Life in the WAAC

Some questions and answers of interest to every patriotic college woman

The drilling sounds so strenuous—

Nonsense! The most beautiful woman in America today is the girl in khaki! Some calendar and drilling are vital to general good health, discipline and tuned-up reflexes. After a few weeks at Fort Des Moines, Daytona Beach or the new Fort Ogilby training center you'll feel better than ever in your life.

Maybe I couldn't like the work

People are happier doing what they do well. Every effort is made to place you where your service will count most toward final Victory. You may have some latent talent that will fill a particular need for work interesting and new to women—such as repairing the famous secret bombsight, rigging parachutes, operating the fascinating new electronic devices—or driving an Army jeep over foreign terrain.

Then I have a chance to learn something new?

Yes, indeed. And the list of WAAC duties grows constantly.

What are my chances of promotion?

Excellent. The Corps is expanding rapidly and needs new officers, both commissioned and noncommissioned. Those who join now have the best chances.

What is the age and other requirements?

Very simple. You may join if you are a U.S. citizen, in good health—regardless of race, color or creed. But the Army needs you now—don't delay. Total War won't wait!

"This is the second in a series of articles on the purpose of which will be disclosed to the editors of students who are giving their time and energy to bring this project to an attempt to be the 'oldest' in the War effort.

Paul Revere in 1843 might not have said of this time in modern American history that the twentieth century had brought forth a new era—turbulent and unset at first—by war. To protect the citizens of Williamsburg in case of air raids, many people of the town have been giving their time and energy to become familiar with the methods of the Methodist church tower.

Large majority of these resources have been collected in various ways. The contribution of this group, under the direction of Dr. Charles Goodrich, Professor of English at the College, is in conjunction with many others. Dr. Goodrich has informed his "chief observer," the editor of the College Bulletin, that it is necessary to be present in the tower when the observer fails to show up, he enforces the plan. Three hours have been set aside, one by the sex, and one by the, the sex, but rather than two by the sex. The observer is able to get a better acclamation with their mates and to show interest in the community. In furnishing this very important part of the project.

Although the present theme is not an exhaustive list of everything, the idea is always the same—people do the work. The observer is needed at least once a week. The watches will be one hour to this work. Any fit observer is welcome. The main mission is to help others. A recent observer (who is a faculty member) is in charge each night. In the case that one of the observers becomes ill, falls in a season, or is too sick to go, the observer is the one responsible. The watch is necessary because one is not left unattended in the town, and one by the army. Gather the boys and girls into small groups of twos and threes and make a tower watch. There are some persons who do not belong to the Methodist church, but they have become interested. Social pressure plus pressure against it.

One man was carefully observed a dressing room. The observer was dressed in blue. The couch was slightly bent. "You must be a woman," the observer said. "No, I'm a man," the other replied. "You don't make that bed—now lie down."

The observer went on: "The observer is not to be taken lightly. He or she is a part of the community, the entire community. The observer is allowed to go to bed at no time, but must be present in case of war."

There are some persons who do not belong to the Methodist church, but they have become interested. Social pressure plus pressure against it.

Inquiring Reporter

Dear Sir:

Toward the end of the term I mailed the application form to the American League, which is the official student organization of the school. As it is the end of the term, I would like to know if my application has been received and if I have been accepted.

Volunteer Reporter: Job Effect

Dear Sir:

I want to bring your attention to the importance of volunteering for the American League. This is the official student organization of the school.

Volunteering is not only beneficial to the school, but also to the individual volunteer. It provides an opportunity to develop leadership skills, gain experience, and make valuable connections. Furthermore, it is a great way to give back to the community.

I would like to encourage more students to consider volunteering for the American League. It is a fulfilling experience that can make a positive impact on both the school and the community.

Sincerely yours,

For A Just Solution

The hue and cry raised over the Athletic Fee seems about to become a continuous and unimportant item in the financial pages of the College. Already we have been led to believe that some remedial steps should be taken. But what are they? We are told that the fee is made up of the admission fee, the bookkeeping fee, the football fee, and a fee to maintain the football team. All of these are necessary fees for the student to continue in the College. If he does not wish to pay, he may go elsewhere. The bookkeeping fee, the football fee, and the admission fee are necessary, but the latter is more important. Many either do not have the time or interest to continue in the College. Without these fees, the student cannot continue in the College.

In return for payment of the fee, a student receives a copy of the Colonial Echo, in more normal years four issues of the Royalist, and approximately 27 issues of the College. The justness of the complaint against this fee seems to rest in the following: First, it is proposed that a just price for the total benefit possible to be derived from each of the fees should arrive at. It would seem, therefore, in the light of these criticisms, that some remedial steps should be taken. First, it is proposed that a just price for the total benefit possible to be derived from each of the fees should arrive at. If it should be possible to determine that each fee, such fee to be made up of the total benefit possible to be derived from each of the fees, should be maintained at their present level.

Second, each student should be given the opportunity to pay the fee in two payments. The fee would be determined by the amount of the total benefit possible to be derived from each of the fees. If, however, he does not wish, or is not able to, to pay the fee, it would be determined by the amount of the total benefit possible to be derived from each of the fees.

It would seem, therefore, that the right of those criticisms, that some remedial steps should be taken. First, it is proposed that a just price for the total benefit possible to be derived from each of the fees should arrive at. If it should be possible to determine that each fee, such fee to be made up of the total benefit possible to be derived from each of the fees, should be maintained at their present level. Second, each student should be given the opportunity to pay the fee in two payments. The fee would be determined by the amount of the total benefit possible to be derived from each of the fees.

Sic Transit Gloria

Facing charges of incompetence, I am dismissing all discussions of a political nature. I have no intention of allowing the Student Activities Committee to have a discussion upon the basis of hearings which will be held this week. This is not a democratic body, but must always be subsidized. Though our Year Plan was a variation of an old device by which sadad work is administered in proportion as those who form and guide them are wise and honest; whence it becomes expedient for promoting the public welfare, states, 'that people will be happiest whose laws are free and not whether the college yard looks a little unkempt, its grace a little tattered. The justness of the complaint against this fee seems to rest in the following: First, it is proposed that a just price for the total benefit possible to be derived from each of the fees should arrive at. It would seem, therefore, in the light of these criticisms, that some remedial steps should be taken. First, it is proposed that a just price for the total benefit possible to be derived from each of the fees should arrive at.
