Dr. Geiger's Address

Doubt in Religion is Discussed

Large Attendance at Y. M. C. A.—First of devotional services of the Y. M. C. A. speaker necessarily had to deal with Its Causes and its Cures," last Wednesday evening at the weekly Geiger's first discussion of that the other discussions will be with this foundation laid he states authodoxy. SPIDERS TROUNCE INDIANS

Williamsburgers Fall Before Heavy Attack—The Orange and Black Eleven Fight Against Over.

Whelming Odds—Wilson and Pitt Star.
When this was endured they drank with reluctant gulps of the false blood, the contents of which were unknown. Again, with renewed vigor, "Hipity Hux" broke out, which awoke the whites in their abodes. The tribe went out on the lawn at a late hour to try their vocal chords, and by chance wandered towards the Tyler Dormitory but when they came near the building, playing leap frog out the back window was in order by its occupants seeking refuge in remote places. It was evident that the neighboring slumberers had been assured that they might not miss the beauty of the nocturnal scenery, the tribe retired early to the "wigwam of the blessed."

GHOSTRONS CLEAMINGS

The Spider machine with a heavier line and superior back field, had little trouble in gaining ground consistently against the Indians. Without any reflection to our team we can say that they were playing out of their class even if it was in the E. V. I. A. A.

From the Times-Dispatch:
"The Spider machine showed but slightly the effects of the calamity reported to exist at Westhampton. The loss of several players as a result of injuries was not evident against William and Mary nor was there manifested that lack of "pep" on the part of the men and the student body that had been complained of. The machine kept on the move, the rooters kept on the bowl, and every now and then one of the players kept diving through the opposing line for a touchdown."

Conversaion of two reporters:
"Wilson and Goslee are about ninetenths of the William and Mary team."
"Where is the other tenth?"

Capt. Wilson and Goslee were taken out early in the game on account of injuries. Their absence seemed to dishearten the orange and black eleven.

The Jackets fought desperately to win from Hampden-Sidney but Herrier's outfit was too powerful.

V. P. L. is comparatively a small college but she always puts eleven men on the field. Although defeated 19 to 0 by Yale, this is decidedly the best showing of any Southern college against the strong Northern elevens. Saturday she trounced her old A. and M. rivals 40 to 0.

It is a pretty safe bet that Ollie-phant the Army's half-back will be an all-American selection. Six touchdowns and nine goals is the sum total of his work against Villanova Saturday. He will make a good running mate for Harry Legore of Yale.

Yale University is considering the proposition of building 8,000 extra seats around the parapet of the bowl for the Yale-Harvard game. Harvard has already sent in a request for 24,000 seats for the game.

INDIANS INDICTED

In striking contrast to Dr. Wilson's statement of a few days ago, that William and Mary had been teaching the State of Virginia principles of fair play and sportsmanship, we read in the Richmond "News Leader" by the Ashland correspondent:
"One of the most noticeable things regarding the William and Mary team was their roughness. It is the first time this season that Coach Remond had to take a man out of the game for bruises or injuries, but in Saturday's game he had to take five men out, so it looks as if the Indians need a heap of improvement in their tackling as well as a few other things, or it is going to be a serious handicap to their playing."

This accusation is without foundation and wholly unjustifiable. It will not find support from either the officials or spectators at that contest. We trust that it was not done with the intention of arousing a hostile feeling between the two in situations, where such friendly relations have always existed.

WARRIORS INITIATE PALE-FACES

The spirit of old Braggerton was rejuvenated last Tuesday night about 11:30 at the outbreak of "Hipity Hux" by some of the old warriors. When warriors had been stationed at each door, the lights mysteriously went out, and straightway all the shaving pale faces, in ghostly attire, gathered in Wigwam a la Halla canoe to perform those ceremonies sacred to the memory of every tribe.

After the role call, each pale face presented himself in such a position that he could take into his system the required number of impressions caused by arboreal molecules.
COURTS CROWDED

Strong indications for Fast Team — Professors Take Turn — Tennis Courts Are Being Repaired.

Not since tennis has been a major sport in the E. V. I. A. A. has so much interest been shown in the game. Professors Clarke, Geiger and Davis have been assisting in coaching the faculty as racketeers of no mean ability.

The courts are gradually wearing a little more use will be in first class condition. Before long they will be taped, and the back stops required to prevent the tire-some chasings of balls.

"BISH" LEE.

As a result of the alumni e-aching plan Wm. Byrd Lee, Jr., known to the world at large as "Bish," has been assisting in coaching the football team for the past three weeks. He is a native of Gloucester county, being the son of a distinguished minister there. His early training in football was obtained during his stay at the Episcopal High School. In 1907 he entered William and Mary and after one year’s work got a regular berth at center, which he occupied for four years, being captain of the team his last two seasons. During his last year he was far by the best center in the league. His passing was accurate and he was a regular demon on defense. After leaving William and Mary he attended the Episcopal Seminary near Alexandria, graduated in 1915 and was later ordained. He is now located at Hanover, Va.

Back to the Farm.

Erasmus was the huskiest of all the college team; his kicking was a classic and his running was a scream. The enemy all took flight, their terror ill concealed. When they grabbed the pigskin and went tearing down the field.

He was the very limit in strenuous pastime. To ask a man to tackle him was asking nothing but a crime. He was the strongest man they’d had in twenty-seven years; he always left the field bestrewn with arms and ears.

But back home in vacation time his strength just failed, I vow. He was so weak he couldn’t think of anything but the plow. He couldn’t hoe potatoes and he couldn’t split the wood.

Although he told his parents he would like to if he could. He simply seemed to pine away and dwindle as a rule. Till in the fall when time came ‘round for him to go to school. Then he’d recover suddenly and take an awful brace.

In feats of strength a deal depends upon the time and place.

COLLEGE PHARMACY OPENS
Any one troubled with corns, toothache, Charlie Chaplins, indigestion, Physique, L nearsightedness or lisping should call at the College Pharmacy, recently established by D r s. Cooke, Whitaker, Beckford & Co., for remedy. The above mentioned students and scores of others yielded to the persuasion of an expert patent medicine brand, to the extent of approximately $40.00, in return for which they received pills, salves, ointments and several cure-for-all remedies.
With this medical supply for an opening stock it is little to be doubted that with other visits by expert dispensers, our apothecary shop will be one of the foremost in this section of the country and the troubles of the body will be a thing of past.
The College should be greatly in-debt to the pioneers of this enterprise.
