kept by Tidewater Institute show a sharp reduction in lynching. Some years pass without any lynchings.

Southerners must see it as every year passes that way. Senator Reed, favorite target of the demagogues, sponsored Virginia's anti-lynch law. This law was enacted 20 years ago. It has been strictly enforced. No lynchings have occurred in Virginia since passage of this law.

Tuck's Proposal
After giving a brief condemnation of the Trutt-Harley set, he concluded by saying that he disliked strikes because the worker, employer and community lose by it. He added, in a system whereby fairness can be reached by some means, "the labor leader is the man who preaches the gospel." He also said that "We are advocating direct election of public officials," but added that no stand should be made in the present voting bill up before the Virginia General Assembly.

State Bar Examination Admits Dr. Caldwell, W & M Law Students

Two William and Mary students recently passed the Virginia State Bar exam which was given last December in Richmond. They are Francis H. Clark, of Franklin, and William G. Clarke, of Arling- ton. Both men will receive their JD degrees from the college in June. Dr. Robert G. Caldwell, of the sociology department, was admitted to the bar in the same exam.

The next state exam will be held in June at Roanoke, Va. Let-worth, director of public relations for the Wyrthe Law Club, has announced.

Dr. D. W. Woodruff, chaplain of jurisprudence at the college, has been invited to conduct a bar review course at Washington and Lee University and to participate in a similar course at the University of Virginia. It is expected that many William and Mary Law students will attend.

Post-mortem On Flat Hat Editors

Only Five Follow Journalism Career

So you want to be editor of the Flat Hat? (No reflection on Bud.) And from the oddity of William and Mary and sure you have hopes of a jump to bigger and better things? (Still no reflection.) Well, here's your oldad.

Of course, there were several more women during the war years, but the first was Elizabeth Cottle who maintained another Flat Hat during '22, is managing editor of the Roanoke World News. He is, whom, Carl Andrews, editor in House in New York.

SORORITY RENTS

Duke To Probe Complaints Of Women

from the chapters. Duke, however, pointed out that the college bears the burden of board and room for the housemothers.

One member of the committee remarked that the sororities do not feel they are receiving full benefit from the approximately $5,000 sum which each house pays the college for eight months’ occupancy. Duke explained that the houses, costing $35,000 each, were built from an endowment fund amounting to $500,000 which was established by the Board of Visitors at the time the houses were constructed. It is necessary for the college to liquidate its investments in the endowment fund each year so that the women not only must pay for general maintenance and depreciation, but all must provide each year for partial liquidation of the debt to the endowment. For this reason rates must be maintained at the present high level.

The following requests have been submitted by the sororities to the committee: (1) establishment of a fair and equalized policy for the payment of maid service, (2) transfer of rooms to the 6th floor and brought down in the spring, (3) new plumbing systems in the guest houses, (4) built walks from the back doors of the houses to the street to prevent mud tracking especially at the Delta Delta Delta house, (5) washing the windows on the outside, (6) regulation of heating and lighting around the houses, (7) equalized improvements among the houses as possible. This statement was in response to the criticism that the work done during the summer months in the sorority houses is not only unequal, but also not enough.

Food Cross Fails To Reach Quota

As Drive Nears End

Tentative results of the Red Cross drive, released on Saturday by George Sheehan, president of the college chapter, show that solicitors have collected a total of $550, falling 650 short of the original campaign quota.

Failure to approach the $800 goal set by the drive led Red Cross members to lower the quota to $500. Final results of the drive were not available at press time. Approximately 50 students, under Sheehan's direction, aided in soliciting the campus.

Day students were not enthusiastic at prize time. Sheehan reported that residents of the Tri Delta house made a $10 donation, with each woman contributing one dollar. "I want to thank all who have contributed," Sheehan declared.

Writers Pick Indian Guard

Jere Bunting, 20-year-old Will­liam and Mary sophomore, receiv­ed more votes than any other player in the Southern Conference tour­nament. He received 65 votes, 10 more than anyone else, to out-poll such standouts as Dick Dickey in winning a berth on the all-tourney team. The team was selected by the Southern Conference sportswrit­ers. Bunting's 65 votes were a record for the University of Virginia, re­ceived the greatest number of votes in the tournament and was chosen as captain and guard of the All-Tournament team. It was the third year in a row that the five-foot-nine, 155-pound guard named the All-State team.

JV Courtmen Close Season

The William and Mary Junior Varsity Basketball team finished their season last week after losing to the University of Virginia team. The game will be their last for this season. The score was 43-34.

The Jayvees' record at the close of their season is 8-15. They lost twice to Harrisonburg, twice to Staunton, once to Shenandoah, twice to Washington and Lee, twice to Virginia Military Institute, once to VMI, and once to the University of Virginia. Several of their victories have been over teams who have finished the season with only a few games, have compiled a good season record. They include Jere Bunting, who has since proven his worth on the varsity, Bob Benjamin and Paul Horvath.

Prior to Saturday night's game the Jayvees had scored 823 points against 820 for their opponents. They averaged 42 points per game. Prior to Saturday night's game the Jayvees had scored 823 points against 820 for their opponents. They averaged 42 points per game.

Bunting Stars In Both Games

Coach Barney Wilson's Will­liam and Mary Indian basketball teams continued their winning streak last week by pulling out a 61-56 victory over Wake Forest and giving the powerful North Carolina State team, which had already been defeated by the Wolfpack as the Braves were won­dering what was expected of them, Coach Ev Case and members of his team.

The Tribe's victory over Wake Forest won for the Indians the conference title. This was the Indian courtmen's 12th victory of the season, and was their third in the tour­nament. The Indian courtmen won 12 and 11, over the University of Virginia, and the All-State selection for All-State team climax a month of pheno­mal play by the five-foot-nine, nine-inch获胜者 from East Stone Gap.

Chess Giermak, state and confer­ence high scorer, was the Associ­ated Press selection for All-State center. He had the greatest number of votes in the balloting and was followed by Steve Siegert of the Indians, 55 bal­lots to out-poll such standouts as Dick Dickey in winning a berth on the all-tourney team. The team was selected by the Southern Conference sportswrit­ers.

Nine losses. The outstanding scor­ers were Bunting, 20, Benjamin, 18, and Horvath, 18. The outstanding taller men on the two teams. Rather than doing much scoring, big men. The team operated that sea­son.

Net Team Will Play Seven Home Matches

Michigan State Comes Here. For Opening Match March 26

By Ed Griffin

Victor Seixas will lead North Carolina's Tarheels to William and Mary tomorrow afternoon, March 25, to begin the indoor season, which will be the feature attraction of the Indian's tennis schedule which lists seven home contests.

Seixas, who holds the No. 1 singles ranking in the nation because of his excellent work on the eastern grass courts last summertime and with Virginia, is expected to be one of the top players in the nation. His brother, Fred, a Tarheel, will be here at William and Mary probably on April 17 for the match to form the fifth doubles tandem. Fred, according to all predictions, will fill the No. 2 and 3 spots in the lineup.

Sidney Schwartz, the national champion, will compete in the doubles with Bass. Schwartz is expected to be the No. 1 player in the nation on both the indoor and outdoor courts.

The home forces will be practicing this week, stating that they have met on a home-and-home basis. Schwartz, who is being trained by his coach, will represent the University of Miami and the Country Club of Virginia at Richmond. When and where the matches will be played are pending with the University of Michigan, which is still on the indoor courts. They have no outdoor facilities, but Schwartz is expected to be there.

The Tribe nettet bowed to Seixas in the semifinals last season's Southern Conference tournament and the game set of circumstances occurred at the National Intercollegiates. Gardner Larned defeated Schwartz for No. 1 and Larned and Bartzen all reached the finals and Karuppies got a better-than-average man for the title. The doubles final was an all-William and Mary affair as Larned and Bartzen downed Kovaleski and Howe and Schwartz and Bass.

The home teams will play part of a program, which is being planned for April 26 at the Cavalier Hotel at the Virginia Beach. Sidney Schwartz, the national indoor junior champion, will be a presence. He has been a presence in the southern country, five places below the Brewer's champion, Tot Bartzen, and they are the best men for the Hurricane's.

Army, Navy and Seton Hall will be felled when the Indians go north in late April. The two service schools were shut out, 9-0, last spring and the Seton Hall squad is expected to win without much difficulty.

Army's championship series will be determined by the indoor court, which is being played for April 20 at the Cavalier Hotel at Virginia Beach. Schwartz, the national Indoor junior Champion, will be a presence. He has been a presence in the southern country, five places below the Brewer's champion, Tot Bartzen, and they are the best men for the Hurricane's.

The Tribe's schedule is as follows:

March 26 - Michigan State, here
March 27 - Frederickburg, here
March 28 - Richmond, here
April 11 - Virginia Wesleyan, here
April 17 - Presbyterian, here
April 24 - Army, there
April 25 - Navy, there
May 4 - Virginia Wesleyan, here
May 5 - CC, there
May 6 - George Washington, here
May 13-15 - Southern tourney, Chapel Hill

TWO ACES ARE BETTER THAN A FULL HOUSE - Fred Kovaleski, left, and Captain Bernard (Ted) Hartman will lead William and Mary's national championship team squad through what will undoubtedly prove to be another highly successful season. At UCLA last June they, with Gardner Larned and Hove Alwater, romped over the opposition to such a degree that the title was in the bag even before the semifinals had been finished. Both bowed in victory Seixas of North Carolina. Hartman being in the quarterfinals and Kovaleski falling after a hard battle in the semis.

W&M Tracksters Work On Starters

Cary Field echoed with the crack of the starter's pistol last week, as Coach McCray drilled the Tribe sprinters in starts and wind sprints. Hard workouts were held daily with everyone taking part. Francis McFall and Bill Forsythe. Francis McFall and Bill Forsythe looked especially good in the dashes, while team members have shown considerable improvement since the start of practice.

Last week saw the first regular work on the part of the sprinters. Harry Wrenning, Luke Holli­ hock, Lou Crown and William Hartman form the nucleus of the way team, consisting of all of the addition of distance to their throws. These men are under a handicap of sorts, and will have to divide their time between football prac­ tice, which will be the feature attraction of the Tribe, and track.

Army, Navy and Seton Hall will be felled when the Indians go north in late April. The two service schools were shut out, 9-0, last spring and the Seton Hall squad is expected to win without much difficulty. Army's championship series will be determined by the indoor court, which is being played for April 20 at the Cavalier Hotel at Virginia Beach. The SAE basketball team moved into first place in the Fraternity League last week by downing the KA five, 43-40, after Pi KA had boomed Sigma Chi its first defeat, 33-50. The win was thurday. Decided to a dash to the finish by SAE and Sigma Chi.

On Thursday, March 11, the two top teams battle in Blaw Gym at 8:15 p.m., following the championship game between the two undefeated teams in the Independent League, the Flying Vets and By Passers at 7 o'clock.

Between the two games will be played the rounds of the ping pong tournament. Playing in the final rounds will be Ted Ferron and Roy Sitzen, Bill Shearns and George Valentine, Steve Chmel­ bick and George Fricke, and Lewis Maki and the winners of the Tom Hill-Bob Dolli match.

The following week, the winners of the two court tussles will play for the school championship, and then the winner of that game will play against the championship team in the women's league, using women's rules.

The deadline on the handball tournament is March 15, and it is now in its second round.

There has been a large amount of interest in the ping pong and the women's league, and if they allow for easier participation, the players being allowed to play their matches off at their own discretion.

Last week at Women's Student Government meeting the recommendation that intramural season be cut was passed by a vote of 18 to 2. The intramural season, already cut from what it was season before, will be cut further. Intramurals are for the purpose of providing a chance for those interested to participate. The season was cut because of the way in which they were operating. Intramurals had lost some of that purpose because of the way in which they were operated.

It had become a matter of having to participate so that your organization would be well represented. The same clubs were playing all the sports and in that way they tended to see the end of the intramural season because it meant the beginning of another.

Under the new system all the individual sports are going to be in the form of open meets. This will allow more people to participate because the organizations were limited to one or two teams. The team sports such as swimming, basketball, tennis and softball will be the only ones included in the cup competition. This will allow a breathing space between these sports so that able people can enjoy the season more.

Song Contest

This discussion eventually will lead to the song contest as we must work very closely to believe this contest is as many people who wish to discuss it. The contest is being a waste of time and too much work. I think this is a tragedy. Let's get away from traditions, and to progress in spite of traditions, which affords creation, participation and entertainment. These are the kind of things we need more of in this world.

ACE INDIAN SWIMMER—Ted Under, of Arlington, was the key man on the 1948 William and Mary swimming team, and the one who accounted for most of the team's points. Swimming in the 50-yard and 100-yard free-style events, he piled up 12 points during the course of the season.

Kappa, Chi Omega Compete For Basketball Championship

Women's basketball intramurals drew to a close with the championship game between Kappa and Chi Omega set for tonight at 8:30 in Jefferson gym. The Chi Os won the right to face for the championship by defeating Alpha Chi, 22-14, in a nip and tuck battle that had the spectators standing on their feet throughout the whole second half. Kappa went down as predicted and trounced Gamma Phi, 52-10.

Alpha Chi led at the half, 11-9, in what proved to be the closest matched and hardest-fought battle of the intramural season. The K. O. forwards came back hard in the second half, while the team handling of Mary Ann Hook, Peggy James and Peg Grindel and high scoring Dorothy Elliot to four points. Jimmy Murphy, who also should not forget them.

One suggestion was made that the fraternities might participate. Of course so that the program wouldn't be too long both senior leagues and fraternities could sing just one song. This is a good plan and I think the details could be worked out if the fraternities would agree. As to the suggestion that skits be put on instead of the song, that isn't even worth discussing for many obvious reasons. It would be better to forget the whole thing rather than to get into anything like that.

May Day Program

The May Day program is one of the best things in which a majority of the students are interested and that is because so many participate actively. Let's keep this tradition which affords creation, participation and entertainment. These are the kind of things we need more of in this world.

Billions have been spent on the song contest so we had to have it—and that I think is the main point. It is because so many participate of the students are interested and that is why we should encourage participation so that your organization would be well represented. The same clubs were playing all the sports and in that way they tended to see the end of the intramural season because it meant the beginning of another.

35 Ballhawks Attend First Diamond Drill

Baseball practice for the William and Mary Braves got underway Wednesday when 35 diamond hopefuls reported to Marvin Bass, who is beginning his first season as coach. Although hampered by cold weather for the first few sessions, Bass and his assistants Howard Smith and Bob Mckinry, both of whom are being counted upon heavily to help the team, have shown great promise.

Several pitchers and catchers jumped the gun, getting some early practice. The hurlers include Bob Gill, Randy Mallory, and Bob Newton who scored 14 of her team's points, shot the whistle blow and thus scored the winning two points. Sally Oliva had scored all of her team's points until she was ejected from the game on fouls.

Bass indicated that he had the material as they captured their second win in as many starts against Tri Delta, 22-16. Gwen Buxton won wild getting all the points for Barrett.

Bass did state that Olaf Hedman and Bob McSherry, both of whom are being counted upon heavily to help the team, have shown great promise.

Restoration Opens Recreation Center; King is Narrator

At Colonial Williamsburg, its new reception center to the public recently, visitors viewed a preview of two short subjects narrated by Ronald King, William and Mary law student.

Preceding is Independence, a documentary summarizing early American history and the role of Williamsburg in America's past, to be on display for several months. The three-minute show above, How in Williamsburg, was completed shortly before the first presenta-tion.

Officials School King

Edgar A. Simms, director of the William and Mary Theatre, was selected by officials of the Williamsburg who had seen him as the narrator in The Common Glory, Paul Greer's symphonic tribute to Virginia.

The reception center will be a central point of introduction to Williamsburg and is expected to be the first stop for all visitors, tour groups and school parties. The center will provide direction and help for visitors before they tour the area.

Recruitment Audition

Located near the Williamsburg Lodge, the center includes an auditorium to seat 400, a large lobby for exhibits and other interpretive exhibits, rest rooms and an official Information Desk. Colonial Williamsburg is open daily from 8AM to 5PM and in the evenings for special programs.

The 45-minute program of modern and early folk music will be without charge eight days daily. A new feature of the two new presentations, the program includes a 15-minute segment of I Am Williamsburg, which relates the story of how Williamsburg was restored, with singers and dancers being part of the restoration project.

Fraternity Elections

Members of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary academic fraternity, announced the election of Bill Council, president; Gene Mears, vice-president; Jack Arena, secretary; Lois Rilee, treasurer; and Harold Fowler, professor of history, as an honorary education fraternity, an affiliate of the national convocation of this society.

Vivian Deford, historian. A member of the executive board, served as chairman of the election committee.

The Reverend Archibald F. Ward, Jr., pastor of the Williamsburg Baptist Church, presided over the meeting at which Marion Lincoln McMillan, Dr. A. M. Stryker, Lloyd W. Williams, Winton Rutledge, Horace Henderson and Dr. Charles P. Marquand, head of the department of business administration at William and Mary law school, were absent. Absent were A. W. Hitchens, R. A. Menzie and John A. Gorham, Jr.

Meeting Doodled

The meeting was somewhat delayed by the lack of controversy, which was resulted in the relatively unimportant branches of the chief question. McMillan, who served as chairman last summer, stated that he favored the amendment to the budget being approved. Ward, as chairman, had hoped to complete the meeting on time, but the session continued.

A point made by the chairman at the beginning of the session was that the amplitude of the budget this year was increased by the financial depression. As a result, Williams gave a detailed discussion of the financial status of the college, and session was made the move underway

Poem By Student

In Dance Recital

Last week a poem by Stuart de Melo because of its selection for inclusion in the Annual American College Poetry, will form the basis for a dance piece to be choreographed by students in the Virginia Drama Department.

Ronald King will narrate the poem, a sonnet, which expresses the mood. The overtures is somewhat somber, and the dance is designed to carry out the rather somber quality. "As the poem brings different thoughts to various people's minds, the dance presents various visual impressions to the auditor, Miss Blanche Duffy, director of Orchesis, explained.

Movement to the spoken word is becoming increasingly important in the field of modern dance, with such outstanding dancers as Arthur Grahan, Peter Hamilton and Charles Weidman giving it prominent attention.

The weekly chapel service will be a continuous function at the college, with the candidates for the office of mayor of the city taking part.

The various candidates were questioned by members of the audience at the conclusion of the formal talk, and then several persons voiced their opinions on the institution of such meetings, the comment being quite favorable. At the close of the meeting, Dr. Harold Fowler, professor of history at William and Mary, announced that petitions expressing opposition to the recent election legislation proposed by Governor William M. Knudt would be available for signing in the school lobby when the meeting was dismissed.

It is expected that other meetings of this type will be held periodically, with the school question, supervised by Dr. Stryker, likely to be the next to arise.

Although handicapped by not having a place to keep radio equipment, the club hopes to maintain an increased interest in radio and help interested persons to join the Federal Communications Commission test by giving instruction in code and theory. Business Forum Features Address
By Howard Kyle

By James Anthony

Howard Kyle, an alumnus of the class of 1938 and president of the Dixie Container Corporation of Richmond, spoke on Perspective in Business at the last official session of the Business Forum this semester on Wednesday in Rogers 212. Covering several prominent aspects of present day business and commerce, Kyle endeavored to answer in his talk some of the questions confronting the average business major when he finally enters his field. Opening with the statement that, “Contrary to popular conception, success may be achieved by foul methods,” he pointed out that the degree of success achieved in this way is seldom worth the risk involved. To illustrate his point he cited Judas, Benedict Arnold and General Bennett Meyers. Rather, he emphasized the importance of the qualities of personal integrity, courage, and consideration which should be inherent in a person earnestly striving to make his mark in business.

Human Experiences

Kyle advised those present at the forum to equip for as many human experiences as is possible while they are in college. “A wholesome desire to do your job well,” he said, “will not scare Dame Fortune away.”

“What sort of preparation, aside from the prescribed courses, would be most beneficial to a career in business management and administration?” was a question asked during the period following the talk. In answering, Kyle specified as most important, “...a delving into labor relations, law and business bookkeeping.”

Labor Ascending

Emphasizing the rising need for a thorough acquaintance with labor and its problems, he explained that labor has been and is on the ascendancy. When asked the reason for his emphasis on a working knowledge of law, Kyle quipped, “A little law is a good thing to have a lot of in any field of business.”

Dr. Charles F. Marsh, director of the business forum, stated that he expects Charles Southward, of the Virginia State Department of Commerce, to speak before his classes today on Government Aids.

WHY I smoke Chesterfield

(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)

“I smoke Chesterfield. I think it’s a good cigarette. It has a real good tobacco flavor.

“Liggett & Myers buy a good percentage of my best tobacco. Mild, ripe, sweet tobaccos. When they see a basket of tobacco they want they pay the top price to get it.”
