The Right Honourable Norborne Berkeley, Baron de Botetourt, His Majestie's Late Lieutenant and Governor General of the Colony and Dominion of Virginia
Statue of Lord Botetourt

The statue of Norborne Berkeley, Baron de Botetourt, has looked down upon successive generations of William and Mary students since 1801. It is the center of tradition and reverence, connecting the present College with its colonial past. Before it, each freshman doffs his cap and to it each freshman woman curtsies. Hallowed by tradition and revered for its long association with William and Mary, it possesses incalculable value and is honored as a symbol of a great College.

VIRGINIANS, who heartily welcomed the arrival of their new Governor, Norborne Berkeley, Baron de Botetourt, in October, 1768, were soon to express their opposition to British infringements of their rights. Lord Botetourt, learning of the resolutions adopted by the House of Burgesses, dissolved that body. However, as John Page, Jr., wrote in May, 1769, that act did not lessen Lord Boutetourt "in their Esteem, for they suppose he was obliged to do so; he is universally esteemed here, for his great Assiduity in his Office, Condescension, good Nature & true Politeness." Governor Botetourt's death, on October 15, 1770, at the age of fifty-two, was deeply lamented throughout Virginia. At his own request, his body was buried below the College Chapel. During his residence of two years in the colony, Lord Botetourt had served as a member of the Board of Visitors of William and Mary. His interest in the College was attested by a gift which enabled the faculty to present two gold medals a year for four years as awards to students for excellence in the classics and in natural philosophy and mathematics. Thus William and Mary became the first college within the bounds of the United States to offer collegiate prizes for scholarship.
With the approval of the whole colony, in 1771, the General Assembly unanimously resolved that a marble statue, "executed by the best Statuary in England," be erected "to the Memory of our late Worthy Governor Lord Botetourt." John Norton of London, who was commissioned to have the statue carved, was extremely assiduous that the work was done "in a handsome and elegant manner." He wrote to Virginia with satisfaction upon securing the services of the sculptor, Richard Hayward, and the advice of Isaac Gosset. Hayward "luckily hit on a Block of fine Marble," and the statue, which "met with the highest Commendations in England," was shipped to the colony in the spring of 1773 by one of Hayward's masons who came over to erect it in the Capitol at Williamsburg. Virginians "universally admired" the statue which cost them around £1000. Some time during the Revolution, when hatred of England was highest, the head and one arm were knocked off and the statue was otherwise disfigured. In 1801, the President and Professors of William and Mary purchased the statue for $100, had it dexterously repaired, and placed it "in the center of the College walk, facing the town." There it has since remained, except for a while during the War Between the States, when it was removed to the grounds of the Eastern State Hospital for safe keeping. "It probably is the oldest extant piece of portrait statuary in America."
FEW YEARS after the founding of Jamestown and before the Pilgrim Fathers came to America, a movement was started in Virginia to establish a college, and its construction actually was begun at a settlement called Henrico, near the present City of Richmond. The Indian massacre of 1622, together with the dissolution of the Virginia Company of London in 1624, disrupted these plans, but the idea persisted. In 1660-61 the Grand Assembly of Virginia provided for the establishment of a “Colledge,” but it was not until 1693 that the College of William and Mary in Virginia was chartered by the joint sovereigns whose names it bears. In the meantime, Harvard College was established; the College of William and Mary thus became the second oldest American college in actual operation. The Bishop of London was named its first chancellor and the Reverend James Blair became the first president, occupying this office until his death fifty years later. In 1695, while Jamestown was still the capital of Virginia, construction of the new college was begun at the Middle Plantation, located approximately midway between the James and York rivers. In 1699, the Middle Plantation became Williamsburg and the capital of Virginia.

Holding a royal charter, with arms granted by the College of Heralds, the College of William and Mary enjoyed the benefits of royal favor and until the American Revolution was perhaps the wealthiest college in America. While the charter provided for a president and six masters or professors, it was not until 1729 that all these professorships were established. The chairs were: Divinity, Philosophy, Oriental Languages, Mathematics, the Grammar School, and the Indian School. The Indian School was endowed from a large estate which The Honorable Robert Boyle, the great English physicist and the discoverer of “Boyle’s Law,” left for “pious and religious uses” and was housed in the Brafferton, named for a manor in Yorkshire from which its revenues were derived. It languished, however, and failed to survive the Revolution.
When America resisted the policies of the British Crown, William and Mary, although wealthy and under royal patronage, chose to risk the loss of material substance for principle. It furnished to the Revolutionary and early Republican periods many of the great leaders. Among the foremost of these were: Richard Bland, John Tyler, Sr., Benjamin Harrison, George Wythe, Peyton Randolph, Thomas Jefferson, Dabney Carr, John Taylor of Caroline, James Monroe, Spencer Roane, John Marshall, John Blair, and Bushrod Washington. While George Washington never attended William and Mary, he received his surveyor’s commission from the College and served as its chancellor from 1789 until his death. So intimately associated is the name of William and Mary with the names of famous Americans that its history forms an important part of the history of the nation. Among the distinguished William and Mary names in the years subsequent to the great flowering of the eighteenth century are those of another President of the United States, John Tyler; John Randolph of Roanoke; Philip Pendleton Barbour; William T. Barry; Alexander H. H. Stuart; William Cabell Rives; John J. Crittenden, author of the Crittenden Compromise; Lieutenant General Winfield Scott, hero of the Mexican War and Commander of the Army of the United States in 1861; Edmund Ruffin, famous Southern agriculturist who is credited with firing the first shot at Fort Sumter; James M. Mason of “Mason and Slidell!” fame; William B. Taliaferro, Major General, C.S.A.; William Barton Rogers, founder of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology; James Branch Cabell; and Admiral Cary T. Grayson. The roll of fame of William and Mary includes the first president and fifteen members of the Continental Congress, four signers of the Declaration of Independence, three presidents of the United States, one Chief Justice and three Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, thirteen Cabinet members, twenty-nine Senators, three Speakers and fifty-five members of the House of Representatives, eighteen Foreign Ministers, one Lieutenant General, twenty-one Governors of Virginia, twenty-two judges of the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals, besides many others distiquished in civil and military life, in letters, science, education, and the church.

On the fifth of December, 1776, a group of William and Mary students founded the Phi Beta Kappa Society, the first Greek letter fraternity in America, now recognized and honored throughout the world. Three years later there was instituted at the College the Honor System, that important, revered, and enduring contribution to Southern academic life. Always a liberal arts college, William and Mary, however, refused to be slavishly traditional. The sharpest break with academic tradition came in 1779 when Thomas Jefferson, then Governor of Virginia, also was a member of the Board of Visitors of the College. As the result of his influence the Grammar School and the professorships of Divinity and Oriental Languages were abolished and in their places were substituted a professorship of Law and Police (the latter word meaning Government), one of Anatomy, Medicine, and Chemistry, and one of Modern Languages. In 1781, during the memorable Yorktown campaign, the academic life of the College was interrupted temporarily and the buildings were occupied in turn by the army of Cornwallis and by the American and French allies. The President's House, built in 1732 and occupied by every president of the College, accidentally was partly burned by the French troops. It was restored by Louis XVI, who also presented a number of books to the College Library. Only two have survived.

The close of the Revolution found William and Mary impoverished by the loss of royal grants and revenues. Under the able administration of Bishop James Madison, cousin to President James Madison, the College recovered rapidly and during the presidency of Thomas Roderick Dew (1836-46) reached its peak enrollment until comparatively recent times. In 1855 Benjamin Stoddert Ewell became president. With the advent of war in 1861, the College closed, the President, faculty, and student body entered the Confederate service. Again the academic halls echoed to the tramp of soldiers, the College buildings being occupied successively by both the Union and Confederate armies. In 1862 the Sir Christopher Wren
The building was burned by Union troops acting without orders. With the return of peace in 1865 the College was reopened by President Ewell who, as Colonel C.S.A., had served as Adjutant General to General Joseph E. Johnston. With resources gone, students and faculty scattered, the main building with the library burned, the College was a monument to the desolation of war. Heroically, Ewell fought an apparently losing fight, and, although its buildings were rehabilitated and over 40 students were in attendance one session, the College was forced to suspend operations in 1881 for lack of revenue. Each year for seven years when the time for the opening of the session arrived, Ewell rang the College bell, keeping the charter alive and giving notice to the world that William and Mary was open, even though only a handful of volunteer students remained for gratuitous instruction.

In 1888 with state aid the College reopened under the presidency of Lyon G. Tyler, son of President John Tyler. In 1906 it became a state institution and in 1918 became co-educational. Julian Alvin Carroll Chandler, an alumnus, succeeded Tyler in 1919. Starting with comparatively few buildings, none in too excellent repair, with a faculty of approximately 20, and a student body of about 130, Chandler, during his amazing administration of fifteen years, rebuilt the College to its present size of approximately 1,300 students and 100 faculty, with old buildings restored and new buildings erected. He died in 1934 sacrificing his health and life for William and Mary. The administration of John Stewart Bryan, who followed, has been marked by a continued physical improvement of the College, with a cultural rebirth, and an academic advancement not unlike that which took place in 1779. Through three fires, two wars, and economic chaos, William and Mary has survived and today in the unique setting of Williamsburg, with the cultural heritage of the past, and an academic vision for the future, it serves Virginia and the nation as it originally served Virginia and the Crown.
Priorities of William and Mary

The first American college to receive a charter from the crown; this was dated 1693, under seal of the Privy Council.

The first and only American college to be granted a coat of arms from the Herald's College, 1694.

The first American college to have a full faculty of president, six professors, writing master, and usher.

The first medals awarded in America as collegiate prizes were those donated by Lord Botetourt, 1771.

The first Greek letter fraternity was founded at William and Mary on December 5, 1776. This fraternity, the Phi Beta Kappa, is the great honor society of the foremost institutions of learning in America.

The first honor system.

The first elective system of studies, 1779.

The first schools of Modern Languages and of Law were established in 1779, under the influence of Jefferson.

The first college to teach Political Economy was William and Mary in 1784.

The first school of History was founded here in 1803.
The Honor System at the College of William and Mary

Among her many priorities, William and Mary justly claims that of leading the way in the formulation and adoption of the Honor System. It was inaugurated here in 1779. Early in college days when no other idea of college government prevailed throughout America than that the student should be watched like a suspected criminal for offenses, either actual or potential, the faculty of William and Mary appointed a committee, whose head was the distinguished jurist, Beverly Tucker, to draw up a statement of the spirit and content of an honor system by which the conduct of the students of the college was to be guided. At once put into operation, this system has been in continuous existence since its establishment.

But glorious and inspiring as is the historical origin of the Honor System, it is with its operation now and in the future that the men and women of the new day at the old college are primarily concerned. In the first place, it is of vital importance that every new student enrolling in September, should clearly understand what the Honor System really is and what it means in his life and in the corporate life of the College. Ignorance of it may bring the possibility—even the probability of breaking it, and at once there follows a well nigh irreparable injury to the character, the reputation, and the future of the individual student and an equally grave lowering of the morale of the student body, for this must always suffer by the disgrace of any of its members. It is in this spirit that the present serious attempt is made to set forth, especially for the benefit of the students, just what the Honor System is and what is required of each in order to translate it into his life.

The Honor System may be defined in a word as individual responsibility. It brings home to the individual man or woman who would stay at the college and share in the advantages she offers, his personal responsibility for her fair name and honor. It emphasizes two things: first, that the student must recognize that he is answerable in the very fullest degree for every one of his actions and dealings with the members of the faculty and with his fellows, in his or their rooms, in the dining halls, the athletic fields, the social centers, and the class rooms; and, second, that he must recognize his personal responsibility for the well-being of the college in every phase of life in which he touches her existence.

Such phases, in the large, will at once suggest themselves to every one. They include, primarily, everything which touches the securing of aid, assistance, or profit in scholastic work of whatsoever kind, whether in term class work, periodical tests, or in the work handed in to the instructor.

Stealing, cheating, lying, and failure to report an offense are breaches of honor upon which a student may be placed on trial by his fellow students, to determine whether or not he is fit to continue as a member of the College.

As applied to scholastic work the following interpretation of the Honor System is set forth by the Student Honor Councils:

All scholastic work, whether it be in the lecture room, the library, the student's room, or elsewhere, is under the Honor System. Giving aid to any student or receiving aid from any student, without the consent of the instructor, in tests, assignments, or examinations, is cheating.

The Honor System is supported and administered by the students themselves and they are wholly responsible for it. Violations of the Honor Code are reported, not to the Faculty, but to the Student Honor Councils.
The discipline of the College is vested in the President by action of the Board of Visitors. Cases involving minor infractions of discipline are handled by the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women respectively. The President may in cases which are referred to him seek the advice of a discipline committee, which represents both the faculty and the administration.

The Honor System as established at William and Mary assumes that every student is trustworthy and will not do a dishonest or dishonorable act or violate his pledged word. In compliance with this established practice each student is required to sign the following pledge on written work: "I hereby declare upon my word of honor that I have neither given nor received help on this test (examination or assignment)."

The young men and the young women, through their student councils, immediately take cognizance of any violation of the Honor System, and any student found guilty of violating the accepted code is regarded as unfit to remain as a member of the college community.

The respective student councils also take cognizance of any matters which, in their judgment, are injurious to the well-being of the College. So understandingly is the Honor System enforced by the students that there is rarely any appeal from their decision.

When non-resident students are permitted to withdraw, or are dropped from the roll, or are suspended, they must forthwith leave Williamsburg and the vicinity. Until this requirement has been fulfilled, they remain subject to the authority of the institution and may be expelled.

Hazing or the subjection of a student to any form of humiliating treatment is forbidden. The fundamental test for disciplinary action by the college authorities is whether the behavior complained of tends to throw discredit on the name of the College of William and Mary, or to manifest ungentlemanly conduct on the part of the students. The College believes it essential to draw a clear line between use and misuse of intoxicating liquors. Therefore, the College regards any evidence of the misuse of alcohol as a serious breach of accepted standards of deportment, and such abuse may be punished by loss of social privileges, probation or separation.

By regulation of the Board of Visitors, students are not allowed to have automobiles, except by special permission which is to be secured from the President.

Registration as a student at the College of William and Mary implies that the student will familiarize himself with the rules and regulations governing the conduct of students, and that he will abide by such regulations so long as he remains a student at the College.

V. All Freshman rules will continue until Christmas vacation, but, if William and Mary beats Richmond in football, the rules will be suspended at once.

Any violation of the above rules is subject to the action of the Tribunal.
The Library

The Library of the College contains about 200,000 volumes. It receives regularly 1,300 periodicals. Members of the faculty and students are allowed to go freely to the stack room and consult books. It is open every day from 7:45 a.m. until 11:00 p.m., except from 6:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. On Sundays, it is open from 2:00 p.m. until 11:00 p.m., except from 6:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.

The principles of the Honor System are to be observed in the Library. The stealing of books from the Library is considered an offence similar to the theft of other property on the campus. Lying or any form of deceit in regard to the use of the reserved books or to the borrowing of books is considered an infraction of the Honor System and will be reported to the Honor Councils.

In order that the Library may serve the College properly, there are certain rules which must be enforced. Among the most important of the rules are:

1. There is a well established principle of good conduct and courtesy, that no one should appear conspicuous in a public place. This principle should be observed in the College Library. A student in the Library rooms, therefore, should forbear unnecessary and loud talking, in order that he may not attract attention and disturb others.

2. All books borrowed from the Library must be charged at the circulation desk.

3. A book may be kept out for two weeks, subject to a fine of two cents per day for every day over that time, if the book has not been renewed. If necessary, a book may be recalled by the librarian at any time.

4. Books which are on reserve may be borrowed from the Library at 9:30 p.m., to be returned by 9:15 a.m. the next morning. A fine of twenty-five cents for each book will be charged if it is not returned on time and an additional charge of five cents per hour until it is returned.
5. Books in the reference department must not be taken out of the building at any time.

6. Current numbers of periodicals may be borrowed from the Library between 9 p. m. and 10 p. m. to be returned by 9:15 a. m. the following morning. A fine of 50c will be charged on each periodical which is returned after 9:15 a. m. and 10c per hour for each additional hour until it is returned to the periodical desk. Not more than 3 periodicals or 3 issues of a single periodical may be borrowed by one person over night.

MATOAKA PARK, BOAT HOUSE, PLAYERS’ DELL

The campus of the College of William and Mary extends westward into Matoaka Park, a wooded area of approximately 1,200 acres, lying between the Jamestown and the Richmond Roads. In the midst of this park is Lake Matoaka extending from Jamestown Road northward into five branches, which cover a large area of the park.

A boathouse and canoes have been provided on the lake for the use of students. Students are permitted to use canoes in the fall and spring under the supervision of the Director of Intra-Mural Athletics after having passed a canoe test.

The eastern portion of the park, which joins the campus, is well interspersed with foot-trails and bridle-paths. The natural features of this area have been preserved. Native flora and wild life are abundant.
In the center of this park is Players' Dell, in which have been provided a stage with natural setting and adequate seating facilities to accommodate large audiences. It affords an excellent opportunity for outdoor concerts, plays, masques, and pageants. Players' Dell is well suited to develop and enrich the aesthetic appreciation of the students.

Songs and Cheers

ALMA MATER

Hark, the students' voices swelling,
  Strong and true and clear,
Alma Mater's love are telling
  Ringing far and near.

CHORUS

William and Mary, loved of old,
  Hark, upon the gale
Hear the thunder of our chorus,
  Alma Mater—hail!

All thy sons are faithful to thee
  Through their college days,
Singing loud from hearts that love thee
  Alma Mater's praise.

Iron shod or golden sandaled
  Shall the years go by;
Still our hearts shall weave about thee
  Love that cannot die.

God, our Father, hear our voices,
  Listen to our cry,
Bless the college of our fathers,
  Let her never die!

J. S. Wilson, '02.
WILLIAM AND MARY HYMN

Beneath thy trees, within thy halls,
We come, dear school, with praise for thee,
To pledge ourselves, whate’er befalls—
To pledge unfailing loyalty.
Our hearts are with thee, dear William and Mary,
However far we stray.
Our noble college, hear us now—
Thy children sing to thee today!

Dear school, thou’rt old in years and fame,
And richly old in honors, too.
Time shall not dull the shining name
Whose gleam our songs will e’er renew.
And as years go by, dear William and Mary,
Thy fame will never cease,
But each new year rejoice to see
Thy children’s praise to thee increase.

We honor thee, not for our gain
But to make known thy majesty,
Thy truth and courage that remain
However harsh the fates may be.
As through troublous years, dear William and Mary,
Our country fought, so thou hast fought and won,
And lived to hear thy children singing to thee now.

O thou, our guardian and our guide,
Renew our courage every hour,
And keep thy spirit by our side
To aid us with its watchful power.
Throughout all our lives, dear William and Mary,
We pledge our loyalty.
Dear college, now and evermore thy children cry
“All Hail to Thee!”

The song below was the prize-winning selection in a contest sponsored during the spring of 1941 by the General Cooperative Committee. The Committee hopes that this song will be used interchangeably with "Alma Mater," and, if it proves popular, that it will be adopted as the official Alma Mater.

Alma Mater, William and Mary,
Hear while we sound thy praise as of old.
Ancient College, William and Mary,
Thy love sustains and will e'er enfold.

Chorus:
Through ages past did thy children hail thee
And through their deeds have honored thy name,
So in the future thy banners raise thee
Till all the nations shall tell of thy fame.

Alma Mater, William and Mary,
Freely we offer our loyalty
Ancient College, William and Mary,
Naught will excell our love for thee.

Music: Mildred Lyons, '44.
       John Henry Prinzivalli, '41.
Words: Margaret Ann French, '41.

FIGHT, FIGHT, FIGHT FOR THE INDIANS

Oh, we will fight, fight, fight for the Indians,
When the Indian Team appears;
We will pull like Hell for the Indians
When they hear our mighty cheers.
       Wah-Hoo-Wah!
We will circle the ends for the Indians,
And we'll romp right down the field—
Touchdown! Touchdown! Indians!
And ----------------- line will surely yield.

Watch us start out with a win

Scalp 'em, swamp 'em
Bring home wampum

Sing a song to our fighting men,
A song of victory.
Sing along while they win again
For William and Mary.
The brave of the bravest, fleet and strong,
They're going to win, it won't take long, so
Sing a song and our praise renew
To our fighting men and Wa-Hoo

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

All students are required to take physical education.

The physical education program is organized and conducted to give every student skilled instruction in a number of activities. The policy of the Department is to allow students the opportunity to select activities. All students must successfully complete a minimum of six activity courses, two each semester, for a total of four semesters. Each activity is of eight weeks' duration. Special emphasis is placed on golf, swimming, and tennis, and students may take advanced work in these activities. Instruction is provided in the following activity courses: apparatus, badminton, basketball, boxing, dancing, fencing, touch football, golf, handball, individual activities, riding, softball, swimming, tennis, track and field, tumbling, volleyball, and wrestling.
Intramural Sports

Provision is made for participation in the following intramural sports: badminton, horseshoes, touch football, tennis, track and field athletics, boxing, wrestling, and swimming. Because of the body building, social, and character-forming values of competitive sport, every encouragement is made to have students enter into one or more forms of intramural athletics. Schedules are arranged for dormitory, fraternity, and independent competition.

Intercollegiate Athletics

The general supervision of athletics for men has been delegated by the President to an Athletic Committee. Cooperating with the President and Faculty Committee is an Alumni Athletic Council, which, together with the Faculty Committee, constitutes the General Athletic Council.

The College is a member of the Southern Conference, and the Faculty Committee chairman is charged with administration of the Southern Conference rules on eligibility.

A competent staff of coaches, all of whom have academic rank in the College, who are appointed for the full academic year, provide instruction in the following intercollegiate sports: baseball, basketball, cross country, fencing, football, golf, swimming, tennis and track and field athletics.

Intercollegiate athletics are provided freshmen in the following sports: baseball, basketball, football, swimming, and track and field athletics.

FACILITIES

The George Preston Blow Gymnasium was built in 1924. In this gymnasium are two basketball courts, swimming pool, three handball courts, volley ball court, showers, lockers, trophy room and athletic administrative offices and social room.

Cary Field Park, named in honor of T. Archibald Cary, provides the following facilities: tennis courts for men and women, hockey field for women, archery range for women, baseball field for men, stadium for football and track and field athletics, with a seating capacity of 9,000, practice fields for varsity and freshman football, and space for softball and intramural games.

Fraternities and Sororities

THE present extensive system of collegiate social fraternities had its inception at the College of William and Mary with the founding of Phi Beta Kappa on December 5, 1776. Phi Beta Kappa was established as a secret organization and so remained until 1831 when the Chapter at Harvard University, as a result of vigorous assault on anti-democratic organizations by the leaders of the Anti-Mason political party, was forced to divulge its secrets. Since that time the Phi Beta Kappa has been a purely honorary fraternity, membership in which constitutes the highest honor which can be achieved by a college student.

The first social fraternity, in the modern sense of the term, to be established at the College of William and Mary was Theta Delta Chi, which placed its Epsilon Charge here in 1853. Sigma Alpha Epsilon followed in 1857, and a few years later, 1871, Pi Kappa Alpha received permission to establish a chapter. These three remained the only fraternities at the College until 1890, when chapters were established by Kappa Alpha and Kappa Sigma. Sigma Phi Epsilon, which had been founded at Richmond College a few years before, entered the fraternity field at William and Mary in 1904.

The limited number of students at the College rendered unnecessary further fraternity expansion until about 1919. In that year the College began a period of rapid growth and the greatly increased enrollment led to the establishment of a number of new fraternities on the campus. Most of these organizations were started as local clubs but all have now been absorbed by national fraternities. From 1922 to 1931, the following national fraternities established chapters at William and Mary: Sigma Nu in 1922, Phi Kappa Tau in 1926, Lambda Chi Alpha and Phi Alpha in 1927, Pi Lambda Phi in 1929, Alpha Phi Delta in 1930 and Sigma Pi in 1931. Sigma Rho, a local fraternity, was established in 1937.

The Fraternity Association, composed of the presidents of the various fraternity chapters, acts as a governing body and in this capacity draws up regulations for the conduct of the individual chapters, prescribes rules for rushing and in general promotes wholesome interfraternity relations.

With the extensive development during the latter half of the nineteenth century of the various types of men's fraternities similar organizations for women began to appear.

In 1867, at Monmouth College, I. C. Sorosis, later known as Pi Beta Phi, was founded, with an organization closely following the fraternity pattern. Three years later Kappa Alpha Theta and Kappa Kappa Gamma were established at Indiana Asbury University, now De Pauw, and Monmouth, respectively.

In the years immediately following similar groups were organized and sororities gradually became national in scope.

The great increase in the number of coeducational institutions served as an impetus to sorority creation and expansion, and today these organized social groups play a vital role in many phases of campus life and activity.

At the College of William and Mary, Chi Omega became the pioneer in the sorority field when it established its Omicron Beta Chapter in 1921. In the ensuing twelve years eight national sororities granted charters to petitioning groups.

The Pan-Hellenic Council, which is composed of representatives from the several sororities, annually prepares a code of rushing regulations and meets periodically throughout the year to consider matters concerning sorority interests.

PANHELLENIC RUSHING RULES
FOR 1942-43

Because of a change in the rushing system at William and Mary, the Pan-Hellenic Council, through the cooperation of the nine sororities and the faculty, has drawn up the following set of rules for deferred rushing, which will begin November 18, 1942. In view of the fact that this is the first trial of deferred rushing on this campus, it is hoped that with the cooperation of the new and old women students, these temporary rules will become permanent.

To answer any questions concerning the new rules the Pan-Hellenic Council will meet with the Freshman Orientation groups in September and again in a mass meeting with the new students just preceding rush week in November.

Information about each sorority will be found in the Indian Handbook, and in short histories of each sorority, which will be available at the respective houses when open rushing begins. Prior to this time answers to questions can be found in the Pan-Hellenic Room in the Wren Building.

The following rules have been adopted by the Council:

A. Free Association:

1. There shall be free association with freshmen and transfers and sorority women until closed rushing begins, including orientation week, provided at least two sororities are represented at all times. Exceptions to this rule:
   a. Dating. There need not be two sororities represented on dates. No dates shall be arranged on or off campus, by sorority women for freshmen or transfers, or by freshmen and transfers for sorority women.
   b. In the event a sorority woman rooms with a freshman or transfer, association shall be according to their discretion.
   c. In walking to destinations on campus two sororities need not necessarily be represented.

2. Absolutely no money will be spent on freshmen or transfers or gifts sent to them by sorority women or, to sorority women from freshmen and transfers.

3. Town women will be under the same rules as freshmen and transfers.

B. Restrictions:

1. There is to be no sorority talk by any sorority member. Information about each sorority will be found in the Indian Handbook, and in short histories of each sorority which will be available at the respective houses when formal rushing begins.

2. Alumnae shall be under the same restrictions as undergraduate sorority women in all cases.

3. New women are not allowed in sorority houses until formal rushing begins, with the exception of open house on Sunday, September 20.

4. Overnight visiting: There shall be no overnight visiting between freshmen or transfers, and sorority women at any time. No engagements shall be arranged at any time between freshmen or transfers and sorority women outside of Williamsburg.

5. "Big Sisters" (Y. W. C. A.) if sorority members, shall visit their little sisters only when accompanied by a member of another sorority, starting the Monday of classes.

C. Pledging and Repledging:

1. There shall be no pledging or bidding of any student, freshman, transfer, or old student, during the period beginning with the last day of class of the regular session until the Pan-Hellenic pledge day terminating formal rushing in November.

2. Repledging and the initiation of a woman may take place at any time, according to the discretion of the individual sorority.

D. Open House:

In conjunction with the Freshman Orientation Program each sorority house shall be open to all freshmen on Sunday, September 20. The purpose of this is to create a better understanding and to promote a democratic spirit. No refreshments or entertainment may be provided.

E. Formal Rushing:

1. Eligibility rules: No woman shall be rushed unless she has attained an average of 1.5 or passed everything at the first mid-semester grading period she is in college, and 2.0 every grading period thereafter. Old students of the College of William and Mary must have attained a 2.00 on their most recent grading period. At all times the student must have completed the required number of hours. Upon entering the College at any time a transfer cannot be rushed until she has been in the college for at least one marking period and has at that time received a 2.0 average.

2. There shall be no association with freshmen or transfers by sorority women during the period termed "closed rushing" except during the set rushing hours.

3. There shall be no sorority talk during the period by any sorority member, patroness, or alumna. "Sewing up" at any time before the end of rushing is sorority talk. Scrapbooks and publications may be used without comment from the members in the sorority houses. Songs may be sung.

4. Rushing shall be confined to the William and Mary campus, and the first block of Duke of Gloucester Street. There shall be no driving of rushers in cars except of rushers not living in dormitories. These girls may be brought to and from dates at the sorority houses.

5. There shall be no outside entertainment at either rushing party or at the open house, and no man may attend either rushing party or the open house, nor can he be present at any time when rushing is going on in the house. No sorority member may request any man to rush for any sorority.

6. There shall be no telephone messages or conversations between freshmen or transfers and sorority women during closed rushing except concerning an invitation from a sorority.

The following program of rushing has been adopted by the Council for 1942-43. (Rushing in future years will be as soon after grades are out as is convenient.)

(a) Dormitory rushing will be held on Monday, November 16, and Tuesday, November 17, when sorority women may visit freshmen and transfers in the rooms of the freshmen and transfers from 7:00 to 9:00 on Monday, and from 4:00 to 6:00 and 7:00 to 9:00 on Tuesday.

(b) The visiting group of any one sorority shall consist of not more than four or less than two women.

(c) No sorority may be represented in the room of a rushee for more than twenty minutes. (This means two groups of the same sorority must not follow each other unless the twenty minute period has not elapsed.)

No rushing on Saturday, November 21.
(d) Rushing in the sorority houses shall begin on Wednesday, November 18. Dates for all girls shall be arranged by the Council. House rushing is by invitation only.

Wednesday, November 18—Friday Visiting 4-6, 7-9
Saturday, November 21 No rushing
Sunday, November 22 Reception 2-6
Monday, November 23 Preferentials 7-10
Tuesday, November 24 Silence Day — Bids must be returned by 7:00

Wednesday, November 25 Acceptance

7. Expenditures:

(a) The Council has fixed forty-five dollars as the maximum sum to be spent for rushing. This includes all food, favors, invitations, and any other expense incurred from the entertainment.

(b) The amount in excess of ten dollars in payment for the histories must be deducted from the forty-five dollar maximum.

(c) Note paper and cigarettes will not be deducted from the forty-five dollars.

8. (a) If a freshman or transfer cannot accept an invitation she must notify the sorority inviting her upon the receipt of the invitation. If she does not go to the house, and does not decline the invitation, she will probably be dropped by that sorority. She should decline by telephone or by note in each sorority box in Barrett and Brown.

(b) Sorority women shall wear their pins at all times.
