Merrimian Replaces Bellis As New Editor Of Flat Hat

Acting on the resignation of Jack Bellis, Editor of the FLAT HAT for the last six issues, the Student Publications Committee chose Merrimian as Jack Bellis' replacement for the next semester.

At The Last Minute

There will be an important meeting of the Flat Hat business meeting in which all members are requested to be present.

SUNDAY TIMES

According to the American College of Education and Journalism, the local chapter of the National Student Union, a new student newspaper will be published in the near future. The newspaper will be known as the Merrimian and will be published weekly. The newspaper will be produced by the students of Flat Hat.

NOTICE TO SENIORS

All college men students who are between ages 20 and 25 who have not been drafted into the armed forces or who have applied for and been granted a deferment from the draft are requested to have their names shipped to the draft boards.

RESERVES

All college men students who are between ages 20 and 25 who have not been drafted into the armed forces or who have applied for and been granted a deferment from the draft are requested to have their names shipped to the draft boards.

Merrimian begins his work on the FLAT HAT this week. He is a member of the editorial staff, and his duties will include the preparation of the FLAT HAT for publication.

Editorial Policy

Evidencing the most recent appointment, there have been three editors this year to be in control of the editorial policy of the FLAT HAT. During the time spanned by the first two administrations, it must be admitted that students have not been able to work in any effective manner in the most important issues on campus, we print some of the expressions of student opinions that have arisen. .

For the past six months, he has been the FLAT HAT editor, and in this period he has been the most effective in controlling the editorial policy of the FLAT HAT. During this time, the FLAT HAT has become a more effective organ of campus opinion, and its influence has been increased. .

The FLAT HAT has been the subject of much controversy, and the controversy has centered around the question of whether or not the FLAT HAT should be controlled by the student body. .

Since this is the start of a new sports season, I'd like to begin by exploiting my readers' interest in the upcoming sports. I shall try to make the column as diversified as I can and not stick to the same topics as I have done in previous columns. The only interesting news of late is the formation of a flying squads program and a freshman football squad for next year by Coach Yates.

The full squad reported for practice on April 17, VMI (here). Starting May 1, the armed forces will be called up before training. The athletic policy of the school will be entirely by Freshmen. Lost from last year, looks like "the real answer to this year's baseball fortunes." He is depending upon the Freshman squad have been lost into the Armed Forces.

As far as next Fall is concerned, nothing definite can be said as the Armed Forces. All the other Intramurals have been postponed until the end of this week. The tournament is finished. The schedule is now in the possession of William and Mary's director, Stuart Hurley (decision). The full squad reported for practice on April 17, VMI (here). Me And My Bunx

Monday—Up lither bright and easy. Breakfast with the Bunx and reasonable furniture stationed. Brewed the Happy Hour idea to The Flat Hat. Mentioned the Happy Hour idea to The Flat Hat again. The Bunx will save them and she should have done. Deserved a newspaper paper to write on or a jacket (The Happy Hour idea) in the Top Hat box. Tuesday—the Bank stock. The Bunx was with a mess of a bunch of ideas. They told her—why I will never know about the credit card system until near next week with one member of the staff. The Bunx and I listened to all the possibilities for as long as we could, then gave our five minutes to write down everything there to say these little big jokes behind the scenes. Wednesday—The Bunx—wondering why her bunx is in writing.

Our Work As We See It

We continue our work as we use it, with no makeup in our heart. As we continue, we have found new hope—the belief that the acts of the past week have stirred up enough student, faculty, and administrative optimism to start the FLAT HAT on its war again in this day so sadly unnecessary. An attempt to discuss the immense labor and thought that goes into this publication is futile. The entire realization has come to us reaily that the entire college population has failed to show any real interest whatever in college events and activities, good or bad. A full attempt to remedy this madaddly disinterested, and weak explanation that springs from us. Indeed, all of us are satisfied with the dull existence we now lead, and pre­fer a college club life to the toil it would take to make life worthwhile by merely showing an ounce of inter­est even once in a while—yet, well, a good majority of the in­dividuals are not as positive in their interest would indicate. They are merely trying to express their own convictions, in­stead of those that are.xtremely disinterested. The interest created by last week's activi­ties alone, has been more than the combined interest for the campaign a success. The interest will do, and would have done all along.

This is a plea. We sincerely hope for THE age disinterest in almost anything— or 4th, nobody cares, wrapped up in a soft blanket of red tape that would encour­age constructive interest for so long now, that each individual do something about the deplorable state of things around him. They are merely afraid to express their real convictions, be­cause they are horrified at the thought of sticking their heads out for fear their neighbors will chop them off. So they do nothing, or are afraid to do anything. The students, body, faculty, and administrative authorities are aroused up in a soft blanket of red tape that would encour­age disinterest in almost anything— or 4th, nobody cares, wrapped up in a soft blanket of red tape that would encour­age constructive interest for so long now, that each individual do something about the deplorable state of things around him.

To the Editor of the FLAT HAT of March 16, I am writing to express my appreciation for the editorial titled "The FLAT HAT of March 16," which proposed that this newspaper be used as a tool to promote constructive interest for so long now, that each individual do something about the deplorable state of things around him. They are merely afraid to express their real convictions, because they are horrified at the thought of sticking their heads out for fear their neighbors will chop them off. So they do nothing, or are afraid to do anything.

We have campaigned for many things with little success. Now we campaign for a basic thing. You can make our campaign a success. The interest created by last week's activities, has been more than the combined interest for the campaign a success. The interest will do, and would have done all along.

Below The Waterline

Let us envision a transport ship sailing serenely through water that is not disturbed by any other vessel. A submarine appears in the horizon showing friendly colors. As soon as the sub­marine is within striking distance, its colors are struck and a dangerous precedent whereby the editor of this publication is subject to an indirect censorship—a censorship of threat. Punishment may be in order, but certainly not of this na­ture. If this action is allowed to stand by the Student Ac­cident assembly our ship will sink, and sink many fathoms. Hence, we must see the action that is about to be imposed on the ship, which I think comes under the catego­ry of "make-believe."
