FOR THE PREPARATION OF TEACHERS AND HOME BUILDERS

The idea is prevalent among some not to work with the modern spirit of education and educational ideals that a classical education is insufficient for a successful teacher. This fact is due to the failure of the professional teacher.

The knowledge of the subject matter is essential, but it is not the only essential. Of equal importance is knowledge of how to properly present that subject matter. There are many excellent teachers of today who have never had the advantage of a normal school education, but their success has been due in spite of that fact and not because of it.

The educational progress which has been made in Virginia during the past ten years through the progressive policies of the State Department of Education and the liberal legislation of the General Assembly has been nothing short of marvelous. This educational awakening in the Old Dominion has amounted to a revolution. Practical evidence of this most commendable progress is visible in every section of the state. This progress has been due to a number of co-operative efforts and forces. Among these the most potent of all is the teacher herself. Today, the new order of things the professional art and equipment of the teachers of Virginia have been greatly increased. Nor is it denied that this progress should cease. It is a triumph that "as is the teacher, so is the school." However, complete the equipment the school itself will be a failure unless the teacher in charge is interested, skillful, enthusiastic, and professionally equipped for her duties of instruction and leadership.

THE STATE NORMAL OFFERS EVERY FACILITY TO ITS STUDENTS THAT IS CONducIVE TO THOROUGH TRAINING AND EQUIPMENT.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY

Mr. Hampden Wilson,
Cluster Springs Academy,
Cluster Springs, Va.

My Dear Mr. Wilson:

I wish to state in the above able record made in this college last session by James White, one of your students. He made a grade of 90% on each of the three terms of his mathematics, and did not fall lower than 85 on any one of his other subjects. His average for the session was 94.5 per cent, which would be an excellent grade for a student from any preparatory school.

Mr. J. G. Edwards, one of your old students, was handicapped when he entered here four years ago, and was somewhat slow in getting under way. However, the sum total of his work here is very satisfactory, as he succeeded in attaining both the B. A. and M. A. degrees in four sessions, with the help of some work done in the previous school.

I need only say that I hope that you will have a number of fine young men to send to us in future sessions from your excellent school.

With best wishes, I am,

Very truly yours,

J. M. PAGE, Dean.

HISTORY AND PURPOSE

The Chatham Convention, at a meeting held in Richmond in 1869, called attention to the fact that we had no church school between Norfolk and Norfolk. It was decided that the task of providing a church school for the children in this district was the responsibility of the Convention. The purpose of this school is to advance our girls according to the best modern methods along Christian lines, and in actual cost. An article in the New York Times declares that the Convention determined to establish the Chatham Episcopal Institute.

LOCATION AND HEALTH

Chatham is located immediately on the one of the great Mississippi Valley, about one mile north of the town of Chatham, and within a short distance of the Union depot. The school is situated on a level piece of ground, surrounded by beautiful scenery. The health of the children is well maintained, and the air is fresh and invigorating.

Watch the School Journals This Winter for Information Concerning the Forthcoming Child World Readers

By Sarah Witham, Principal Elementary School and Office Teacher, Winthrop Normal and Industrial Institute, Rock Hill, South Carolina

The Child World Readers are a series of graded readers that are designed to meet the needs of American schools. They are the most satisfactory readers ever published, and their phenomenal success has encouraged us to continue publishing them.

SOME years ago we were so fortunate as to secure for American schools a series of readers (Graded Classics) which, in the opinion of many eminent educators, proved to be the most satisfactory readers ever published. The phenomenal success of these readers (of which more than six million copies have already been sold) encouraged us to try again and see if it were not possible to prepare another series which would be equally (if not more) satisfactory. We have tried again and we are glad to announce that the first book of CHILD WORLD READERS (we hope you will like the title) will be ready soon and that the others will follow in rapid succession.
