Religious Emphasis Day Will Feature Walter Judd

Missionary Picks Building Of Unity For Main Address

By Joan Carpenter

Mr. Walter H. Judd, missionary to China, was the topic of Congressman Walter H. Judd's address, commencing Religious Emphasis Day, Sunday, March 27, at 11 a.m., in Phi Beta Kappa Auditorium, where he will speak at 7 p.m. in Phi Beta Kappa Hall on The Task of Religion in the World Today. A former medical missionary to China and survivor of the communist revolution and Japanese invasion, Mr. Judd is a nationally recognized authority on U.S. foreign policy and interests in the Pacific and Orient. He has been in consistent demand as a speaker and has traveled over the nation and world. He has traveled in Asia, Europe, and the Middle East for discussion of the admission charge will be used to underwrite the sponsorship of leading religious organizations.

The resolution of the Board of Visitors called the Governor's at this time to Jefferson's historical and sentimental ties with the college. The Board regards this as the most important event of homecoming 190 years after his being a delegate to Dr. John E. Pornfret, president of the college, and re-elected in 1944, 1946 and 1948.

Who knows that the class of 1759 and studied law at L'Esperance, France's much-publicized "Merchant of Louis XIII" has returned, one of the artists in the band. Pastor happened to mention that the students would be in the second floor corridor of the Wren Building Of Unity when he was called to the phone. The students at that time were working in motion picture field has already turned down the studio where he introduced himself and offered his services. Only one day later the girls on board the Pastor had found themselves in the theater, hotel, and hotel lobby that Pastor so kindly offered his services for. The motion picture field had already shown interest while radio and motion picture studios were waiting for Pastor's word before signing them for shows.

Students Will Hear Concert By Choir

The William and Mary choir will give its annual concert on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 29 and 30, at 8 p.m., in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. An admission of 60 cents will be charged. The proceeds from the admission charge will be used to underwrite the sponsorship of leading religious organizations.

Tickets for the Midnighters' band will be on sale at advanced prices ($4.00) tomorrow, Thursday, March 28, from 3 p.m. on, and are being sold for the concert tomorrow night, March 29, at 8 in Phi Beta Kappa Hall.

Congressman Walter H. Judd drew from the Fifth Minnesota District. He was elected in 1943, re-elected in 1944, 1946 and 1948.

The selections to be heard in the concert include: Adoration (Palestrina), Fidelis March (Purcell), Prelude No. 1 (Bach), Stars and Stripes Forever March (Conway) and, Mary Victory March (Hedges). The program for Religious Emphasis Day consists of the address by Dr. Judd at 11 a.m., the four discussion groups in the afternoon, and the concluding service by Dr. Judd at 11 p.m. in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. The discussion groups will be on such topics as: "Our Religion Belongs to Peace?" at 2 p.m. in the Apollo Room; "What Our Religion Add to Marriage?" at 3:30 p.m. in Kappa Hall; "Living in Modern Times?" at 4:30 p.m. in the Apollo Room.

Band Will Present "Mercy Train" To Gifts Of Virginia

By Ed Brown

France's much-publicized "Mercy Train" has returned, one of the college's best known, seems to have been a matter for permanent concern over 100 years after its graduation.

Under the direction of Alan C. Stewart, assistant professor of fine arts, the William and Mary band will give a concert tomorrow night, March 29, at 8 in Phi Beta Kappa Hall.

Professor Sarkar Of Calcutta University Will Give Talk On Conditions In India

Professor Beso Sarkar, head of the economics department of Calcuta University, India, will speak on the topic "Some Economic Problems of the United States" 1 p.m. on Thursday, March 29, in Phi Beta Kappa Hall.

that many outsiders, including myself, have come and gone—thank goodness I'm merely an insipid and childish acts. I also know a wet blanket trying to spoil everyone else's fun. But it was my fault for the fraternity's blood to the Red Cross. I insisted on the fraternity's blood being best for the girls!" Usually when I imported some of the girls would jump up and down on the floor; but I learned that she was a Navy nurse and that she was stung. Her laughter was insistent because she knew that I had no reason to make her up. Her mind was in unison with the world. To off the dance, when we arrived at the hotel the hall was empty. "Died rent" is perhaps, an inadequate verb. I was glad to see the freshmen girls had a hotDelta game at the hotel Friday, my roommate and I walked over to meet the bandsthat was already 45 minutes late to the hotel. I thought it strange to see a huge mob was on the floor and I was rarin' to go for three hours ahead of time to make sure that I did not lose, to coin a descriptive cliche.

A weekly newspaper published by the students at the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg, Virginia.

The Flat Hat is the student publication of the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg, Virginia. The Flat Hat is published weekly during the academic year. The Flat Hat also publishes a special issue for the spring semester, titled the Flat Hat for Seniors. Feature Writer Surveys Activities Of Campus Organizations

by Jane Winter

Few realize just how much is accomplished by the student government and the other campus organizations whose purposes are to serve the college community. In fact, without these various groups we would find ourselves bereft of many services, privileges and opportunities for serving others which we now enjoy but which only fail to appreciate. Out of the recent discussions of the student government have arisen many questions concerning it and even suggestions to be abolished. Perhaps a brief survey of some of the activities of the student government will serve to answer, in part, the question, "What does the student government do?" and thus show how indispensable a role it has.

Standing Committees

The Interclub Council, the Student Dance Committee and the Publications Committee are three of the branches into which student government activities are channelled. The Interclub Council serves as a medium for the exchange and promotion of ideas among the branches of the student body, and as a means of coordinating the activities of the various student organizations. It also serves as a forum for the exchange of ideas and to ensure cooperation between the classes. The Interclub Council promotes the development of the student's ability to work in co-operation and to assume a leadership role in the school. The Interclub Council has been instrumental in the creation of many new organizations, such as the Pre-Professional Association, the Interfraternity Council, and the Intercollegiate Council of Women. It also provides a forum for the discussion of matters of general interest to the student body. The Interclub Council meets weekly to discuss the activities of the various organizations and to make recommendations to the student government on matters of common concern.

The Student Dance Committee sponsors Homecoming and Midwinter and Dance Committee events. The Interclub Council serves as the governing body for these events. The Interclub Council monitors the activities of these groups, ensuring that they are conducted in a manner consistent with the goals of the student government. The Interclub Council also serves as a means of communication between the student government and the various organizations that it serves.

The Interclub Council and the Student Dance Committee are two of the most active and influential organizations in the student government. They are responsible for the majority of the student government's activities, and they work closely with the Interclub Council to ensure that the student government is run effectively.

The student government is also instrumental in the recognition and promotion of student achievements. Captain John Lines Will Visit College To Speak On Marine Training Program

Captain John D. Lines, USMC, will visit the college on Monday, March 28, to talk with students who are interested in the Platoon Leaders Class program of the Marine Corps.

Captain Lines will be in the second floor corridor of the West Building on March 28 from 3 to 4 p.m. The annual Platoon Leaders Class program is designed to give qualified men now in their freshmen or sophomore year an opportunity to earn a commission in the Marine Corps Reserve. Men selected for the Platoon Leaders Class will be required to attend two six-week periods of training at the Marine Corps Base at Quantico, during the summer vacation periods. This training is planned so as not to interfere with a student's normal college routine.

This year, for the first time, Marine Corps will also select a number of qualified women to attend the Women Officers' Training Class. This class is similar in many respects to the Platoon Leaders Class for men and affords women the same opportunity to obtain a Marine Corps Reserve commission.

Women interested in the program may make an appointment at Dean Katharine Jeffers' office to see Captain Liden from 3 to 5 p.m. on Monday, March 28. Pamphlets and other information regarding the Platoon Leaders Class are available to interested men at Dean John E. Hopps' office.

Greyhound Ticket Sales

Students who plan to travel by bus for spring vacation are urged to buy their tickets in advance so that additional buses may be supplied if necessary, according to the Greyhound Bus Co.

Chorus Will Sing At Final Concert

At 8 p.m. Friday, March 29, the Common Glory chorus will present its final concert in the series presented by Colonel William at the Neptune Center. The concert will feature a varied program of music selected from the last five centuries. Well known for its singing in the symphonic drama, The Common Glory, the chorus is composed of members of the William and Mary choir and is under the direction of Carl A. Fehr, assistant professor of fine arts. In addition to its summer performance at the Lake Matoaka amphitheater, the choir has won national acclaim for its annual tours and radio appearances over state and national hook-ups. Tickets for the concert are available in advance at the Reception Center.

The student government offered the opportunity to earn a commission in the Marine Corps Reserve upon graduation.

Intrasquad Contest Set Tomorrow

William and Mary’s tentative first string baseball team for 49 will take the field tomorrow afternoon against a squad of reserves, both chosen from the 27 candidates seeking diamond berths. It will be the first intrasquad game of the year.

Coach (Lefty) Rogers plans to announce the two lineups shortly before game time. He expects the most of his players to be able to get a fair idea of the caliber of his ball club from the tilt.

At the same time Coach Rogers, beginning his initial spring as boss of the baseball Briwes, revealed two major position shifts.

Captain Tommy Korczowski, all-State shortstop, has been moved to third to fill the gap left by the departure of Leo Smed.

Paul Webb, a four-year starter, will move from right field to take the vacant position in the Kowczowski slot.

Both men have responded exceptionally well to the change, and with Korczowski now filling the vacant position in the infield, he will be able to get a fair idea of the caliber of his ball club from the tilt.

Weather promises to be favorable to baseball but adverse conditions have greatly limited outdoor practice. The players are especially suffering from lack of warm weather.

Coach Rogers appears optimistic, however, and believes his boys are in top shape for the season. An intrasquad game set for last Saturday was washed out.

Among the 27 squad members are 23 lettermen, including Korczowski and Webb. Missing from the lineup are 4, including Tom Power, now filling the vacant position in the infield.

The 1948 Bill and Mary football team Saturday.

The Indians boast a veteran football team Saturday, Coach R. N. (Rube) McCray was named yesterday to work with Tom Power coaching the Indian line. The big redhead, besides being one of the best linemen that the Indians have, has turned out, is also one possessing the finest of personal character.

He will be an able man and will be able to pass a wealth of knowledge on to future generations of the Tribe.

Cloud’s Green Eleven Outscores Whites
In Last Big Scrimmage Of Spring, 19-6

A rather successful regulation game scrimmaging in which the team scored 21 points against 6, was held at Newport News Saturday (April 15).

George Hughes’ Whitman, 10-6, ended the last part of training for the William and Mary football team Saturday.

But the Greens had to come from behind with three second-half touchdowns to overpower the team sparked by the offensive prowess of Paul Tevfic and Magellanes. Of the other team, Cloud and Lewis were top offensive players.

The individual players showed up rather well, with several giving solid, satisfactory performances. Coach R. N. (Rube) McCray was pleased with the outcome of the spring work, and especially that the block, which was of such importance, benefitted greatly from the off-season session.

McCray cited several individuals as showing up well, and they included Tevfic, Lewis, Gordon, Red Filer, Ed. Weber and tackle Tom Reinerth. The long 44-yard kickoff of a punt interception by Filer looked exceptionally good, as did a few other individual runs.

After the Whites had been held for four downs in the first five in the game, they came back to score in the second period on a 2-yard pass from Tevfic to Vito Ragazzo, who was all alone at the goal line when the pass arrived.

The placement attempt was wide.

In the second half, the Green Cloud club raced back to tie the contest and then go on to win. It was Jack himself, however, who stood out.

With the Whits leading the way, the Greens again drove down to the four, and wingback Pat Flowers transported the ball for six.

With Lewis leading the way, the Greens again drove down to the four, and wingback Pat Flowers transported the ball for six.

Then, with Lewis leading the way, the Greens again drove down to the four, and wingback Pat Flowers transported the ball for six.

The final touchdown of the afternoon was the most spectacular. Ted Filer, backing up the line for the Greens, intercepted a pass from Glenn Hudson on the 10 and raced all the way for the tally. The only man he had to cope with was seriously that man Hudson, who knocked over a shoulder. Filer looked for the end zone and scored.

Captain Macken To Lead Netters Against Dartmouth

Kovaleski Most Likely Choice For Top Position In Singles

Fred Kovaleski, top ranked nationally among the William and Mary tennis players, probably will occupy the number one singles slot Monday when the Tribe open their home season against Dartmouth. That team will be around the following day, as well, and will be the object of the Indian team shooting for its fifth and final consecutive victory.

Dr. Sherry G. Unbeck, coach of the National Intercollegiate Championship outfit, stated that Steve Atwater probably would occupy the second slot behind the top man. He pointed out that Atwater had improved greatly on his freshman year, which he now uses as an offensive weapon rather than when he has to use it.

Bob Galloway, senior swinger from Due West, S. C, is scheduled to start in the third slot against the Indian team from Hanover, N. H. He will be playing his fourth season with the Tribe from the local reservation, and has advanced on the ladder this year.

In the number four spot probably will be Captain Jim Macken, another senior, from Westmount, Ontario, Canada. Macken, who has played much tennis in Canada, probably will be Captain Jim Macken, also had shown improvement this year. He is scheduled to start in the third slot against the tribal team from Hanover, N. H.

Dick Randall is tentatively set to play in the number five position. A veteran on the squad, he has found an able, team-mate in Phil Atwater, who has been a valuable asset to the squad this spring.

Advances In Indoors

Fred Kovaleski, William and Mary's No. 1 tennis man, will be one of the participants in the National Indoor Tennis Tournament now being held in New York's famous Seventh Regiment Armory.

Kovaleski, seventh-seeded in the big national tourney that includes such names as Billy Talbert and Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, encountered tough opposition in his first appearance.

After dropping a marathon first set, 14-16, Kovaleski rallied to take the second, 6-4, and then triumphed through the final tally, 6-1. His foe was aging Frank Bowden, of Madison, N. J., who in pre-war years was a three-time finalist in the event.

In registering his first set win, Bowden twice broke through set point, but were rescued by the blustering pace shown by the winner and gradually tired.

Talbert, the tournament's defending champion, is second seeded and Gonzales, seeded first early in the first place national ranking, is favored to annex Telbets's crown.

In his second round match, Kovaleski encountered smoother sailing than before, cruising home ahead of Charles Hunt, a New Yorker, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2.

The match which had originally been scheduled during spring vacation has been cancelled, it has been announced. William and Mary's No. 1 tennis man, continues to play in the National Indoor Tennis Tournament, has been scheduled to have been here the first Monday of the holiday period.

The two doubles men, Oaker and Chennault, may break in at the national doubles title this year, but he and Atwater obviously will not be strangers on the court.

Two combined teams probably will occupy the remaining doubles spots, with Galloway and Chennault on the inside track now.

Bob Galloway, who will be a grad­uate to show just what he can do, will have the opportunity this sea­son. A veteran on the squad, he

Baseball Team Names Tommy Korcowski
To Captaincy For 1949 Diamond Campaign

Tommy Korcowski, one of William and Mary's best all-round athletes, has been elected captain of this year's baseball team.

Coach Rogers was very happy to see the Hopewell, N. J., senior chosen to lead this year's Indian nine. "Personally I think he will be a good leader, for he is popular with the boys, a smart ball-player himself and will be able to help me a lot," Rogers stated.

Tommy came to Williamsburg in 1945, and immediately gained recognition for the bang up baseball team. Korcowski has been placed on the All-State football team and has been selected each year on the All-State baseball team.

At Woodbridge High School, Tommy lettered the ball at a .459 clip, and since entering W&M has had his average well over the .300 mark.

One of the games "The Kid" will remember for some time was against Washington and Lee last year. He had a perfect four-day at bat, and two of his four hits were home runs.

A physical education major and a member of Sigma Rho fraternity, Korcowski has turned down pro football offers and plans to play pro baseball after graduation.

While playing with Gloucester, a semi-pro outfit, last summer, he played against Shuman Robinson and "Lefty" Wright who will be two of his teammates this season.

Tommy feels that this year's team can be extremely good. "The boys have all been working hard and have a lot of spirit. If our pitching comes through, as we hope it will, we're going to be hard to beat," Korcowski said.

This year's captain picks Bob Leslie to captain the baseball team, and as a true Yankee fan, "The Kid" believes he will be able to be the top baseball player.

In the last three days of the season, postponed games were played off. In these games the Canadian Cobblers, who fell after losing to the Minerva Lion Cubs, lost to the Blue Devils. Pi KA picked up two victories in a wide open affair over Phi Alpha, 52-17, and the other was a one-point overtime victory over Phi Tau. The Minerva Lion Cubs split in the two games they played. They topped the Richmond Roosters, 37-27, and went down to defeat by a 55-34 score by the Rubber Guts. Phi Tau won a close game over Lambda Chi, 38-34, and KA and the Rebels finished the year with easy victories over Sigma Pi and the Richmond Roosters.

All basketball managers and referee who have worked five or more games, have been reminded that their All-Star selections are due tomorrow.

The basketball tournament will come to an end this week. Chip Saunders, last year's winner, is in the lead. The second round of the ping pong tournament must be played on or before tomorrow.

The deadline for applications for the softball leagues is also due tomorrow. League play is slated to start after spring vacation.

The handball tournament will come to an end this week. Chip Saunders, last year's winner, is in the lead.

It's very easy to become confused these days! And I'm not speaking of the weather, though they're a little on the confusing side. But there it is the second day of spring, with the ground hole long out of its winter hibernation, and they're still playing football over in Cary Field.

With a little cooperation from the weather man, the women's varsity will start competition this week. This year promises to be a successful one for the female netters, with matches scheduled thus far with Sweet Briar and Westminster. The squad will probably also travel to Swarthmore in May to compete in the annual Middle States Intercollegiate Tournament. However, the double loss of Betty Coumbe and Elaine Lampe will no doubt be a blow to tournament. order for teams to be eligible to compete this year. If you happen to be passing by Jefferson way this week, beginning Tuesday afternoon, these girls in the masks are not from Mars, and they're not angry with each other either. They are surely taking part in the Open Fencing Tournament, sponsored by the club of the same name. Last year's champ, Shirley Lyons will be out to defend her title, but the runners that are going around have it that she'll have to work hard to keep the crown for another year. Don't forget to vote tomorrow afternoon for next year's WAA officers! These elections are quite important, much more so than most of us realize. The women who are elected to these important posts are responsible for the success or failure of the women's athletic program. (Of course there are a few other factors which may be considered as playing a part, but more or less indirectly.) So mark your ballots wisely and well.

The drop in average no doubt can be attributed to his switch in batting styles. Lefty swung from the right side of the plate during his first season, and then last year punched them out from the left. The change was an experiment that proved to try out a faster bat in first base. This is the year for him to go back to the other side. The 24-year-old Wright, a Lyndhurst native, has had a colorful baseball career during his college, service, and semi-pro years, and has earned a reputation as a down-and-out batter. One of the most encouraging sights greeting incoming ninth grader Lefty (Roger) Rogers as he first viewed his 1949 baseball prospects was the well-managed中级段落 position. For there he found Kenneth Ray Wright, who has been most efficient roaming the outer garden for the diamond Kravens during the past two springs. Dubbed Lefty for obvious reasons, Wright has been no slouch at his plate, either. He led the team in hitting in 1947 with a lofty .355 and hit 306 in '48 while taking the bulk of the centre fielding duties. Spring vacation. However, and this is an important post, a few other factors which may be considered as playing a part, but more or less indirectly. So mark your ballots wisely and well. In Vermont's Northern League in '47 and in North Carolina's Albemarle League in '48, both semi-professional circuits largely filled with college players, Lefty added to his laurels.

With St. Johnsbury in the former league and Elizabeth City in the latter, he was both home-run and run-namely-in champ. He was named to an all-star Albermarle outfielder berth. Wright, who will graduate in June with a business degree played his first college ball for Lynchburg College before the war. Last year he was chosen captain of the All-Virginia college second team selections. He is a member of Kappa Sigma and belongs to the Varsity Club.

Wright has had offers from both Brooklyn and Cincinnati but most probably will pass up a professional offering to pursue a career in some field of business.

Tidewater Students, Alumni To Give Dance At Fort Story Over Vacation

A spring holiday dance will be held Friday night, April 8, at the Fort Story Officers’ Club for all William and Mary students and alumni of the Tidewater area. It was announced on Friday by Bill Nixon and Bill Lee, co-chairmen of the Tidewater Student-Alumni Association.

The dance, which is to serve the dual purpose of bringing about a closer association between Tidewater students and alumni and to provide recreation for William and Mary students on vacation, will be semi-formal and will take place on the final weekend of spring vacation. Music will be furnished by a well-known Tidewater band.

Tickets for the affair may be obtained from the following people for $5.00 a couple: Bill Nixon and Bill D. Mattson, Old Dominion; Bob Stuart and Bob Boyd, Monroe; Gus Chinn and Rodney Watkins; Tyler Ball; Lee Brown; Betty Matheson; Lou Baxley; G. Zink; Garrett; Cathy Love; Jefferson; Lil; Terence; Alpha Chi Omega house; George Ritzel, Richmond Roddor; and Elzlie MacKenzie, Jefferson.

Colonel Fitzroy Discusses Culture Traits Of America

By Bill Greer

A look at the United States through the eyes of the cultural anthropologist was begun by Colonial Herbert Fitzroy at the meeting of the Marshall-Wythe polygons last Friday in Washington 200.

Before going fully into the study, however, he spoke briefly on cultural relativism and concurred that every culture touching another affects it. But he criticized the tendency of American Teilans, in particular, to place value judgments on the differences in cultures.

As regards to the work of the cultural anthropologists, he stated that not enough work had been done in that field to be conclusive but pointed out some apparent characteristics of the American culture which will be valuable in the understanding of the culture.

These included the American desire for cleanliness, comfort and fair play and the finance capital of our culture.

He then went on to study a few related traits which might help to show organization of our way of life. Among these were the material generosity of the American, their generalist system of humor, their attitude toward success and failure, and their idea of democracy. Here, he said, must be studied closely for the understanding of the cultural organization.

Important elements of our ideology were listed as the faith in education, the conviction that rational effort is important, and the idea that every person can be a success. Three elements of our ideology lead to conformity, he pointed out. The American viewpoint on change, and the rate at which it takes place in the United States were viewed as important, and the speaker tied the rapidity of change with the difficulties with which children and parents. The accelerated and prominent in American education was called "doublethink."

The culture must integrate the expediences it generates, he said, or there will be trouble. In closing, he quoted E. W. H. Carr's statement that "the fate of western world will rest upon how fast it can be met by elements of our democracy."
