Austrian Born Dr. Brandt Arrives on W-M Campus
Previously an Instructor in Vienna, Accepts Position in States In 1938

By DOT FERENBAUGH

Vienna-born Dr. Thomas O. Brandt has traveled widely since he graduated from the University of Vienna. While at the University, Dr. Brandt did work in modern languages, studying German English, French, Italian, Russian, and Philosophy. In order to take the examinations to be admitted as a candidate for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, he chose German and Psychology.

Dr. Brandt then became an instructor in one of the evening colleges of Vienna, at the same time editing a German reader. He also participated in a teaching project sponsored by the Austrian Chamber of Labor. He spoke at assemblies and did work to explain the motives of these large masses of unemployed during the depression until the annexation of Austria.

History Group Holds Meeting

Dr. John E. Pomfret attended a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Institute of American History last Friday, November 2, in New York City. The committee meeting was attended by Dr. Kenneth C. Chor- ten, of Williamsburg Restoration, and Arthur M. Schlesinger from Harvard University, Thomas J. Bridenbaugh. The organization of the Institute consists of several large divisions: the Executive Committee, the German and Aid Committee, The William and Mary Quarterly Committee and Publications Committee.

Dr. Pomfret predicts that "this Institute will be a great thing in a year or so."

Inquiring Reporter

This week several of the men were asked, "Would you ever consider joining a fraternity if you were re-established under a different system from that used previously here at William and Mary?"

Joe Binder: No, because most of the attractive features of a frater­ nity are encouraged in an individual type house.

Elise Wilkins: It would all depend upon the fraternity and the boys in it.

Dan Hallaway: If they were to come back, I'd like to see them the way they were.

Bren Hackett: I can't see fraternities without houses. (I can't see it.)

Sherod Mensel: No, I wouldn't join unless they had the houses.

Al Appel: Fraternities or no fraternities, and fraternity mean­ ing houses?

Stan Vatanian: I wouldn't be interested unless there would be houses. I've seen the dimmies close when members live in different dormitories.

George "Sonny" Davis: I wouldn't join a fraternity unless the house came back on campus along with it.

O'Fallon: I go for fraternities in a big way.

Melvin Wright: No, the old system has proven ridic, so why retain it?

Charles Allen: I'd rather have lodges if I joined a fraternity.

If the other system referred to is the lodge sys­ tem, I don't think it would be any different.

Ben Anderson: I strongly disagree with Mr. Pomfret's policy of returning national fraternities. The lodge system would completely ruin any fraternity.

Missourian Pam Pauly Fills Three Presidencies

Active Psychology Major Considers Working On Japanese Rehabilitation

By PERRIE HOWE

"My chief pastime? Reading—practically anything. But now it's mostly talking," said Pam Pauly, president of the YWCA, Alpha Chi Omega fraternity, and Mortar Board.

It's been four years since she was teased about her Hillbilly drawl and not wearing shoes before she came to college. "I could say something about the Ozarks, but I wouldn't want to be disloyal."

One of her greatest ambitions is to christen a ship. She was in the Missouri and was terribly disconsolate. "Z", the Skipper Alpha Theta had pledged on June 9th, not Wednesday, October 31. The Theta's new happy to announce the initiation of Dorothy Bostick, Frances Brightman, and Carol Talbot on Wednesday evening, October 31.

The Theta's new happy to announce the initiation of Dorothy Bostick, Frances Brightman, and Carol Talbot on Wednesday evening, October 31.

"I'm always something about the Ozarks, but I wouldn't want to be disloyal." During this time she has captured the campus with her charm and accumulated an impressive record of activities and offices. In addition, this year, she is representative-at-large to the Executive Council.

Favor Sports

Basketball and swimming are Pam's favorite sports. She likes football a lot too, but "I can't understand it," she laments. Aviation is one of her main interests. Her 16-year-old brother, who has already learned, promised to teach her how to fly.

As a candid camera fiend, she has her troubles. "I'm always getting the film in backwards or something." Pam vibrates to yellow and love is not watermelon, but love to be different doesn't like ice cream. After she has had someone read over her shoulders.

Wants To Christen Ship

One of her greatest ambitions is to christen a ship. She was in the Missouri and was terribly disconsolate. "Z", the Skipper Alpha Theta had pledged on June 9th, not Wednesday, October 31. The Theta's new happy to announce the initiation of Dorothy Bostick, Frances Brightman, and Carol Talbot on Wednesday evening, October 31.

Ghost Write As Sideline

Dr. R. W. Kernodle, Dr. G. G. Clark

Handle Features For Magazines

Any subject in the literary line, from humorous essay or sermon to biography paper can be ably handled by either Dr. R. Wayne Kernodle or Dr. G. G. Clark. Both professors, for several years have done ghost writing for various magazines and publishing houses.

Dr. Kernodle, a sociologist professor, specializes in humorous short stories, feature writing and magazine articles. Dr. Kernodle says, often sends him material for a Christmas story in July, and when he's asking they may ask him to write a story for the June issue. Magazines often have a copyright—often name and as many as 15 or 16 men may "ghost" the articles that appear under that name. Most writers use ghost writing as a stepping stone to getting their name in print. Dr. Kernodle, ghost writers are not allowed to give the names of the books or articles that they have written, however.

Hobby Is Science

Despite the fact that his field is English, Dr. Clark manages to write on a variety of subjects by doing a lot of research work. In the past years, he has written under a pen name, stories based on biology, botany, and various other scientific themes. Science is his hobby, and he enjoys doing articles of that sort. At one time, Dr. Clark even wrote a whole series on astronomy. Writing for children and for the layman, Dr. Clark's work has appeared in a variety of publications, in both books and magazines. His book on volcanoes has been adopted by several colleges, and his book on the history of the earth has been adopted by the Williamsburg High School for the science classes.

Charles M. Pratt Goes To Missouri

The Rev. Charles M. Pratt, who for the past eight years has been pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, leaves at the end of the current year for Columbia, Mo. His work there will be as pastor of the Westminster Church and the University.

During Mr. Pratt's years in Williamsburg, the church has grown and the possibilities of the Westminster Community. Both have been under his direction. His family will make their home with his parents in London, Ky., several months. His successor has not been named.

BIG NICK FORKOVITCH RETURNS AFTER TWO YEARS IN SERVICE

Nick attended McKee'sport High School and then shifted to Air Force Military Academy. His list of achievements includes being both a football and basketball star. In his Senior year, he was named captain on both teams.

Coming from McKee'sport, Pa., Nick entered William and Mary on Aug. 1941. In June 1943 he left the College to go into the army, not directly, but via the College. "I have been in service for a year and a half, and I'm no longer a Fisher," he said.

Nick is now in his junior year at William and Mary. He is majoring in Physical Education. When asked why he likes to listen to the music of Tommy Dorsey and коллéct his picture albums, Nick replied, "I can't see why he doesn't play all the time. We should also try it sometime. Indians Meet Carolinians In Norfolk On Saturday

William and Mary's un夙icious campaign, which has included losses of 28-14 to Pittsburgh, 34-21 to Wake Forest, and 42-14 to Virginia, appears to be coming to a close. The Indians will face the Carolinians in their next game, a test period by a score of 20-16.

Squaws Whip Westminster Levering Is Star With Three Tullies

How good the Squaws are is well known to all grid fans. Last week, in their only Senior loop test of the season, they were able to show their true form. Irate Carolina in 1934 when the team tied North Carolina at Wake Forest in a scoreless tie, the Squaws came back this year and took the lead in the Big Ten.

Almost all the scoring for both teams was done in the second half. Westminster came back with a new forest and a determined will to score three times, their left wing, 9 and 7, being the leaders in the line. Center, doing the honors, who called the ball, was a distant threat, but most of the time the Indians were well taken care of by center halfback, Harriet Hardin, who consistently played a good football game.

Paula Levering of the line is 235-pound Stan Mackiewicz, a brace of speedy center halfbacks, have showed tip well in the last few contests and ought to be a strong pair for the Squaws. Claire is Ed Twyford, redheaded helmeted guard of last year for several years.

Big W-M Stars Play In Tourney

Seven Williams and Mary hockey players were selected to represent Eastern Virginia in the Southeastern College Hockey Tournament at Phillips, New York, New Jersey on November 18 and 19. The tours were held in Richland that just Saturday, and the teams are playing in their games at Westminster College and the Colgate University.

The girls who are chosen are Betty Littlefield, Marcia Levering, Betty Coumbe, Virginia Levering, and Jane Anna Cook. Five campaign ribbons fighting in Normandy, Northern France, Arden, Blechelosen, and Central Europe. After recuperating his returned to the United States and was discharged on December 8 of this year.

Carter Burwell's plantation house, Carter's Grove, is the only remaining great house in the building, which is older than the north bank of the James River. Also, the estate looks out beneath a roof of great shake, green, or black, and here to the river in the distance. The mansion was designed by James Madison, David Minnies, who came to the building of the work. Carter Burwell, master of the estate, was the son of Nathaniel Burwell of Fairfax and Eliza McCollum of Connecticut. The plantation was probably named in honoring his mother's famous family. Perhaps some of the great wealth of "King" Carter may have been used in the building of the house.

Gripers Must Act To Obtain Better Recreation Facilities

Despite rumors circulating on campus the past several weeks, there will be no homecoming celebrations this year. This has never been a student activity, and it is too large a job for them to handle without the aid of student government.

It is well for students to plan activities, but they must be ready to see that they do not allow others to do the job for them.

Some students have been griping that the student government is merely staffed by poorly staffed officers. Students will not cooperate and help organize a dance or world music if they feel that it is too much of an effort and that such a project is not worth the effort.

Gripers Musi Act To Obtain Better Recreation Facilities

The assistance of the alumni. If a student who has been a good citizen of the school for the past seven years or more has not been given the opportunity to do anything for the school, is that worth the effort? Codification Of Judicial Rules

The women students of the College of William and Mary elect each year a fellow woman to represent them on the Judicial Committee. The same rules passed by the Women Students Cooperative Government make the Executive Council recommendations concerning changes desirable in the present system.

We have heard the present form and the thought-provoking campaign and election would eliminate many of the simulated methods now employed in nominating and electing officers. The college administration might well do the same thing. The way this college is runing about itself is characteristic of good whole-some recreation.
