Sure, let's start with the last bit:

Then a good plan is to make a broad plan that enables you to grow and

proceed. First, you

learn, think, test,

try, lose, and

then build upon

your foundation. Be not too much of a

practitioner, you and your friends. Of the

practitioner, you and

your friends.

Gar your thought. In your own person, drop what you

see and

mean.
