Mission

The mission of the Office of Internal Audit is to support the respective missions of the College of William and Mary and Richard Bland College by providing auditing services to the Board of Visitors and the colleges. The mission statements follow:

The College of William and Mary, a public university in Williamsburg, Virginia, is the second-oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. Established in 1693 by British royal charter, William and Mary is proud of its role as the Alma Mater of generations of American patriots, leaders, and public servants. Now, in its fourth century, it continues this tradition of excellence by combining the best features of an undergraduate... college with the opportunities offered by a modern research university. Its moderate size, dedicated faculty, and distinctive history give William and Mary a unique character among public institutions, and create a learning environment that fosters close interaction among students and teachers.

The university's predominantly residential undergraduate program provides a broad liberal education in a stimulating academic environment enhanced by a talented and diverse student body. This nationally acclaimed undergraduate program is integrated with selected graduate and professional programs in five faculties — Arts and Sciences, Business, Education, Law, and Marine Science. Masters and doctoral programs in the humanities, the sciences, the social sciences, business, education, and law provide a wide variety of intellectual opportunities for students at both graduate and undergraduate levels.

At William and Mary, teaching, research, and public service are linked through programs designed to preserve, transmit, and expand knowledge. Effective teaching imparts knowledge and encourages the intellectual development of both student and teacher. Quality research supports the educational program by introducing students to the challenge and excitement of original discovery, and is a source of the knowledge and understanding needed for a better society. The university recognizes its special responsibility to the citizens of Virginia through public and community service to the Commonwealth as well as to national and international communities. Teaching, research, and public service are all integral parts of the mission of William and Mary.

Richard Bland College, of The College of William and Mary in Virginia was founded in 1960. It is The Junior College of the Commonwealth of Virginia. The College offers a traditional curriculum in the liberal arts and sciences leading to the associate degree, and other programs appropriate to a junior college. The curriculum is intended to allow students to acquire junior status upon transferring to a four-year college, or to pursue expanded career opportunities. The College also recognizes its responsibility to serve the public by providing educational and cultural opportunities for the community at large.

COMPLIANCE PROGRAM CHARTER

WHEREAS, The Committee on Audit and Compliance oversees the Compliance Program of the College of William and Mary; and

WHEREAS, The proposed Compliance Program Charter (attached) has been reviewed by the Chair of the Audit and Compliance Committee, the President, the Provost, and other College officials;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Compliance Program Charter is approved by the Board of Visitors, effective immediately.
THE COLLEGE OF WILLIAM AND MARY IN VIRGINIA

COMPLIANCE PROGRAM CHARTER

William and Mary, as a public institution of higher education, is regulated by both the federal government and the Commonwealth of Virginia. The responsibility for compliance with these legal obligations is shared by all members of the university community:

- Employees must obey the laws, regulations, and policies applicable to their university activities, and report illegal or unethical action that comes to their attention.\(^1\)
- Supervisors must ensure that employees have the knowledge and skills to fulfill their obligations, and address or elevate reported violations or similar issues.
- Members of senior management must promote a culture of compliance and ethical behavior, and ensure that the university has policies and standards reasonably designed to prevent compliance violations in their areas of operation.

As federal and state laws increase and become more complex, the university has charged the Compliance and Policy Office with the coordination, monitoring and, when appropriate, improvement, of the array of compliance functions. This Office works closely with other offices providing general compliance services, particularly Internal Audit, University Counsel, and Human Resources. To assist employees, the university also has offices and officers with expertise and responsibilities in various compliance areas, such as the Office of Sponsored Programs for compliance obligations arising in the conduct of research, the Environmental Health & Safety Department for workplace safety compliance, and the Assistant Athletics Director for Compliance and Educational Services, for NCAA compliance.

Collectively, these institutional expectations, responsibilities, and services comprise the university’s compliance and ethics program. As defined by federal regulations, the program is “reasonably designed, implemented, and enforced” to prevent and detect illegal conduct through “due diligence and the promotion of an organizational culture that encourages ethical conduct and a commitment to compliance with the law.”

\(^1\) Code of Ethics of the College of William and Mary.
The Chief Compliance Officer has overall responsibility for the compliance program. The Compliance Officer, working with senior management and other employees and in close cooperation with Internal Audit, University Counsel, and Human Resources, strives to:

1. ensure that the university has policies and procedures reasonably designed to satisfy existing or new legal obligations.

2. ensure that the university has procedures aimed at detecting and remedying compliance problems and risks, including methods for employees to "report or seek guidance regarding potential or actual" illegal conduct without fear of retaliation.

3. conduct or assist with certain internal compliance investigations and otherwise help management address compliance violations reported or detected.

4. ensure the university has practices and systems to communicate key policies and other relevant aspects of the compliance and ethics program to affected employees. The Compliance and Policy Office also directly communicates new and proposed policies to the campus community.

5. assist senior management and others promote and enforce the compliance program.

6. assist in identifying and addressing significant compliance risks, for example by conducting compliance gap analyses and risk assessments (including under the auspices of the university's Risk Management Committee) and providing compliance resources and guidance.

The Committee on Audit and Compliance of the Board of Visitors provides oversight of the compliance program. The Chief Compliance Officer reports regularly to the Committee regarding the status and effectiveness of the compliance program, and brings to the Committee's attention significant compliance risks and matters.

2 Federal regulations require that a specific, "high-level" individual be given "overall responsibility" for the compliance and ethics program. The Chief Compliance Officer reports to the President and directs the Office of Compliance and Policy.

3 Reported or suspected violations may be investigated by any number of individuals, committees, or offices, under university policies.
