By Leslie Marzen

Playwright Paul Green will be the guest speaker at the 25th annual Charter Day Convocation on Monday, February 8, at 11 A.M. in Phi Beta Keppa Hall.

Mrs. Thomas H. McCutcheon, wife of the rector, will open the information desk in Marshall-Wythe tomorrow from 1:30-3:30 P.M. and at the box office in Phi Beta Keppa Hall before the concert. Admission is $1.50 for students and faculty, $2.50 for the general public.

Coming to New York two years ago, the soprano sang on various radio programs, including programs on the Blue Network and made her opera debut singing the role of Minnie in the Columbia Concerts Opera Company's production of Carmen.

Soprano Frances Yeend will appear as soloist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Serge Koussevitsky. She again sang with that orchestra in a performance of the same work at the Tanglewood Festival that summer. Under Leonard Bernstein's direction, she sang the leading role in Bernstein's new opera, Peter Grimes, at the festival.

But we are fairly certain that they will be ready for occupancy by the end of the month. The Fraternity Lodges, of which three are being constructed, will be completed this year, and the members will be able to use them in the fall of the year.

Further progress has been made on the construction of the new dormitories.

The Flats, or dormitories, as they are called, are being built on the north side of the campus, near the main entrance. They will house about 400 students, and are expected to be ready for occupancy in the fall.

The Flats will consist of two stories, with each floor containing 20 rooms. Each room will have a bed, desk, and chair, and will be equipped with electricity and running water.

The Flats will be heated by steam, and will have central air conditioning. The rooms will be furnished with beds, desks, chairs, and wardrobes.

The Flats will be open to students of either sex, and will be under the supervision of the dormitory director, who will live on the premises.

The Flats will be equipped with a library, a lounge, and a kitchen.

Ronald King, B.A., Spins His William and Mary-Go-Round

Hello, you undergraduates, your presentations in the course of the year. Our boy pulled a fast one on the professor who had just graduated last Saturday to collect a sheepskin.

"every graduate knows, the sheepskin is so named because it is seen at last by saying "BAAA!"

But I digress.

The reading period was my only vacation. Usually the few days prior to graduation were undeniably the most exciting and most hectic I have ever experienced. First of all, there was the nightmare of the 38 hours I spent going from class to class to show that he is present. On the other hand, the professors fail when they do not return my letters; they disappear from the classroom and do not return to the students or professors. The student body, it seems that we have an even larger problem in attracting professors to the school.

Requirements Are Simple

In general, the requirements for those courses are relatively simple and impose no great hardship whatsover on the student population who has spent at least one semester in the school. The Charter Day Convocation is scheduled at eight o'clock. It is necessary for the maximum number of students to attend the convocation next Monday, and as the day approaches we begin to fear that attendance might be comparable to our last Honors Convocation.

 procession. First, they must not be all. Term papers and other horrors received which are beyond the grasp of the person of average intelligence. It is generally the case that it might help me in my preparations for exams. The atmosphere of Phi Beta Kappa hall might be the cause of the students' objection to attending. So we might suggest that the corner restaurant be opened again as a meeting place. It seems that the student population must be greater there during convocations than in the auditorium. It has been said that school spirit has, for the most part, disappeared. The school spirit covers a much broader scope than screaming one's head off when William and Mary teams run onto an athletic field. We believe that the Charter Day Convocation should consist of the following: the Charter Day Convocation. It is our privilege, duty and responsibility, therefore, to see that attendance is made.

The past, present and future STUDENT BODIES will make or break our college. NO individual, whether student, administrator, or officer, is indispensable to the success of our school. Tennis Drills Start Tomorrow For Intercollegiate Champions

For the first time in four years there will be no outstanding new- comers to the William and Mary tennis squad, who entered the No. 23 position, will pass the outfi¢d, aided by six returnees, Howard Atwater, Bob Galiway, Bob Doll, Jim McMen, Bill Olenberger and George Frith. Lyman Catesburn, another of last year’s team, will be out all season. Newcomers this year will be W&M. The schedule is all out.

Spring Work For Gridders Starts Today

"Spring" practices for elements of the William and Mary football team were scheduled to get under way this week after the wintering, according to Coach Rube Meyer, president of the conference, and Coach Bob Holley, who has been practicing with the Blue Devils of Duke University. The team meets on the Tuesday night and playing host to a new group of freshmen. Both games will begin at 8 P.M.

The first line is now completed, according to Coach Holley, head coach of the Brave, and the game Thursday may be a harder one than the first, according to Holley.

Outstanding members of the team from Durham include Corn- nell Yonker, Walt Powell and Bill Hester. Several stars from the last year’s team such as Ed Koffen- berg and George Fricke. Lyman Catesburn, who has had two years of experience and has been turned to defense against both Wing and T formations.

The Indians moved into an 18-point lead of the Sailors in the third quarter, and held on to defeat the Little Braves, 54-45, in the final game of the season. The Indians held the Braves to a low-scoring game, with ReSharper and Goldsmith of the Indians scored 20 points, respectively, while Fred Vinson picked up 10.

Bob Doll paced the Indians with 10, followed by nine.

Bob Doll and Bob Holley led the Braves with 13 points, and Buddy Lea followed with nine.

Buddy Lea had one of his three best games of the season against Rich- mond in the last game before the examination period, and he led William and Mary to a 94-84 vic- tory there. He was high scorer for the Braves with 16 points, most of which came on set shots.

The Indians moved into an early lead, holding a 27-15 advan- tage at halftime. A late rally by the Indians in the second quarter, and Holley had added eight more points. The Indians were well distributed for the Indians holding a three-point lead.

Fuzz McMillan and Chester Guerard each contributed 11 points to the Indian cause, while Bob Holley added eight more.

W&M Five Break Even In SC Fits

Coach Bar pow Wilson's William and Mary basketball team broke even in the four games played since January 12, lowering the University of Richmond and the Citadel while losing to Wash- ington and Lee and George Wash- ington. All four were Southern Conference games. In the last game of their season, Christmas road trip, the Braves failed to catch W&M in 1948, 84-81, and the team still is strong.

Pi KA Nabs Swimming Win; Sigma Rho Leads In Points

In the intramural swimming meet, Pi KA took 61 points to 35 for Sigma Rho. Tom Butler, of the winners, took the first place and 15 points for high individual honors. He won the 100-yard free style with a pool record time of 55.9 seconds and took the 100-yard free style in another record making performance of 1 minute, 4.3 seconds. Butler also took the 50-yard backstroke event in 37.1 seconds.

Mark Waldo, KA, won the 50-yard backstroke event in 32.9 seconds and then tied Chuck Flor, of Kappa Sigma, for first in the medley with a time of 42.3 seconds.

The four-man team relay was won by Pi KA’s quartet of Frank Monteleone, Bob Stevens, Jake Stevens and Al Fitzgerald, in 42.7 seconds. The leaders have tramural standings, with the other top position on the fraternity in Tom Mikula, Chet McKitrick and Captain Johnny Clower were named to the All-State handball team as center.

Barney Wilson’s chief point man on the Big Green quintet is Chester Giermak, a sophomore from Chicago, Ill., who is leading the Indian baskethand- makers with over 200 points.

Chester’s story is one of those rags-to-riches tales. Chester entered William and Mary in September, 1946, and when handball practice was called by Bob Gallagher, Chester came out.

Quick Feint

Giermak asked for a uniform and was given one. He was immediately shuffled off to the junior varsity where he remained until the first intra-squad game. During that particular practice session, Coach Gallagher got a good look at Giermak’s ability and decided to bring him up to the varsity.

Since then Chester has started every game for the Tribe in the last two seasons. Last year he was overshadowed by forward John Jorgenson until February. When Jorgenson left the spotlight was turned on the lanky center.

365 Points

Giermak played up to his great notice during his freshman season. He scored 263 points to feed the locals and earn a second place in the all-star tourney. He was also named to the mythical All-Star team at center.

This season Giermak got off to a slow start but he has been going strong enough to slip well over 200 points in 13 games to rank high among the State and Conference scorers. In two consecutive

Tribe Gridders Face Tough Schedule

Playing against some of the better teams of the country, the William and Mary football team of 1948 will have the opportunity to establish more firmly the name which has been built up by Big Green teams since the golden renaissance started here in 1939. Among the teams too the Indian schedule are such top-flight schools as Boston College, Arkansas and North Carolina State, which were not played last season.

North Carolina and Wake Forest, definitely "big-league" teams, will be held down in the W&M slate again, as does Virginia Tech, at the top. The Blue and Gold will field one of the best teams in the South next fall.

Davidson Opens

Davidson once more occupies the opening position on the Indian schedule, the game being played in Charlotte, N. C., on September 25. VMI offers opposition for the Tribe in another Virginia "Big Site" contest, while the University of Richmond’s Spiders make their first appearance in Williamsburg in the homecoming game set for October 15.

There is still an open date on the W&M grid card, but it will be filled as soon as Athletic Director W. N. McPherson can complete arrangements.

The Pennsylvanian

Minning from the 1947 schedule are four teams with which the Big Green have little difficulty, the Southern Conference teams from last season are missing. The Citadel and Washington and Lee; other are Boston College, still in the process of rebuilding, and Georgetown, a State University of Ohio, which sent to Williamsburg a small but scrappy eleven.

McGuire's a chance to take part in an enjoyable and healthful sport, this team has done much to encourage those disabled by war and disease. The venture is one of the most laudable undertaken to meet a special situation, and has proved very successful.

W&M Program

A serious effort is being made by the athletic department of William and Mary to give the school a well-rounded program with strong teams in every sport, and a member of important steps in that direction already have been noted.

Football here has reached the big time in both interest and quality of play and needs little further expansion. Tennis, too, reached a climax last spring when the Indians brought the first national championship to Williamsburg with a victory in the National Intercollegiate tournament in California.

Practise in basketball started in October this year, and a strong attempt has been made to place the sport on the level with football and allow the team to compete with the best in the nation. A member of injuries and other circumstances have slowed the Indians to far this season. Games with Duke and Virginia Tech this week may tell the tale.

Coach Al Thomas is now directing all his time to work with the team in an effort to build that team to that position it has held in recent years in the past and to allow competition on somewhat equal terms with other schools of the area. Ball, coached by Marvin Bem, will be played concurrently with track. Work in that sport will get under way in March.

Swimming has returned to the Williams and Mary sports program, and the school has turned up some excellent competitors in that sport. It follows the cross country team which ran last fall.

One other sport which has been discontinued for a long while remains a topic of discussion when the school again sponsors a golf team. A schedule is being drawn up, and it is likely that home matches will be played on the Williamsburg area course.

As presently, the athletic council is studying the advisability of sponsoring a lacrosse team at William and Mary. There may have been decided on that sport as yet.
Miss Nelson Presents

Fifty Historical Letters

Miss Sally Nelson recently presented to the college library a collection of 50 letters written by George Washington Parke Custis, who was the grandson of Martha Washington and, after the death of his father at the siege of Yorktown, he was adopted by General Washington and brought up at Mount Vernon. When Martha Washington died, she left Custis a plantation in New Kent county called “White House.”

These letters were written by Custis, from his home, “Arlington House,” to Francis Nelson, who was the manager of “White House.” The correspondence dates from the years 1844-45, dealt with Custis’ daughter, who married Robert K. Lee, and the family life of Lee himself. Miss Nelson, who presented these letters, is a direct descendant of Francis Nelson.

Women Chosen By Mademoiselle To College Board

Among the 800 women chosen for Mademoiselle's College Board are three William and Mary students, Joan Foote, Alice Baxley and Eva Kafka.

Competing for the 20 guest-editor positions on the August issue of the magazine, these women will submit three assignments during the year on college activities and current campus trends. The winners of the contest will spend a month in New York, working and editing the college issue and attending the magazine's job and future-conference sessions.

Jean, who is from Washington, D.C., is a member of Gamma Delta Phi, honorary literary fraternity, and serves as morgue editor of the magazine. She is a member of the Executive Committee and Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

Alice hails from Saddle River, New Jersey, and is a member of Chi Delta Phi and Kappa Delta sorority.

Mary, from Rye, New York, is a member of the Flat Hat news staff and a member of Mortar Board and Pi Beta Phi sorority.

WSCGA To Assist In Used Book Sales

Last night at the monthly meeting of the WSCGA, Shirley Simmons, president, urged that everyone who has second-hand books for sale register them in the notebook at the operator's desk in Marshall-Wythe.

This notebook is being installed for the students interested in purchasing second-hand books and lists the people who have books for sale.

It was also announced that the next meeting would take care of the preparations for the coming election of new officers in March.

An amendment proposed by Dotty Tedder, which stated that a candidate may win only by a plurality of five votes, was passed. Jean Morgan suggested that all drives be combined under the direction of the Inter-Church Council and that the students may pay either on an installment plan or in a lump sum.

Fehr Announces Vacancies

"All students interested in joining any of the choral organizations should see me this week," Carl A. Fehr, assistant professor of music, announced.

There are openings in all the choral groups for both men and women. Fehr will be on hand in his office in the Music Building any time this week.

Robeson To Talk At First Seminar

American Civilization will be the general topic for the Marshall-Wythe Seminar for this semester, announced Dr. Charles O. Lecake, assistant professor of government and instructor of the one-credit course, which features addresses by outstanding experts in fields related to the main subject.

The first in the series of lectures scheduled for alternate Fridays throughout the term will be The Role of the Industrial Leader, to be presented by J. M. Robeson, vice-president of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company. Robeson, an expert on human relations in industry, will address the class in Washington, 202, on Friday, February 29.

The Position of Labor in American Civilisation will be the topic for discussion by Calvin Path, Virginia state director of the CIA organizing committee, at the second class meeting. Norman Foman, noted literary critic, will speak at the following lecture on the importance of literature in American life.

The tentative topics for the three final lectures of the course are Religion in American Society, The Position of Government in Everyday Living, and America In Post-War World.

Backdrop Heads
To Hold Try-outs
For New Students

Backdrop club officials, ready to put the 1948 varsity show into rehearsal, have decided to delay the announcement of a tentative cast for one week in order that February entrants, freshmen and transfer students may have an opportunity to display their talents.

Ken McGinn, Dick Beatty, Jean Cutler and Ronald King, members of the committee for selecting the cast, will hold a special set of auditions for the newcomers on Wednesday afternoon from three to five in the Wren Kitchen.

Cutler, dance director of the student musical, has invited a number of potential dancers to attend the Wednesday session so that he can make final selections in his department.

Several students who were asked to attend final acting tryouts early in January were unable to make those audition, and they are requested to come to the Wren Kitchen for special tryouts if they are still interested in speaking roles.

Production chiefs plan to hold a meeting of the Backdrop club next week, at which time they will announce the tentative cast, staff, crews and committees. Rehearsals will begin almost immediately after the cast has been named.

was signed by Long in late 1946. Always in demand for college dances, the band has performed for students throughout the nation at Dartmouth, Notre Dame, Duke, the University of Kentucky, Carnegie Tech, and many other institutions of higher learning. Perhaps the two numbers most requested by collegiate audiences are Long's famous renditions of the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi and A Shanty in Old Shantytown.

The later, coupled with Blue Skies on Decca 23622, has sold more than 1,500,000 copies. Before the latest Petrillo ban on record making, the outfit was cutting wax for Signature, a long-term contract with Decca having expired last year. Their version of When I Grow Too Old To Dream also passed the million mark.

Flat Hat Apologizes

Albert Haak, instructor in fine arts, will serve on the newly-formed dance committee. Carl A. Fair, assistant professor of fine arts, will not serve on the committee as was erroneously stated in the last issue of the Flat Hat.
