YOU are entering upon a four-year adventure of learning and growth. The final value of your experiences at William and Mary will be determined largely by the interests, ideals and habits which characterize your living. In the realization of your aims both students and faculty will provide unstintingly of their own resources for your assistance.

Much advice will be given you, and its value must be measured in the light of the giver’s experience and your own capacity to utilize it. Whatever else you do or whose ever advice you follow, keep constantly before you the aims which lead you to continue your education. It is easy to lose sight of your ideals; easier still to fall into the error of compensating for failure to grow intellectually by placing too much emphasis on the value of athletic achievement, the acquisition of new social habits or other incidental phases of the serious business at hand.

J. Wilfred Lambert,
Dean of Men.
Greeting from the Dean of Women

TO the Class of 1944 I extend a cordial welcome. You are entering into a noble heritage, which your presence should make even richer for your successors.

Yet your purpose in seeking this ancient and vigorous college should be primarily not exaltation of its splendid past but your own physical, mental, spiritual growth. May it be our privilege to help you to take root securely, to develop into fearless, strong, wise, magnanimous men and women.

As aids to growth may you find here the friendship of administrators, of advisers, of instructors, and of fellow-students; the stimulation of able minds; a challenge to your best endeavor; and a simple love of truth which will enable you to face understandingly your own failures and successes and those of your friends.

The intelligent love of a student for a college is one of the most enlarging experiences of life.

Grace Warren Landrum,
Dean of Women.
A FEW YEARS after the founding of Jamestown and before the Pilgrim Fathers came to America, a movement was started in Virginia to establish a college, and its construction actually was begun at a settlement called Henrico near the present City of Richmond. The Indian massacre of 1622, together with the dissolution of the Virginia Company of London in 1624, disrupted these plans, but the idea persisted. In 1660-61 the Grand Assembly of Virginia provided for the establishment of a "College," but it was not until 1693 that the College of William and Mary in Virginia was chartered by the joint sovereigns whose names it bears. In the meantime, Harvard College was established; the College of William and Mary thus became the second oldest American college in actual operation. The Bishop of London was named its first chancellor and the Reverend James Blair became the first president, occupying this office until his death fifty years later. In 1695, while Jamestown was still the capital of Virginia, construction of the new college was begun at the Middle Plantation, located approximately midway between the James and York rivers. In 1699, the Middle Plantation became Williamsburg and the capital of Virginia.

Holding a royal charter, with arms granted by the College of Heralds, the College of William and Mary enjoyed the benefits of royal favor and until the American Revolution was perhaps the wealthiest college in America. While the charter provided for a president and six masters or professors, it was not until 1729 that all these professorships were established. The chairs were: Divinity, Philosophy, Oriental Languages, Mathematics, the Grammar, School, and the Indian School. The Indian School was endowed from a large estate which The Honorable Robert Boyle, the great English physicist and the discoverer of "Boyle's Law," left for "pious and religious uses" and was housed in the Brafferton, named for a manor in Yorkshire from which its revenues were derived. It languished, however, and failed to survive the Revolution.
When America resisted the policies of the British Crown, William and Mary, although wealthy and under royal patronage, chose to risk the loss of material substance for principle. It furnished to the Revolutionary and early Republican periods many of the great leaders. Among the foremost of these were: Richard Bland, John Tyler, Sr., Benjamin Harrison, George Wythe, Peyton Randolph, Thomas Jefferson, Dabney Carr, John Taylor of Caroline, James Monroe, Spencer Roane, John Marshall, John Blair, and Bushrod Washington. While George Washington never attended William and Mary, he received his surveyor's commission from the College and served as its chancellor from 1789 until his death. So intimately associated is the name of William and Mary with the names of famous Americans that its history forms an important part of the history of the nation. Among the distinguished William and Mary names in the years subsequent to the great flowering of the eighteenth century are those of another President of the United States, John Tyler; John Randolph of Roanoke; Philip Pendleton Barbour; William T. Barry; Alexander H. H. Stuart; William Cabell Rives; John J. Crittenden, author of the Crittenden Compromise; Lieutenant General Winfield Scott, hero of the Mexican War and Commander of the Army of the United States in 1861; Edmund Ruffin, famous Southern agriculturist who is credited with firing the first shot at Fort Sumter; James M. Mason of "Mason and Slidell" fame; William B. Taliaferro, Major General, C.S.A.; William Barton Rogers, founder of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology; James Branch Cabell; and Admiral Cary T. Grayson. The roll of fame of William and Mary includes the first president and fifteen members of the Continental Congress, four signers of the Declaration of Independence, three presidents of the United States, one Chief Justice and three Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, thirteen Cabinet members, twenty-nine Senators, three Speakers and fifty-five members of the House of Representatives, eighteen Foreign Ministers, one Lieutenant General, twenty-one Governors of Virginia, twenty-two judges of the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals, besides many others distlinguished in civil and military life, in letters, science, education, and the church.

On the fifth of December, 1776, a group of William and Mary students founded the Phi Beta Kappa Society, the first Greek letter fraternity in America, now recognized and honored throughout the world. Three years later there was instituted at the College the Honor System, that important, revered, and enduring contribution to Southern academic life. Always a liberal arts college, William and Mary, however, refused to be slavishly traditional. The sharpest break with academic tradition came in 1779 when Thomas Jefferson, then Governor of Virginia, also was a member of the Board of Visitors of the College. As the result of his influence the Grammar School and the professorships of Divinity and Oriental Languages were abolished and in their places were substituted a professorship of Law and Police (the latter word meaning Government), one of Anatomy, Medicine, and Chemistry, and one of Modern Languages. In 1781, during the memorable Yorktown campaign, the academic life of the College was interrupted temporarily and the buildings were occupied in turn by the army of Cornwallis and by the American and French allies. The President's House, built in 1732 and occupied by every president of the College, accidentally was partly burned by the French troops. It was restored by Louis XVI, who also presented a number of books to the College Library. Only two have survived.

The close of the Revolution found William and Mary impoverished by the loss of royal grants and revenues. Under the able administration of Bishop James Madison, cousin to President James Madison, the College recovered rapidly and during the presidency of Thomas Roderick Dew (1836-46) reached its peak enrollment until comparatively recent times. In 1855 Benjamin Stoddert Ewell became president.

With the advent of war in 1861, the College closed, the President, faculty, and student body entering the Confederate service. Again the academic halls echoed to the tramp of soldiers, the College buildings being occupied successively by both the Union and Confederate armies. In 1862 the Sir Christopher Wren Building was burned by Union troops acting without orders. With the return of peace in 1865 the College was reopened by President Ewell who, as Colonel C.S.A., had served as Adjutant General to General Joseph E. Johnston. With resources gone, students and faculty scattered, the main building with the library burned, the College was a monument to the desolation of war. Heroically, Ewell fought an apparently losing fight, and, although its buildings were rehabilitated and over 40 students were in attendance one session, the College was forced to suspend operations in 1881 for lack of revenue. Each year for seven years when the time for the opening of the session arrived, Ewell rang the College bell, keeping the charter alive and giving notice to the world that William and Mary was open, even though only a handful of volunteer students remained for gratuitious instruction.

In 1888 with state aid the College reopened under the presidency of Lyon G. Tyler, son of President John Tyler. In 1906 it became a state institution and in 1918 became co-educational. Julian Alvin Carroll Chandler, an alumnus, succeeded Tyler in 1919. Starting with comparatively few buildings, none in too excellent repair, with a faculty of approximately 20, and a student body of about 130, Chandler, during his amazing administration of fifteen years, rebuilt the College to its present size of approximately 1,300 students and 100 faculty, with old buildings restored and new buildings erected. He died in 1934 sacrificing his health and life for William and Mary. The administration of John Stewart Bryan, who followed, has been marked by a continued physical improvement of the College, with a cultural rebirth, and an academic advancement not unlike that which took place in 1779. Through three fires, two wars, and economic chaos, William and Mary has survived and today in the unique setting of Williamsburg, with the cultural heritage of the past, and an academic vision for the future, it serves Virginia and the nation as it originally served Virginia and the Crown.
Priorities of William and Mary

The first American college to receive a charter from the crown; this was dated 1693, under seal of the Privy Council.

The first and only American college to be granted a coat of arms from the Herald's College, 1694.

The first American college to have a full faculty of president, six professors, writing master, and usher.

The first medals awarded in America as collegiate prizes were those donated by Lord Botetourt, 1771.

The first Greek letter fraternity was founded at William and Mary on December 5, 1776. This fraternity, the Phi Beta Kappa, is the great honor society of the foremost institutions of learning in America.

The first honor system.

The first elective system of studies, 1779.

The first schools of Modern Languages and of Law were established in 1779, under the influence of Jefferson.

The first college to teach Political Economy was William and Mary in 1784.

The first school of History was founded here in 1803.
The Honor System at the College of William and Mary

Among her many priorities, William and Mary justly claims that of leading the way in the formulation and adoption of the Honor System. It was inaugurated here in 1779. Early in college days when no other idea of college government prevailed throughout America than that the student should be watched like a suspected criminal for offenses, either actual or potential, the faculty of William and Mary appointed a committee, whose head was the distinguished jurist, Beverly Tucker, to draw up a statement of the spirit and content of an honor system by which the conduct of the students of the old college was to be guided. At once put into operation, this system has been in continuous existence since its establishment.

But glorious and inspiring as is the historical origin of the Honor System, it is with its operation now and in the future that the men and women of the new day at the old college are primarily concerned. In the first place, it is of vital importance that every new student enrolling in September, should clearly understand what the Honor System really is and what it means in his life and in the corporate life of the College. Ignorance of it may bring the possibility—even the probability of breaking it, and at once there follows a well nigh irreparable injury to the character, the reputation, and the future of the individual student and an equally grave lowering of the morale of the student body, for this must always suffer by the disgrace of any of its members. It is in this spirit that the present serious attempt is made to set forth, especially for the benefit of the students, just what the Honor System is and what is required of each in order to translate it into his life.

The Honor System may be defined in a word as individual responsibility. It brings home to the individual man or woman who would stay at the college and share in the advantages she offers, his personal responsibility for her fair name and honor. It emphasizes two things: first, that the student must recognize that he is answerable in the very fullest degree for every one of his actions and dealings with the members of the faculty and with his fellows, in his or their rooms, in the dining halls, the athletic fields, the social centers, and the class rooms; and, second, that he must recognize his personal responsibility for the well-being of the college in every phase of life in which he touches her existence.

Such phases, in the large, will at once suggest themselves to every one. They include, primarily, everything which touches the securing of aid, assistance, or profit in scholastic work of whatsoever kind, whether in term class work, periodical tests, or in the work handed in to the instructor.

Stealing, defrauding, and lying, are breaches of honor upon which a student may be placed on trial by his fellow students, to determine whether or not he is fit to continue as a member of the College.

As applied to scholastic work the following interpretations of the Honor System are set forth by the Student Honor Councils:

I. All scholastic work, whether it be in the lecture room, the library, the student's room, or elsewhere, is under the Honor System. All cheating, whether in work pledged or unpledged, whether in tests, assignments, or examinations is a violation of the Honor System. Giving aid to any student or receiving aid from any student, without the consent of the professor, in tests, assignments, or examinations, is cheating.

II. All written tests and examinations given in the classroom will require a formal pledge. The pledge is required not for the purpose of creating the obligation but to remind the student of the obligation already existing under the Honor System.

III. For any forms of scholastic work other than written examinations and tests in which the professor desires the use of a pledge, the professor or instructor will prescribe the form of pledge to be used and will make clear the scope of the pledge and responsibility of the individual under the pledge.

The Honor System is supported and handled by the students themselves and they are wholly responsible for
it. Violations of the Honor Code are reported, not to the Faculty, but to the Student Honor Councils. It is the duty of every student to report another student seen in a dishonorable act. Loyalty to the student body demands it. If a student fails to report another student because he is a close associate the Honor System is defunct. Reporting cases is not spying or tale-bearing, for the Honor Councils are representatives of students themselves.
THE discipline of the College is vested in the President by action of the Board of Visitors. Cases involving minor infractions of discipline are handled by the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women respectively. The President may in cases which are referred to him seek the advice of a discipline committee, which represents both the faculty and the administration.

The honor system as established at William and Mary assumes that every student is trustworthy and will not do a dishonest or dishonorable act or violate his pledged word. In compliance with this established practice each student is required to sign the following pledge on written work: "I hereby declare upon my word of honor that I have neither given nor received help on this test (examination or assignment)." The young men and the young women, through their student councils, immediately take cognizance of any violation of the honor system, and any student found guilty of violating the accepted code is regarded as unfit to remain as a member of the college community.

The respective student councils also take cognizance of any matters which, in their judgment, are injurious to the well-being of the College. So understandingly is the honor system enforced by the students that there is rarely any appeal from their decision.

When non-resident students are permitted to withdraw, or are dropped from the roll, or are suspended, they must forthwith leave Williamsburg and the vicinity. Until this requirement has been fulfilled, they remain subject to the authority of the institution and may be expelled.

Hazing or the subjection of a student to any form of humiliating treatment is forbidden. The fundamental test for disciplinary action by the college authorities is whether the behavior complained of tends to throw discredit on the name of the College of William and Mary, or to manifest ungentlemanly conduct on the part of the students. The College believes it essential to draw a clear line between use and misuse of intoxicating liquors. Therefore, the College regards any evidence of the misuse of alcohol as a serious breach of accepted standards of deportment, and such abuse may be punished by loss of social privileges, probation or separation.

By regulation of the Board of Visitors, students are not allowed to have automobiles, except by special permission which is to be secured from the President.

Registration as a student at the College of William and Mary implies that the student will familiarize himself with the rules and regulations governing the conduct of students, and that he will abide by such regulations so long as he remains a student at the College.

Songs and Cheers

ALMA MATER

Hark, the students' voices swelling,
Strong and true and clear,
Alma Mater's love are telling,
Ringing far and near.

CHORUS

William and Mary, loved of old,
Hark, upon the gale
Hear the thunder of our chorus,
Alma Mater—hail!

All thy sons are faithful to thee
Through their college days,
Singing loud from hearts that love thee
Alma Mater's praise.

Iron shod or golden sandaled
Shall the years go by;
Still our hearts shall weave about thee
Love that cannot die.

God, our Father, hear our voices,
Listen to our cry,
Bless the college of our fathers,
Let her never die!

J. S. Wilson, '02.
WILLIAM AND MARY HYMN

Beneath thy trees, within thy halls,
We come, dear school, with praise for thee,
To pledge ourselves, whate'er befalls—
To pledge unfailing loyalty.
Our hearts are with thee, dear William and Mary,
However far we stray.
Our noble college, hear us now—
Thy children sing to thee today!

Dear school, thou'rt old in years and fame,
And richly old in honors, too.
Time shall not dull the shining name
Whose gleam our songs will e'er renew.
And as years go by, dear William and Mary,
Thy fame will never cease,
But each new year rejoice to see
Thy children's praise to thee increase.

We honor thee, not for our gain
But to make known thy majesty,
Thy truth and courage that remain
However harsh the fates may be.
As through troublous years, dear William and Mary,
Our country fought, so thou hast fought and won,
And lived to hear thy children singing to thee now.

O thou, our guardian and our guide,
Renew our courage every hour,
And keep thy spirit by our side
To aid us with its watchful power.
Throughout all our lives, dear William and Mary,
We pledge our loyalty.
Dear college, now and evermore thy children cry
"All Hail to Thee!"

FIGHT, FIGHT, FIGHT FOR THE INDIANS

Oh, we will fight, fight, fight for the Indians,
When the Indian Team appears;
We will pull like Hell for the Indians
When they hear our mighty cheers.
Wah-Hoo-Wah!
We will circle the ends for the Indians,
And we'll romp right down the field—
Touchdown! Touchdown! Indians!
And —— line will surely yield.

INDIANS

MATOAKA PARK, BOAT HOUSE, PLAYERS' DELL

The campus of the College of William and Mary extends westward into Matoaka Park, a wooded area of approximately 1,200 acres, lying between the Jamestown and the Richmond Roads. In the midst of this park is Lake Matoaka extending from Jamestown Road northward into five branches, which cover a large area of the park.

A boathouse and canoes have been provided on the lake for the use of students. Students are permitted to use canoes in the fall and spring under the supervision of the Director of Intra-Mural Athletics after having passed a canoe test.
The eastern portion of the park, which joins the campus, is well interspersed with foot-trails and bridle-paths. The natural features of this area have been preserved. Native flora and wild life are abundant.

In the center of this park is Players' Dell, in which have been provided a stage with natural setting and adequate seating facilities to accommodate large audiences. It affords an excellent opportunity for outdoor concerts, plays, masques, and pageants. Players' Dell is well suited to develop and enrich the aesthetic appreciation of the students.

THE LIBRARY

The Library of the College contains about 150,000 volumes. It receives regularly 919 periodicals. Members of the faculty and students are allowed to go freely to the stack room and consult books. It is open every day from 7:45 a. m. until 11:00 p. m., except from 6:00 p. m. to 7:00 p. m. On Sundays, it is open from 2:00 p. m. until 11:00 p. m., except from 6:00 p. m. to 7:00 p. m.

The principles of the Honor System are to be observed in the Library. The stealing of books from the Library is considered an offence similar to the theft of other property on the campus. Lying or any form of deceit in regard to the use of the reserved books or to the borrowing of books is considered an infraction of the Honor System and will be reported to the Honor Councils.

In order that the Library may serve the College properly, there are certain rules which must be enforced. Among the most important of the rules are:

1. There is a well established principle of good conduct and courtesy, that no one should appear conspicuous in a public place. This principle should be observed in the College Library. A student in the Library rooms, therefore, should forbear unnecessary and loud talking, in order that he may not attract attention and disturb others.

2. All books borrowed from the Library must be charged at the circulation desk.
3. A book may be kept out for two weeks, subject to a fine of two cents per day for every day over that time, if the book has not been renewed. If necessary, a book may be recalled by the librarian at any time.

4. Books which are on reserve may be borrowed from the Library at 9:30 p. m., to be returned by 9:15 a. m. the next morning. A fine of twenty-five cents for each book will be charged if it is not returned on time and an additional charge of five cents per day for every day over that time.

5. Books in the reference department must not be taken out of the building at any time.

6. Current numbers of periodicals may be borrowed from the Library between 9 p. m. and 10 p. m. to be returned by 9:15 a. m. the following morning. A fine of 50c will be charged on each periodical which is returned after 9:15 a. m. and 10c per hour for each additional hour until it is returned to the periodical desk. Not more than 3 periodicals or 3 issues of a single periodical may be borrowed by one person over night.

INTER-COLLEGIATE DEBATE

Inter-collegiate debate activities are sponsored by the Men's and Women's Debate Councils. Several varsity trips are made each year, and campus debates are held frequently. Varsity teams met debaters from forty colleges and universities during the 1939-40 season. At the final debate of the year, between members of the two councils, a silver cup is awarded the best individual debater.

New members are selected after try-outs, held in the fall of each year. Officers of the councils for 1940-41 are:

FINE ARTS EVENTS PROGRAM

The Department of Fine Arts produces during the college year four plays. The first of these, "You Can't Take It With You," by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufmann, will be presented on October 24th and 25th in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall, and will be followed on November 24th and 25th by "Night Must Fall." The other two plays will be selected from a list including "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," "Macbeth," "Life With Father," and "Bury the Dead." Season tickets to the events are sold in book form at $2.50 for reserved seats and $1.75 for general admission. The books are on sale at the Information Desk in Marshall-Wythe Hall.

The Department also brings to the College each year a series of exhibits of architecture, painting, sculpture, and theatre and industrial arts. These exhibits, open to the public, are shown in the foyer of Phi Beta Kappa Hall. The final exhibit each year is devoted to the work of students in the drawing, painting, sculpture, architecture, and theatre classes.

MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS

The Music Division of the Department of Fine Arts offers to students many opportunities to sing or play in choral or instrumental organizations.

The College Choir, open to men and women students, sings at the weekly chapel services and at many functions, such as convocations, throughout the year. The Men's Glee Club and Women's Glee Club offer additional opportunities for active participation in choral music.

The William and Mary Symphonic Band is open to all students who play wind instruments. It goes on a three-day concert tour in the early spring. The marching band of men students plays for football games and pep rallies. A Dance Band supplies music for the College dances.

The Concert Orchestra includes both string and wind instruments, and presents programs of music during the course of the year, frequently in conjunction with the choral organizations or other activities.

Every year the Y. W. C. A., in co-operation with the Women's Student Government, organizes a group of "Big Sisters," who feel that this endows them with a special kind of friendly ownership and interest in their "Little Sisters" of the freshman class.

It is the special duty of the Big Sister to help her Little Sister become adjusted to college life.

Meetings

Alternate Thursday nights are set for meetings of the Y. W. C. A. Lectures, entertainments, vespers, or discussion groups will be held.

The Y. W. C. A. works in close cooperation with the Red Cross, and similar organizations in the City of Williamsburg. The "Y" acts as the campus representative for these groups.

The Department of Physical Education has three divisions:

Required Physical Education
Intramural Athletics
Inter-collegiate Athletics

The physical education program is organized and conducted for the purpose of giving every student a thorough course in physical training under medical supervision and skilled instruction. An elective sports program is taught in the required courses. Participation in various forms of competitive athletics is vigorously promoted through a large variety of intramural and inter-collegiate contests.

A thorough medical and physical examination is made of each student upon entering college. On the basis of this examination, the student is given advice and direction as to his physical activities during his college career. In order to provide every safeguard to the health of the students, the department provides a trainer and team physician for the various sports.

All freshmen and sophomores are required to take physical education. Classes meet twice a week for two hours each. A credit of four hours is required in physical education for graduation. To meet the requirement the department offers a variety of courses comprising individual programs for special cases, group gymnastics, elementary boxing, wrestling, swim-mimg, life saving, basketball, golf, tennis, canoeing, archery, fencing, horseback riding, touch football, apparatus work, tumbling, and participation in group games and competitive athletics.

An extensive intramural program is carried on throughout the year. Provision is made for the organization and instruction of intramural teams in the sports taught in the required physical education courses. Regardless of his lack of experience in sports, every student is given an opportunity to be on an intramural team. Specialization is discouraged by barring from competition in any sport a student who is, or has been, a member of a freshman or varsity team in that sport.

The program of intercollegiate athletics includes the following sports: baseball, basketball, cross country, fencing, football, golf, swimming, tennis and track.

The awards open to all are the Intramural Emblem, Point Monogram, and Stars.

A limited number of intercollegiate games are scheduled in hockey, basketball, tennis, swimming, lacrosse, and fencing. Successful competitors receive varsity monograms.

FOR purposes of inspection and regulation all fraternity houses are classified by the Board of Visitors as dormitories and are subject to all dormitory rules and regulations concerning general conduct.

Inspection

College authorities at all times have the right of access to fraternity houses for purposes of inspection and administration.

Residence

A Freshman may not room in a fraternity house during his or her first year at college or before initiation, provided, however, that special permission to assume residence in a fraternity house may be granted at the beginning of the second semester when the Freshman and the fraternity agree upon initiation within fifteen days after the beginning of the second semester. (This exception will be granted only with regard to rooming privileges and does not excuse the student from boarding in the College Refectory.)

A transfer student who is not a member of a fraternity upon entering the College of William and Mary must conform to the residence requirements which apply to Freshmen. A transfer student who is a member of a fraternity upon entrance must meet all requirements for initiation before permission to live in a fraternity house will be granted.

No person who is not a bona fide student of the College will be permitted to live in a fraternity house.

No student may move from a dormitory to a fraternity house after registration begins except that a student whose duties require residence in the Practice House or a dormitory (Student Officers) may return to the fraternity house upon termination of the office or completion of the duties.
Initiation

To be eligible for initiation a student must have passed ten academic hours in the preceding semester. No student may be initiated by a fraternity except upon the presentation of a statement from the Registrar to the effect that the academic requirement has been met.

Fiscal Management

All fraternities are required to submit statements of income and expenses, together with statements of operating costs and accounts receivable and payable at such times and upon such occasions as the College may require.
THE present extensive system of collegiate social fraternities had its inception at the College of William and Mary with the founding of Phi Beta Kappa on December 5, 1776. Phi Beta Kappa was established as a secret organization and so remained until 1831 when the Chapter at Harvard University was, as a result of vigorous assault on antidemocratic organizations by the leaders of the Anti-Mason political party, forced to divulge its secrets. Since that time the Phi Beta Kappa has been a purely honorary fraternity, membership in which constitutes the highest honor which can be achieved by a college student.

The first social fraternity, in the modern sense of the term, to be established at the College of William and Mary was Theta Delta Chi, which placed its Epsilon Charge here in 1853. Sigma Alpha Epsilon followed in 1857, and a few years later, 1871, Pi Kappa Alpha received permission to establish a chapter. These three remained the only fraternities at the College until 1890, when chapters were established by Kappa Alpha and Kappa Sigma. Sigma Phi Epsilon, which had been founded at Richmond College a few years before, entered the fraternity field at William and Mary in 1904.

The limited number of students at the College rendered unnecessary further fraternity expansion until about 1919. In that year the College began a period of rapid growth and the greatly increased enrollment led to the establishment of a number of new fraternities on the campus. Most of these organizations were started as local clubs but all have now been absorbed by national fraternities. From 1922 to 1931, the following national fraternities established chapters at William and Mary: Sigma Nu in 1922, Phi Kappa Tau in 1926, Lambda Chi Alpha and Phi Alpha in 1927, Pi Lambda Phi in 1929, Alpha Phi Delta in 1930 and Sigma Pi in 1931. Sigma Rho, a local fraternity, was established in 1937.

The Fraternity Association, composed of the presidents of the various fraternity chapters, acts as a governing body and in this capacity draws up regulations for the conduct of the individual chapters, prescribes rules for rushing and in general promotes wholesome interfraternity relations.

PANHELLENIC RUSHING RULES
FOR 1940

The Panhellenic Council approves the following system of rushing and bidding. The rules are here printed in order that Freshmen and other new students may know them and cooperate with the Council in upholding them.

There is to be no sorority talk by any sorority member. Information about each sorority will be found in the Indian Handbook, and in short histories of each sorority, which will be available at the respective houses when open rushing begins. Such talk accordingly will not be necessary. Dr. Helen Weeks, the Panhellenic faculty adviser, will give a short talk to the new students during the first week of the session to explain the sorority system on this campus and the rushing rules. She will also answer any necessary questions which the freshmen may wish to ask. Following the preferential rushing period, open rushing will prevail throughout the college year.

On Monday, September 23, any one sorority girl accompanied by any one of another sorority between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. may visit once any friends in the dormitories for not more than half an hour per visit. "Little sisters" (in Y. W. C. A.) may be visited at any time for a period of one half hour per visit by the "Big Sister" alone.
The following rules have been adopted by the Council:

1. There shall be no sorority talk during the period by any sorority member, patroness, or alumna. "Sewing up" at any time before the end of rush- ing is sorority talk. Scrapbooks and publications may be used without comment from the members in the sorority houses. Songs may be sung. During dormitory rushing notepaper with sorority identification may be used.

2. Rushing shall be confined to the William and Mary campus, and the first block of Duke of Gloucester Street. There shall be no driving of rushees in cars except of rushees not living in dormitories. These girls may be brought to and from dates at the sorority houses.

3. No money shall be spent beyond the sum of forty-five dollars, which the Council has fixed as the maximum. This does not include the notepaper used during the dormitory rushing, the cigarettes or the invitation cards to the houses from September 30-October 3. All other rushing expenses must come out of this sum, and the expense accounts of each sorority shall be read before the Council.

4. Girls may be offered cigarettes during dormitory rushing.

5. There shall be no outside entertainment at either of the rushing parties or at the open house, and no men may attend either party or the open house or be in evidence during any time when rushing is going on in the houses. No sorority may request men to rush for them.

6. In conjunction with the Freshman Orientation program each fraternity house shall be open to all freshmen on Sunday, September 22. The purpose of this invitation is to create a better feeling of understanding and democracy. No refreshments or entertainment may be provided.
