HEAD COACH

JIMMYE LAYCOCK

Success on the Field

One of the most successful head coaches in college football history, Jimmye Laycock is the sixth-winningest active coach in the FCS division. During his 28-year career, he has guided the Tribe to 182 victories, seven playoff berths, 18 winning seasons and an appearance in the 2004 national semifinal game. In addition to his teams' success, 22 players have gone on to sign with NFL teams, including four-time Pro Bowl selection Darren Sharper.

Excellence in the Classroom

In addition to being the program's all-time winningest coach, Laycock has never compromised academic standards for athletic success. Since the NCAA began its academic reform with graduation rates surveys and APR rankings in 2004, the Tribe football program has posted a 100 percent graduation rate three times. Additionally, Laycock has produced 11 Academic All-Americans and 55 academic all-conference selections.

A Pro's Perspective

"Coach Laycock has shown that he has one of the more creative offenses in college football. One of the best trademarks for football coaches is a consistent program over a longer period of time. I think Coach Laycock consistently demonstrates that with his program."

Joe Gibbs
Former Washington Redskins Head Coach

1966-69

Jimmie Laycock plays for legendary head coaches Marv Levy and Lou Holtz at William and Mary. After starting in the defensive secondary as a sophomore, the Hamilton, Va., native later moved to quarterback.

1970-76

After serving as an offensive coach at Newport News High School, Laycock began his collegiate coaching career as a graduate assistant at Clemson in 1971. He later served as an assistant for legendary head coach Bobby Ross at the Citadel before becoming the quarterback's coach at Memphis State for two seasons.

Laycock serves as the offensive coordinator at Clemson for three seasons. Under his tutelage, the Tigers went 27-8-1 with three bowl game appearances, including a 17-15 win against Ohio State in the 1978 Gator Bowl. Among his players was All-Pro Dwight Clark.

1980

Laycock returns to his alma mater as head coach where he would become the program's all-time winningest coach.

1986

Laycock leads the Tribe to a FCS playoff berth for the first time in the program's history. Under his guidance, W&M posts a 9-3 record and earns a national ranking of eighth at the conclusion of the season. Additionally, the College has three players selected in the NFL Draft.

1990

Laycock leads the Tribe to its first-ever 10-win season and is ranked No. 7 in the final national rankings. W&M leads the country in total offense, averaging almost 500 yards per game.

1997

W&M's Darren Sharper is selected by the Minnesota Vikings in the second round of the NFL Draft. Sharper has gone on to earn Pro Bowl selections four times.

2004

The Tribe establishes a school-record 11 victories and advances to the FCS National Semifinals, which is played before a sold-out Zable Stadium crowd and in front of a nationally-televised audience. W&M finishes the year ranked No. 3, while quarterback Lang Campbell earns the Payton Award, given annually to the nation's top offensive player in the FCS.

William and Mary recognizes Laycock and his tremendous success when it dedicates the newly constructed $11 million Laycock Center on June 21, 2008.

Entering his 29th year at the helm of the William and Mary program, Jimmye Laycock is one of the nation's longest tenured and most respected head coaches. He has authored a school-record 182 wins (against 127 losses and two ties) and 18 winning ledgers since first taking over the program in 1980. The Tribe has also appeared in nine postseason contests with Laycock at the helm.

On June 21, 2008, the College dedicated the $11 million Jimmye Laycock Football Complex with a ceremony that featured more than 500 friends and alumni of the program. While the building carries his name and stands as a strong symbol of what Laycock has meant to the Tribe, it makes a stronger statement about the school's commitment to football and the program's proud tradition. The state-of-the-art complex provides the College with one of the finest facilities in the Football Championship Series and, paired with Laycock's steady leadership, gives the Tribe a bright future.

As the architect of what is easily the most extended run of success in William and Mary's 114-year football history, Laycock has never compromised academic standards for athletic success and has steadily built his program into a point of pride for the campus, alumni and community. When Laycock, a 1970 grad, returned to coach his alma mater prior to the 1980 season, he inherited a program that had won six or more games in a season just four times in the previous 25 years. Few could have predicted that the College would produce more than three times that amount of seven-win seasons over the next quarter century. The accumulated successes, both on and off the field, have led to an era of unprecedented interest and support for his program.

Some evidence of this is provided in the fact the Tribe averaged over 10,000 fans per game in five home dates in 2007. W&M drew a total of 53,499 spectators to Zable Stadium in 2007, an average of 10,700 per game, the program's best figure since the 1995 season.

During Laycock's tenure, the fans at Zable have consistently been treated to a winner on the field, as the program's mentor ranks in the top 10 of all active FCS head coaches in terms of career wins. Laycock is also second among active conference head coaches in career league wins with 71.

Laycock has made the home turf in Zable Stadium into unfriendly territory for opponents as the Tribe has won 74.2 percent of its games (93-32-1) in Williamsburg in the last 24 years. W&M has turned in seven undefeated regular season home campaigns.

Individual accomplishments under Laycock have been plentiful, as he has also tutored 30 players to 76 All-America honors from the William and Mary ranks and has coached 11 Academic All-Americans. Quarterback Lang Campbell is the most decorated of all, as the 2004 season saw him earn the prestigious Payton Award, given annually to the nation's top offensive player in the FCS ranks, consensus first team All-America honors, as well as the A-10's Offensive Player of the Year and Scholar-Athlete of the Year. The Tribe has produced an astounding 135 all-conference selections since 1993.

While no one season can define a career that spans more than two and a half decades, Laycock's 2004 season, his 25th at the school, produced levels of success never before reached at the College.

W&M set a school record for wins (11), won the Atlantic 10 Football Conference's automatic NCAA bid, hosted a NCAA semifinal game before a standing room only crowd at Zable Stadium in front of a national television audience and finished the year with a school record No. 3 final national ranking. Along the way, a bevy of school single-season records fell; total points (486), total yards (6,044) and home wins (seven), to name just a few.

But, none of these achievements spoke more succinctly to Laycock's approach than the program's 100 percent official NCAA graduation-rate report for all student-athletes receiving athletics aid. This showed W&M graduated all of its football players who entered the program as freshmen during the 1997-98 school year. The Tribe not only carried the highest graduation rate in the conference, but also was far and away the top figure of any team ranked in the final national top 25 for that season. To prove this lofty number was no fluke, the team repeated the feat just two years later, as the 1999-2001 cohort also graduated at 100 percent. Since the NCAA started the Academic Progress Report, Laycock's program has been recognized as one of the nation's elite.

When looking at the NCAA Division I Championship Division world, the Tribe's stellar 168-83-2 (.675) record against fellow Championship Division foes during Laycock's career also confirms the success of his formula. The College also boasts a 71-51 mark in league play and has had 135 all-conference honors since 1993.

The 2001 campaign stood as a testament to Laycock's program's stability, as the team rebounded from a then nine-year low 5-6 record in 2000 to post an 8-4 mark, claiming a share of the Atlantic 10 Crown and earning a spot in the NCAA Division I-AA Playoffs.

The 1996 campaign is another prime example of how Laycock has perpetuated a winning tradition within W&M's rigorous classroom standards, as he led a youth-laden squad to a quarterfinal showing in the NCAA playoffs, a 10-3 overall record (7-1 in league play), the Tribe's first Yankee Conference Championship, and a fifth-place national ranking.

One trademark of a Laycock-coached team is a prolific and intricate offensive attack. The Tribe offense averaged better than 420 yards and 26 points over the 115 games it played in the 1990s.

Prior to the 2004 campaign, the 1990 season stood as the benchmark for the Tribe program. That season, Laycock was honored by his peers as Coach of the Year in Region II and the state of Virginia for guiding the Tribe to 10 wins and an appearance in the quarterfinals of the Division I-AA playoffs.

That 1990 squad, ranked No. 7 in the final NCAA poll, refashioned many pages in the school record book. W&M led the country in total offense by averaging almost 500 yards per game and claimed the Lambert Cup for I-AA supremacy in the East. Even the Virginia General Assembly passed a resolution commending Laycock accomplishments. The Tribe's 1996 squad led the conference in both total offense and defense en route to earning its own Lambert Cup and ECAC Team of the Year honors.

After some lean years early in his tenure, Laycock's teams began building respectability among all opponents. After a pair of 6-5 seasons, W&M carved out a 7-4 mark in 1985 and a national ranking of No. 16. The winning ways continued in 1986 with a 9-3 record and an eighth-place final ranking. In that season, the Tribe advanced to the I-AA playoffs for the first time and had three players drafted by the NFL.

Although William and Mary dipped to a 5-6 slate in 1987, the Tribe recovered to post a 6-4-1 overall record in 1988. That memorable season climaxed with a trip to Japan and a 73-3 victory over the Japanese College All-Stars in the first Epsom Ivy Bowl. The Tribe returned to the NCAAs in 1989 with an 8-2-1 regular season record.

The record-setting tandem of quarterback Campbell and wide out Dominique Thompson each signed free agent contracts, with the Cleveland Browns and St. Louis Rams, respectively, in the spring of 2005. Thompson is currently with the Carolina Panthers, while Campbell entered the 2008 season as the starting quarterback for the Arizona Rattlers of the Arena League. The Tribe also is represented by four-time Pro Bowl free safety Darren Sharper (Minnesota Vikings), a second round draft pick of the Green Bay in 1997 and Mike Leach (Denver Broncos) in the NFL ranks, along with 2008 free agent signees; Drew Atchison (Dallas Cowboys) and Mike Potts (Pittsburgh Steelers). Former all-conference defensive back Billy Parker also played professionally in 2008, as he started every game for the New York Dragons of the Arena League. Michael Clemons (Class of 1987) had been one of the CFL's most explosive players since joining the Toronto Argonauts in 1989, a team he now coaches.

As a 1970 graduate of the College, Laycock played football under two gurus of the game. For three years, he learned the details under the watchful eyes of Marv Levy, the legendary former head coach of the Buffalo Bills. In his last season, collegiate coaching legend Lou Holtz schooled Laycock in the finer aspects of psyche and motivation. As a sophomore, Laycock was a starter in the defensive secondary, but he was soon switched to quarterback where he completed 96 of 218 passes for 1,366 yards.

Laycock's first full-time coaching position came at The Citadel as the offensive backfield coach under Bobby Ross, who went on to coach the NFL's San Diego Chargers and Detroit Lions. In 1975, Memphis State tabbed Laycock as its quarterback's coach and he helped the Tigers to consecutive 7-4 records.

In 1977, Laycock traveled to Clemson to serve as offensive coordinator for three years. Under his tutelage, the Tigers went 8-3-1, 11-1 and 8-4. Clemson played in bowl games each year, defeating Ohio State 17-15 in the 1978 Gator Bowl. At that time, Laycock coached two-time All-ACC performer Steve Fuller, the Tiger quarterback who later played in the NFL, and Dwight Clark, an All-Pro receiver for the 49ers.

A native Virginian, Laycock played football, basketball and baseball at Loudoun Valley High School, where he won 12 letters and has since had his number retired.

Laycock is married to Deidre Connelly, a sports psychology consultant at the College. They have three children: Michael (17), Mary Louise (16) and James (14).

Laycock's daughter, Melanie was married this past summer to Doug Johnson and is a teacher in Atlanta, Ga.

The Talk About Laycock

Marv Levy - Former W&M Head Coach and NFL Hall of Famer

"I've always admired the work that Jimmie's done at William and Mary. He's very well-respected throughout the coaching fraternity. He's the right man for the right college."

Darren Sharper - Minnesota Vikings four-time Pro Bowl safety

"Coach Laycock knew from the time that he was recruiting me what position was best for me to reach my ultimate potential. Joining the Tribe family turned out to be the best situation for me to grow as a person and as a player. Without being a part of this family, I wouldn't be as successful as I am today."

Mike Tomlin - Pittsburgh Steelers Head Coach

"William and Mary sets the stage to address the challenges you face. Coach Jimmie Laycock has been the blueprint for me. He is what the job of coaching is all about."

Laycock Era Highlights ...

• Jimmye Laycock enters his 29th season as the Tribe's head coach in 2008. The school's all-time winningest coach, Laycock has compiled a 182-134-2 career record at W&M.

• Among active Division I (FBS and FCS) head coaches, Laycock's 182 victories rank tied for 12th. The total also ranks inside the top 20 of active coaches in all divisions. Among only active FCS head coaches, Laycock's total is tied for sixth.

• Laycock ranks fourth on the all-time CAA Football career victories list with 71. Among active coaches, Laycock trails only Villanova's Andy Talley (93).

• In 2004, W&M won a school-record 11 games and made its ninth postseason appearance under Laycock, advancing to the NCAA semifinals for the first time in school history and finishing with a school-record No. 3 final national ranking.

• The Tribe has posted winning ledgers in 18 of the past 25 seasons under Laycock.

• Laycock has guided the Tribe to a total of 53 career 40-plus point outings in his 318 games as the College's head coach, a number that represents more than 16 percent of his total games. By comparison, the College had seen only 12 total 40-plus point outings in the 30 seasons prior to Laycock taking the reigns of the program in 1980.

• Since joining what is now the CAA Football conference in 1993, a William and Mary quarterback has earned all-conference honors in 10 of the 15 seasons, including seven-straight campaigns from 1998 to 2004. Going hand-in-hand with the postseason honors is the fact that in seven of the 15 seasons in league play, a Tribe quarterback has turned in the conference's top passer efficiency rating.

• The College has earned 135 total all-conference citations under Laycock.

• The Tribe has posted a 100-42-1 record (.703) at Zable Stadium under Laycock, which includes seven undefeated regular seasons in Williamsburg. In Laycock's 28 seasons, the College has failed to post a .500 or better record at home just four times (1980, 1999, 2006, 2007).

• Since joining the CAA Football Conference, W&M has gone 105-63 (.625) against FCS opponents.

• During Laycock's 28-year tenure, 22 Tribe players have gone on to sign with NFL teams, including four-time Pro Bowl selection Darren Sharper.

• Laycock has mentored 31 student-athletes to All-America honors at the College, including a career-high four in 2004 that earned either Sports Network or Associated Press All-America citations (Lang Campbell, Dominique Thompson, Greg Kuehn, Adam O'Connor). Campbell was a consensus First Team All-American (AFCA, Walter Camp, AP, Sports Network) and was also the winner of the 2004 Walter Payton Award.

• Since the NCAA began its academic reform with graduation rates surveys and APR rankings in 2004, the Tribe football program has posted a 100 percent graduation rate three times (2004, 2006, 2007).

• Under Laycock, 11 Tribe football players have been named Academic All-Americans, including the most recent selection of Bryce Lee in 2001.

• W&M has had 55 players earn academic all-conference honors since 1997 under Laycock, including a career-high tying seven in 2007, and one conference scholar athlete of the year (Lang Campbell, 2004).

A fixture on the Tribe's staff for 25 years, Zbig Kepa is one of the most respected offensive coaches in the CAA Football Conference. Evidence of this can be found in the fact that the school's career leaders in rushing yards, passing yards, total offense, receiving yards, touch-down passes and receptions, to name a few, have all played during Kepa's tenure as coordinator.

Kepa's time with the College began in 1984, when he arrived as a part-time assistant and worked primarily with the defense. The following year he became a full-time assistant and moved to offense where he took charge of the receivers.

Kepa primarily recruits the Peninsula and Northern Neck areas in Virginia. He also recruits eastern Pennsylvania.

Since joining the offensive staff, Kepa has helped develop one of the most productive offenses in FCS football. The 1996 team led the conference in total offense, while the 1993 unit finished sixth in the nation in total yards with the second-highest total (5,504) in school history.

Overall, the Tribe is averaging nearly 400 yards of total offense per game during Kepa's 16-year stint as the offensive coordinator. He oversaw the most prolific single-season receiving performance in school history by Dominique Thompson (1,585 yards; 79 receptions; 13 TDs) in 2004. Kepa also mentored the school's all-time leading receiver, Rich Musinski ('04), who became just the third player in Championship Subdivision history to surpass the 4,000-yard career receiving mark.

Kepa's receivers dominate the W&M record book, as nine of the top 10 all-time career receiving yardage leaders were developed under his mentorship. Prior to Musinski, the most prolific of the group was 2000 graduate Dave Conklin (1996-99), who left the College as the all-time leader in receiving yards (3,269), catches (190) and touchdown catches (27). Harry Mehre (1985-89) was the first to etch his name into the archives, as he set a then career receiving yardage mark (2,748) and earned AP All-America honors as a senior. Kepa has also groomed a pair of student-athletes to conference Rookie of the Year honors (Conklin, 1996; Musinski, 2000).

In his 24 seasons at W&M, Kepa has tutored 10 receivers to 12 all-conference citations, including four first-team honorees. Most recently, current wide out Elliott Mack earned third-team honors in 2007. Musinski, who graduated as the school's all-time leader in receiving yards (4,168), receptions (223) and touchdown catches (31), was a three-time first-team all-league pick from 2001 to 2003.

Kepa grew up in northern Indiana and attended Bishop Noll Institute, where he lettered four years in football. After graduation in 1975, he accepted a football scholarship at St. Joseph's College in Indiana. He led the Pumas at quarterback and defensive back before a knee injury ended his playing career. He continued at St. Joseph's as a student assistant coach and graduated in 1979 with a bachelor's degree in physical education and health. Kepa stayed on the Pumas' staff for the 1979 and 1980 seasons, while working on his master's degree in health and physical education at Purdue.

Kepa earned his master's in 1981 and went onto become an assistant with the offense and defense at Fenwick High School in Chicago. In 1983, he returned to his undergraduate alma mater for one year as a full-time offensive assistant before joining W&M in 1984.

He and his wife, the former Mary Cappuccilli from Indiana, have three children, Christina (24), Nathaniel (16) and Nicholas (14).

One of the league's most established mentors, 20-year coaching veteran Bob Shoop enters his second season of overseeing the College's defense. After going through a run of four coordinators in the five years prior to last season, the Tribe was searching for stability in the position and turned to Shoop in February of 2007. An outstanding teacher and organizer, Shoop brings the program a proven track record of success and championship credentials.

Shoop's resumé spans two decades as a Division I coach, including two separate stints as a defensive coordinator (Yale, 1994-96; Villanova, 1997) and three years of head coaching experience (Columbia, 2003-05).

He is responsible for recruiting Western Pennsylvania and the Richmond area.

While his first season at the reigns of the Tribe defense saw him list as many as 16 freshmen and sophomores on the two-deep, he returns an experienced group for the 2008 season, including all-conference cornerback Derek Cox.

Shoop's most recent position prior to coming to the College was at the University of Massachusetts, where he mentored the Minutemen's defensive backfield and helped the squad to an appearance in the NCAA Division I-AA Championship game in 2007. His season at UMass was successful on an individual basis as well, as three of his players were named to all-conference honors, including a pair being tabbed for first-team accolades.

Prior to his season in Amherst, Shoop headed the Columbia football program for three seasons and produced 20 All-Ivy League selections during his tenure. In 2005, he led the program to its first 2-0 start since 1996, a feat accomplished just three times in the previous 50 years. He ended his time with the Lions with a 7-23 mark. In his first season with the Lions (2003), he led Columbia to a 4-6 record, its best since 1998, which included victories over Princeton and Harvard for the first time in the same season since 1978, and league victories in two of the Lions' last three games.

Prior to Columbia, he served as defensive secondary coach at Boston College for four years (1999-2002). Shoop played a major role in the Eagles' success, including bowl victories in three of his four seasons. Shoop's secondary was a key cog in BC's 9-4 record and Motor City Bowl victory in 2002, as the Eagles ranked 13th in the nation in passing defense and 17th in pass efficiency defense.

Shoop also had Ivy League experience as an assistant coach at Yale (1989 and 1994-96) under legendary Hall of Fame coach Carmen Cozza. He also has served stints as an assistant coach at Army (1998), Villanova, where he was defensive coordinator for the 12-1 1997 squad, and Northeastern (1991-93).

Shoop played his collegiate football at Yale. He earned honorable mention All-Ivy accolades in 1987 as a wide receiver. He was recognized with Yale Football's prestigious Robert Gardner Anderson Memorial Award for team spirit, dedication and leadership. Shoop also captained the Bulldog baseball team for which he earned four letters. He twice earned the Ducky Pond Award as the team's most outstanding pitcher.

He earned his Bachelor of Arts in economics from Yale in 1988.

Shoop hails from Oakmont, Pa., a suburb of Pittsburgh. He and his wife, Maura, have two children, Tyler and Jay. His brother John is the offensive coordinator at the University of North Carolina.

In his 13 seasons on campus, William and Mary Assistant Head Coach and offensive line mentor Bob Solderitch has made a positive impact on several generations of Tribe linemen, maintaining a legacy of success he helped create as an all-conference center for the College.

A 1986 graduate of W&M, Solderitch returned to Williamsburg in 1996 to take over the offensive line and eventually assumed the duties of assistant head coach in 2000. In what is a tribute to his unyielding dedication to the program, a private donor provided funding to have the staff room in the Laycock Football Center named in his honor.

Solderitch recruits the Tidewater area for the Tribe, as well as North Carolina and handling transfer students.

In his first season as a full-time assistant, he groomed Tribe guard Josh Beyer to consensus first-team All-America honors. Fellow guard Dan Rossetini earned multiple all-conference honors under Solderitch, including first-team honors in 1997. In 1998, guard Greg Whirley, Jr. capped his career by earning first-team all-conference honors, while Matt Mazefsky earned multiple all-conference citations in his career and All-America recognition after the 2001 season. In 2002, first team all-conference tackle Dwight Beard also earned All-America honors under Solderitch's tutelage.

In all, Solderitch has seen 15 players earn 19 all-conference awards on his watch, including 2006 team captain Cody Morris who graduated as a three-time all-conference performer, with second-team honors after his sophomore and senior seasons. Former team captain Pat Mulloy put a fitting punctuation on what was a standout four-year career by being named as a Second-Team All-Atlantic 10 pick in 2005. Last season, another team captain, tackle Brad Stewart, was named to third-team honors.

After a brief stint with the Indianapolis Colts, Solderitch returned to his alma mater as a graduate assistant from 1986 to 1990. While earning his MBA at the College, his responsibilities included tight ends, long snappers and organizing the scout team. He also assisted with the offensive line and helped prepare Tribe All-America linemen Scott Perkins and Reggie White.

After receiving his master's, Solderitch was named as the offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at Newport News Apprentice School. He helped guide the team to a 17-9-1 overall record between the 1991 and 1993 seasons.

While earning his B.A. in economics as an undergraduate at the College, Solderitch was a three-year starter at offensive center and earned all-state and All-East Coast Athletic Conference honors his junior and senior seasons. In 1985, he was named team captain and won the Tribe's outstanding lineman award. In 1990, he was named to William and Mary's 100 Years All-Time squad.

Prior to his return to Williamsburg, Solderitch had a two-year stint at the Virginia Military Institute, where he coached both the offensive and defensive lines over two seasons (1994-95). His offensive lines paved the way for standout Keydet tailback Thomas Haskins, who would graduate as the NCAA's all-time leading rusher in the College Championship Division.

Solderitch graduated from Whitehall High School in 1982, where he was an all-district lineman and member of two East Penn Conference championship teams (1980-81).

Solderitch and his wife, Karen, reside in the Williamsburg area.

In his eight years on campus, Trevor Andrews has made a significant impact on the Tribe's program. For the past five seasons, he has been the spirited leader of the College's defensive front and, perhaps even more significantly, has enhanced and improved the team's recruiting efforts.

In addition to coordinating the Tribe's recruiting, Andrews also serves as W&M's chief recruiter in Washington, D.C., as well as eastern Maryland, North Jersey and New England.

Prior to his current responsibilities, Andrews worked as a defensive assistant for three seasons and was responsible for mentoring the secondary. The 2003 season saw Andrews groom the Tribe cornerbacks, including first-team all-league selection Billy Parker, who signed as a free agent with the Carolina Panthers upon graduation and is currently a starting defensive back for the Arena League's New York Dragons.

In his first season as defensive line coach in 2004, Andrews helped defensive end Adam O'Connor to Third-Team Associated Press All-America honors and a Second-Team All-A10 citation. O'Connor made it two-straight all-league awards in 2005, gaining third-team status. O'Connor signed a free agent contract with the Minnesota Vikings during the summer of 2007 after spending the spring as a starting offensive tackle for NFL Europa Champions, the Hamburg Sea Devils.

Andrews came to the College after spending the 2000 season as an assistant at Randolph-Macon College, where he worked as the secondary coach and special teams coordinator.

As a three-year letterwinner at defensive back for the University of Dayton, Andrews was a member of three conference championship teams with the Flyers and played on Dayton's undefeated 1996 squad (11-0).

After earning his B.S. in physical education from Dayton in 1998, Andrews accepted a graduate position at Illinois Wesleyan University and coached the secondary while working towards his graduate degree in athletic administration.

Andrews, an accomplished musician and avid golfer, resides in the Williamsburg area.

Scott Boone brings more than a quarter century of coaching experience to the field for the College. While the 2007 season is his fifth on campus, it will be his second working with the linebackers. The veteran mentor has proven to be a versatile developer of talent, as he has also worked with the Tribe's defensive backs and as an offensive assistant on the staff.

Boone handles the Tribe's recruiting efforts in northern Virginia, the Philadelphia-metro area and southern New Jersey.

In 2006, Boone helped develop a unit that recorded six of the team's eight interceptions. Boone's first season (2005) as the team's defensive backs coach saw him direct a corps that was responsible for 13 of the team's 19 interceptions and two defensive touchdowns. Leading the way was two-time All-Atlantic 10 corner Stephen Cason, who paced the squad with four picks, including one he returned 62 yards for a score at VMI.

In 2004, Boone served as an offensive assistant on the Tribe staff after spending the previous seven years as the head football coach at Randolph-Macon College in Ashland, Va.

In his seven seasons at Randolph-Macon, Boone compiled a record of 37-33, including a 22-18 ledger in conference action. In 1997, Boone guided the Yellow Jackets to a share of the ODAC title, going 4-1 in league play and 8-2 overall, and garnered Richmond Touchdown Club and VaSID Small College Coach of the Year honors.

While at RMC, Boone coached 34 players to First-Team All-ODAC honors in his seven seasons. Also, 14 team and individual school records were broken under Boone.

Prior to his stint at RMC, Boone was an assistant coach at his alma mater, Wabash College in Crawfordsville, Ind., from 1983 to 1996. In Boone's 14 years as an assistant, Wabash posted an 81-38-2 record. In addition to his football duties, Boone was the head baseball coach at Wabash from 1986 to 1997, compiling a career record of 231-219 on the diamond, which ranks him as the school's all-time coaching wins leader. Boone is a member of the Wabash College Athletic Hall of Fame.

In addition to his bachelor's degree from Wabash, Boone holds a Master's of Science – Education in Higher Education Administration from Purdue University, which he received in 1999.

One of the greatest players ever to wear the Green and Gold, David Corley, Jr., is in his first season as the Tribe's running backs coach. He brings the staff a wealth of perspective and playing experience, being a 2002 graduate of the College and the school's all-time leading passer.

Corley's primary recruiting areas are Charlottesville and Richmond in Virginia and the southeast, including Georgia and South Carolina.

In his current position, Corley oversees the development of the Tribe's tailbacks and fullbacks as well as working with assigned special teams.

Corley returns to the Williamsburg campus where he excelled as a four-year starter and multiple-time all-conference quarterback from 1999 through 2002. In his time under center for the College he wrote his name in nearly every significant passing record for the school, including graduating as the Tribe's all-time leader in passing yards (9,805), total offense (10,948) and touchdown passes (73).

He remains one of only two quarterbacks (the other being Stan Yagiello, 1981-85) to be a four-year starter during the Laycock era. Corley began his playing career by earning the league's Rookie of the Year honors after the 1999 season, where he started the final eight games of the Tribe's schedule. He twice led the league in passing efficiency (1999 and 2002) and earned post-season honors in each of his final four years on campus.

Corley played an important role in helping lead the team to a conference title in 2001 and was selected as the squad's captain for the 2002 season. The native of Columbia, S.C., was named as the College's Outstanding Senior Athlete for the 2002-03 school year and was a two-time runner up for the prestigious Dudley Award, presented annually to the outstanding collegiate player in the state of Virginia.

While the position will be Corley's first full-time collegiate coaching job, he will be drawing on a wide-range of playing experience he has gathered since graduating after the 2002 season. He has had professional playing stints in the Canadian Football League with the Hamilton Tiger Cats (2003) and Calgary Stampeders (2006). He also had a brief stint as a member of the Arena Football League's New York Dragons (2005).

Corley is married to the former Brianne Tinsley and resides in Williamsburg.

A three-year veteran of the Tribe's staff, Trey Henderson enters his second season as an assistant with the team's defensive backs and his first with the title of video coordinator.

In his three-years on campus, Henderson has worked with both sides of the ball, but he has been heavily involved in collecting, editing and preparing practice and game footage for the staff, using the team's DV Sports editing system for the past two seasons. He also played a lead role in helping to organize and implement the program's brand-new, networked video editing suite in the Jimmie Laycock Football Center.

Henderson came to Williamsburg in 2006 after working for Overhead Door Company of Central Va., where he arranged over $180,000 in sales. While working in sales, Henderson also coached football at Hopewell High School, where he served as the defensive backs and wide receivers coach for the previous three seasons and helped guide the Blue Devils to the 2003 AAA State Championship.

Henderson also spent time as an assistant wrestling coach at Benedictine High School in Richmond, sending two wrestlers to the Prep National Tournament.

A four-year letterwinning defensive back at Randolph-Macon College, Henderson started three years in the secondary and was the Yellow Jackets' co-captain in 2001, while also spending three seasons on the baseball team. He received his Bachelor of Arts in economics and business from RMC in 2002 and completed a Master's of Science in sport leadership at Virginia Commonwealth University in December of 2006.

Henderson, whose complete name Herman Allen Henderson, III, is an active member of American Football Coaches Association and the Virginia High School League.

He enjoys fishing, golfing and spending time at Claytor Lake. Henderson resides in Williamsburg with his wife, Summers.

After spending his first season on campus working with the tight ends, Brendan Nugent comes into the 2008 season with his focus being on the team's wide receiving corps.

In addition to working with the wide outs, Nugent will also have duties working with the Tribe's special teams. He is the staff's primary recruiter for the state Florida.

His first year on campus was a successful one, as he mentored eventual 2008 NFL free agent signee Drew Atchison to all-state recognition.

Nugent was exposed to the collegiate coaching game by working as the offensive undergraduate assistant on Kirk Ferentz's staff at the University of Iowa during the 2005 and 2006 seasons. In this position, Nugent worked directly with Iowa offensive coordinator, Ken O'Keefe, assisting him with day-to-day and game day operations.

Aside from his on-field work with the team's offense and the defensive scout team, some of his additional responsibilities included playbook and opponent scouting preparation and extensive work with editing instructional footage on the team's XOS Sagio Video System.

His first job in the coaching ranks came at Archbishop Stepinac High School in his hometown of White Plains, New York, where he served as the Crusaders' linebacker coach for the 2004 season.

As a player, Nugent lettered three seasons at linebacker at Catholic University of America. He went onto earn his undergraduate degree in political science from the University of Iowa in December of 2006.

Nugent is single and resides in Williamsburg.

The Tribe welcomed Christian Taylor to the staff this spring as an offensive assistant. The first-year coach will have the responsibilities of overseeing the team's tight ends and working with the kicking game.

The position is Taylor's first in the collegiate ranks, but he brings extensive experience of the College's attack, as he was a four-year member of the team's travel squad, earned two letters as a quarterback.

He is responsible for recruiting the southwestern, northern neck and eastern shore areas of Virginia, as well as the Midwest and Canada.

Taylor has already worked extensively in helping put together the team's playbook and is going to play a vital role in working with the video system. This past spring, he drilled the quarterbacks, as well as working with the kicking game.

He played his scholastic football at Grafton High School in Virginia, where his was a two-year letter winner and all-region selection at quarterback and safety.

Taylor is a 2007 graduate of the College, earning a degree in kinesiology and enjoys traveling, going to the beach, and working out.

john SAUER
Dir. of Speed, Strength and Conditioning
21st Season
Montana, 1984

Head Speed, Strength and Conditioning Coach John Sauer is now in his 21st year as the director at William and Mary. He is responsible for all aspects of strength and conditioning for the Tribe's 23 varsity sports.

Under his guidance, the College has had a football player earn All-America strength honors for the past 20 seasons, including the recent selections of Drew Atchison ('08), Josh Wright ('07), Adam O'Connor ('06) and Dominique Thompson ('05) as All-American Strength and Conditioning Athletes of the Year by the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA).

During the summer of 2005, Sauer was one of seven coaches nationwide recognized as a Master Strength and Conditioning Coach (MSCC). The title of MSCC is the highest honor that can be achieved as a strength and conditioning coach. It represents professionalism, knowledge, experience, expertise, as well as longevity in the field. For these reasons, all applicants must be a full-time collegiate and/or professional strength and conditioning coach for a minimum of 12 years in order to be considered for this distinction.

In 1995, Sauer designed the Joseph W. Montgomery Strength Training Center located in the lower level of William and Mary Hall. This 5,500 square-foot facility was upgraded in the spring of 2006, primarily with new Power Lift and Sorinex equipment. The room now contains 16,000 pounds of free weights, over 7,500 pounds of dumbbells and 6,000 pounds of rubber bumper plates. In addition, it has 18 custom-built Olympic platforms, 18 multipurpose power racks and a fully-equipped plyometric area.

Sauer came to William and Mary from Clemson where he was an assistant strength and conditioning coach. At Clemson, he assisted in the development, coordination and implementation of strength and conditioning programs for more than 450 varsity athletes.

Before Clemson, Sauer held assistant coaching positions at the University of Utah in Salt Lake City and at Southern Methodist University in Dallas. He earned his bachelor of science degree in health and physical education from the University of Montana in 1984. In 1985, he received his master's in health and physical education from Delta State University, where he was the head coach of strength and conditioning in charge of all varsity sports.

Sauer is a certified member of the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association. He is also a member of the NSCA, International Sports Science Association and the U.S. Weightlifting Federation. In addition to being a Master Strength and Conditioning Coach, he is a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist and Strength and Conditioning Coach Certified. Sauer is certified as a Level I Club Coach & Level II Senior Coach by U.S.A. Weightlifting. Additionally, he has achieved Level I Coaches certification from the USAT&F. From 1996-98, Sauer was honored as Strength and Conditioning Professional of the Year by the CAA.

Head Athletic Trainer, Football
Fifth Season
William and Mary, 1998

A William and Mary alumnus and former Tribe student athletic trainer, Carter returns to the Tribe sidelines for his fifth year as the Head Football Athletic Trainer, overseeing the sports medicine services for the team.

Carter received his B.S. in Kinesiology from the College of William and Mary in 1998. He then attended Illinois State University where he earned his M.S. in Health, Physical Education, and Recreation with an emphasis in Sports Management. Carter joined the Tribe sports medicine staff in 2000.

In addition to his clinical responsibilities at the College, Carter is also involved in sports medicine education on many levels. Since 2000, he has been an instructor for the ACES Preparatory Workshop, a course designed to prepare athletic training students to take the national board exam. He developed and continues to coordinate the Sports Medicine rotation for the Riverside Family Medicine Residency Program and has also served as an instructor in the SMART (Sideline Management Assessment Response Techniques) Workshop for physicians. He coordinates the Athletic Training Aide program in which pre-med and pre-physical therapy students work alongside the staff in the clinic and on the field. Carter serves a Clinical Instructor for the Post-Professional Athletic Training Educational program at Old Dominion University, and, each spring, he teaches a course on the evaluation and treatment of the spine.

Originally from Fieldale, Va., Carter resides in Williamsburg with his wife, Kristina, who is a physical therapist at the Advanced Specialty Center of Williamsburg Physical Therapy.

After serving a season as the senior assistant, Greg Klimas moves into his first year as the squad's full-time head equipment manager.

Klimas played a major role in assisting the relocation of the program's entire equipment operation from its old home to the state-of-the-art facility in the Laycock Football Center.

Before his first full season on campus was completed, Klimas assumed an interim role as the head of his department in February. After successfully working his way through the spring football drills, Klimas was elevated into the full-time role in May of 2008.

In his position, Klimas organizes and manages a student work force and is responsible for all inventory and coordination of field use for the football program. He also is responsible for the stewardship of all the team's various vendor contracts, including the squad's Nike deal.

Klimas has earned degrees from Phoenix College (Arizona) in 2002 and Arizona State University in 2006. Klimas served in the equipment room at Phoenix College as both a student (2001-02) and assistant (2003-05). Klimas later spent two years (2006-07) working with Sunvalco Athletic Supply Company.

Klimas was married this past summer to the former Samantha Collins and the couple resides in Williamsburg.

Gary Phibbs is entering his second season on the Tribe football staff as the program's Director of Football Operations. In this capacity, Phibbs coordinates all aspects of team travel in conjunction with a senior associate athletics director and the assistant athletics director for business affairs.

In addition, he assists the recruiting coordinator in organizing and directing all facets of on-campus recruiting. Phibbs also oversees budget operations in the football office, while at the same time assisting the coaching staff with game week preparation.

Phibbs also assists with the organizational and operational duties associated with the Colonial All-Pro Football Camp and serves as the program's primary contact with the Football Parents Club and the Quarterback Club.

A 2005 graduate of Virginia Tech, Phibbs earned a Masters of Education in Higher Education Administration degree from the College in 2008. It was while he was working on his advanced degree that he first volunteered in the Tribe's football office, assisting with the coordination of on-campus recruiting weekends. Phibbs started in his current position on an interim basis in July of 2007, before being promoted to full-time status in January of 2008.

Phibbs currently resides in his hometown of Newport News, Va. and is an avid golfer.

A true asset to the football program, James Carter is in his 10th year working with the equipment staff.

Carter's main responsibilities include driving the 30-foot, or 26-foot, moving trucks that haul the Tribe's equipment for all road games. Carter also drives any rental vehicles when the team flies to away games.

Carter takes responsibility for all sideline communications for both home and away contests, including setup and take down of all communication equipment and monitoring the functionality during the games.

Before and after games, Carter is an essential member of the equipment staff, assisting the athletes and coaches with any equipment needs that they may have.

The HVAC and Plumbing Supervisor at Kings Dominion in Doswell,

Carter volunteers his time to help the Tribe program on Fridays and Saturdays during the season, and whenever else he may be needed throughout the season.

Carter and his wife, Wendy, reside in Hanover, Va.

Former NFL and college coach Bobby Ross was an assistant at W&M from 1967-70, serving on Lou Holtz's 1970 Southern Conference Championship staff.

In his first year as head coach at W&M in 1980, Jimmy Laycock's coaching staff included assistants Kevin Rogers and Ralph Friedgen. Rogers is currently in his third season as the Minnesota Vikings quarterbacks coach, while Friedgen is the head coach at the University of Maryland.

Alan Williams returned to his alma mater as an assistant in 1996. Williams is entering his seventh season as the defensive backs coach of the 2007 Super Bowl champion Indianapolis Colts.
