New Dorm Plan Brought Before Men On Feb. 10

BY BILL ANDERSON

Seeing the opportunities that are developed, through student control of student's leadership qualities and for teaching individuals how to live together, the Dean of Men and the Administration drew up a plan which will be presented to men students on Thursday, February 10, at 4:15 p. M. in Phi Beta Kappa Hall.

When interviewed, Dr. Armacost said that this plan has long been in the making, and that the Administration's long interest in the field of Student Government.

The plan as presented calls for an Inter-Dormitory Council made up of the Chairman of each Dormitory Committee, which would meet regularly and should have the power to make rules and regulations for dormitories. The Inter-Dormitory Council should also have the authority to act as a disciplinary committee in matters pertaining to residence of men students in the dorms and in an advisory capacity for improvements and suggestions that might be helpful in creating a better dormitory atmosphere.

The plan further states that the Inter-Dormitory Council is to be elected by Dormitory Committees in each house. The council shall be based on the number of students living in the dormitory; the chairman of the council is to be the member of the committee receiving the highest number of votes and the secretary, the second highest number. The council shall be convened by the Dean of Men and may be convened by request from the committee or from the dean. The council shall meet at least once a month in the form of a meeting of the members of the council which they represent. The council shall have the power to represent the Inter-Dormitory Council members in a meeting of other councils.

They shall have brief and informal meetings at regular intervals which will include matters of common interest, decisions and suggested followups, and the like. Their meetings will be in the form of brief and informal meetings.

Dr. Armacost further states that in the larger dorms there shall be several dormitory committees with house president to be elected by the consular committee in a two-thirds majority vote. Acting primarily in an advisory capacity to the dean and the dormitory director and the dormitory committee will be a Faculty Counselor whose main duties will be dealing with the individual's academic, vocational, or personal problems.

Another feature presented in the new setup will be a dormitory business manager, which will be appointed by the dean of Men and the responsibility will be that of handling the communications to and from the dormitory, registering of guests, and any other duties suggested by the Dean in relation to the functioning of the dormitory. In consideration for these duties, he shall receive compensation

Me and My Monday

MONDAY — While studying for the final this afternoon, and I was almost ready to break my neck, I heard the sound of a free speech, free range and no subjunctive. At revising time, rain started and my cap and gown got wet on the ceiling above each of our respective beds. There, written in albumen on the page, are the names of our very genteel gentlemen friends. Perhaps it would seem a bit more comical if you could see the same name, but we felt we were being failure by far for our dormitory. Fake, fake, oh, Diane. Those in this country have a hell of a lot, while the South Pacific heard the betting.

TUESDAY — Having felt palpably enough, the Happy Bunk decided for a fact that, after leaving the Government's office, the Bunk found a gem of a book on life and literature; the price, very nearly health and brand value; the book was found to be worth far into the eight hour and faithful lives of the most recent; and in that book, I discovered the simple fact that the Happy Bunk were not quite so happy.

WEDNESDAY — Late and with a hangover, the Bunk Box finished registering for a new semester today. I understood her better, have very little idea of what the new semester means for her, and all this is ending. I am thinking not of my own, but of them. I would not want anyone else to lose what they have or who I have. A simple made a most admirable exit from her advisor's office.

THURSDAY — The Inter-Dormitory Council will no longer be held on Saturday at eight o'clock. With a time-honored tradition of meeting, we intend to sacrifice myself to the whole at the British Museum in London, and therefore, it would be better to have compiled material for an Icelandic fellowship in Denmark doing work in the Scandinavian Peninsula. He did not, pass their exams. That year the American Scandinavian Foundation gave a fellowship to the old royal foundation. After considerable deliberation, I came to the belief that it would be better to have been a poet and a journalist. I am thinking not of my own, but of them. I would not want anyone else to lose what they have or who I have. A simple made a most admirable exit from her advisor's office.

FRIDAY — I feel foot Halston made me what I am today. I have never been one who believed in self-denial, but I have been the first. I am thinking not of my own, but of them. I would not want anyone else to lose what they have or who I have. A simple made a most admirable exit from her advisor's office.

SATURDAY — Those in this country have a hell of a lot, while the South Pacific heard the betting.

Dean Miller has announced that the small enrollment in the A.S.T.U. this year will be minus those who recently graduated, those who transferred to various other institutions, and those who did not pass their exams.

It has been necessary to reduce the dormitory to its present size, and to make a reduction of dormitories in the second year, and to make a reduction of dormitories in the second year, has been accomplished by the dormitory as principal of Lakeview Elementary School in Birmingham. When the war came, Dr. Jackson took the "President's offer to be a "Minute Man," famed for giving three minutes' notice and going to the interest of selling Liberty Loan Bonds. In one year, throughout all of the southern states, Jackson sold one and one-quarter million dollars' worth of bonds.

His inimitable Alabam-Harvard scholar became the first of any other industrial directorship, because of the simplicity of life there. Mock ASTU Invade Mass ‘Y’ Meeting

“Boys” Sing Praise About 1943’s Jeep

Army fellows paid a surprise visit to the mass YWCA meeting last Thursday night. They sang carols, petted the newly adopted “Y” kitten, gave away gifts, and talked about 1943’s Jeep.

Barbara Gray gave details and instruction concerning the “Y’s” participation in the war bond drive. The drive is being sponsored by the William and Mary student war bond drive committee, and the “Y” is being asked to support it in full. By the end of the month, the “Y” is hoping to have sold 5,000 bonds.

Religious Emphasis Week — Dr. Van Kirk. Marshall Wythe 302, 7 P.M.

Selection of the new members will be announced at the February meeting of the YWCA because of the absence of the President, Marion Ross. Following an opening prayer offered by Pam Pauly, and the singing of the William and Mary Hymn, brief business was taken up. A committee of Gloria Raulin, Mary Whaley, Barbara Crowe, Connie Given, and Joan Crawford was appointed to select the best school songs which will be sung during the year and put them in a scrapbook.

A big and little sister party, also to be sponsored by “the Y,” is being planned for the new girls who entered the college at the beginning of the semester.

Spring Scene Presents Concert Of Original Works

For the past week the main source of conversation at the dining halls has been, “Golly, I don’t know whether I’ll be able to make it or not, I’ve eaten more than I had planned!” How? Well, I’ve eaten all this bread I’ll just have to eat if I don’t get it tomorrow. Yes this new system of having to buy one-dollar food books every ten days has caused much talk among the students—some good and some bad. This system has solved several problems which are affected by this system their views on the subject:

Jean Beasley: I think it’s wonderful that now I can have my allowance for myself.

Barbara Crowe: I’d like it better if we could use our books when we wanted to. This way if you’re going some place for a weekend and you still have to use your books.

Jean Beasley: This money comes from Daddy and I don’t have to spend any of my own money or food so that I can

Barbara Crowe: I have to worry too about making my own meals.

Connie Given: I really get all of my vitamins.

Millie Foster: My allowance is being increased. The Trading Post

By BOBBIE STEELE

What's happening in other schools? From a survey of the FLAT HAT exchange files we find the A.S.U.T. is very active on other campuses in that they, also, write for school publications, take part in sports, and make the date lists of the coed as active one. The Student Governments from everywhere have their way questions but most with the problem of low attendance at meetings.

Many Washingtonians complain of the difficulty in telephoning the girls' dorms. Call girl duty is said to be neglected as is the time limit. Does that sound familiar?

B Becker Ala War Prizes

At Becker Jubilee in Massachusetts the students and faculty are promoting a drive to seed reclamation equipment to the Barbed Wire Le­ gions—prisoners of war. They call for old mauls, rakes, snow shoes, barns, haylofts, and harnesses and accoutrements. These are all sent to the War Prisoner's Aid Division of the Y.M.C.A.

"Battle of Music"

In St. Bonnventre, New York, there is an active program of student activities with Emphasis on Williamsburg. "Battle of Music" is featured. On March 30, and the opera "Merry Widow" will be sung by a board of representative judges. As the Chancellor has pointed out: This is, Chairman of the Committee on the chorus will be sung by a board of representative judges.

Mary Ellen Carrie, member of the Student Council staff, has been named as a member of the chorus. The University of Massachusetts offers a large box in their main building for contributions to the war. A large box is in their main building for contributions to the cause of the war. A call girl duty is to be sung by a board of representative judges.

Tank Contest Shows Little Competition

Wigwams Win; Goldbricks Second

Swimming intramurals have been concluded and it looks as though the championship will be a close one, with only three teams scored points. The Wigwams splashed into first place, with the Goldbricks second with 17 points and the Indians third with 15 points.

Had the competition been on a more even keel the amount of points scored by the Indians would have been higher. However, it seems that the only constant advantage present at this meet were those who should have swimming experience on the outside and as a result would know how to use it to their advantage.

The winners of each meet are:

Women's Swim Meet
- 1st: Wigwams
- 2nd: Indians
- 3rd: Goldbricks

Men's Swim Meet
- 1st: Wigwams
- 2nd: Goldbricks

Indian Lead State Title Race

William and Mary's cage team climbed to new heights in the State basketball race by taking first place in the first 7 in April 1944.

Last Saturday, Coach McCray's三角洲РОМЕ drones rounded Hampden-Sydney to keep their College slate clean and move into first place in the Old Dominion with a record of 2-0. In second place is the University of Virginia, Tech, Emory and Henry, Hampden-Sydney, and Virginia Military Institute.

Three Indians In First Six Scorers

In the individual state scoring race, three Indians are firmly entrenched in the top six scorers—McKee, the three-being Captain Ed Holle, Dillon White, and Bob Smith. The other six spots are held by the interstate teams, with the Pittsburgh Pirates leading the charge as they chase the Tiger Indian conference a week ago by Holle and Joe Orell. Holle's 27 points are the Dixon of the Braves with 133, Pickers of Virginia 124, and Kirk 115.

In the Southern Conference the Indians are tied for the first place with 11 points with a 3-1 record. The other two place spots behind the peace-team, Virginia's are held by Tech, Emory and Henry and Hampden-Sydney.

The state conference meet will be held at the end of February or at the beginning of March. Further announcement will be made as to when the meet will be held. It is possible that the game may be played at another date.

A. S. T. P., Returns For Cage Lift

Wrestling and boxing are scheduled to start at the end of February or at the beginning of March. Further announcement will be made as to when applications for the matches should be made.

Wrestling holds promise for a good season. Track, softball and tennis will hold the attention for all able bodied this semester and the eventual turn out will be made in no novice baseball team will be given.

Coaches

Coach Umbach, who has been heading the intramurals, is quite an assured one, but all the students know that he has been successfully handling the task.

Dance Club Plans Spring Recital

The Dance Club, which is composed of Orchids and the Dance Group, has chosen Miss Barksdale to be their spring recital. In addition to their own regu lar meetings a week, a combined meeting is being held every Wednesday at 7:00 in the dormitories.

The members of Orchids have attended several modern dancing classes to date this past week to select new members.

As yet, the final list is not complete, but it is probable that about 15-20 of the dancers will be invited to join the Dance Group.

Great python at the 1940 Arkansas game. It was 5 feet 10 inches long and weighed 90 pounds. It was named "Chesapeake" by Coach Kinsel in 1940 and has been in the care of the Arkansas College of Education since that time. It is estimated that the python has a life span of 100 years.

The python is a non-poisonous snake and is not dangerous to humans. It feeds on small mammals, birds, and reptiles. The python has a long, slender body with large, protrusible tongue, and is known for its ability to engulf large prey whole. It is a popular pet in some countries, but some states have laws prohibiting ownership due to potential escape and harm to native wildlife.

The python's ability to grow to large sizes has earned it the nickname "Great Python of the South." It is generally found in the southeastern United States, where it thrives in warm, humid environments. The python is an important member of the ecosystem, helping to control rodent populations and promoting biodiversity. However, its popularity as a pet has led to overharvesting in some areas, posing a threat to its survival.
The Intramural Bridge Tournament get under way Wednesday, February 2, and will continue through this week. The duplicate system is being played using boards. These tournaments afford a gay get-together for all the bridge fiends, too.

All participants in the "Babes" will come into your own on March 1, at the Intramural Swimming meet in the Blue Gym. There will be compulsory participation for every participant on February 17 and March 2.

On March 9, a Telegraphic Swimming Meet will take place. This meet is sponsored by the National Intercollegiate Telegraphic Association. Colleges all over the country will participate in this event. The times for each race will be determined by a central office where they will be judged with the other records.

Wams Work Extra Hours With New Activities Added

With the new term comes a new arrangement in WAM war work. WAMS are to complete 15 hours of war work per month, but with new activities being added, there is work for everyone. The Women's Council hopes that the WAMS will do more than their required five hours per month. Fines will be awarded in April for those who have met the requirement of 14 hours for the two months. A more detailed description of the new plan will be presented in the next issue.

No doubt everyone has seen the spectacular reconstruction job over in the Wigwam. It's the newly decorated and stumped house—a manual labor and is by courtesy of Phi Delta Psi. Stamps will be sold there from 5 to 7 on weekdays. From February 11 on weekdays. From February 11 to 19, they will be sold from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. in addition to the regular time.

A new feature has been added to the salvage Drive. WAMS are now collecting used postage stamps. There will be a box in every dormitory for their collection. The government reports that Uncle Sam is buying $3,000,000 worth of stamps each day. These stamps, if all the rooms were limited to two women, this semester.

A.S.T.U. after the middle of this week. Dormitories are practically filled to capacity; in fact, if all the rooms were limited to two women, they would be full.

Booster Hall was cleared by the A.S.U., the middle of this week. It was being used as a dormitory for service workers to relieve the apparent housing shortage in Williamsburg.

30 Years Ago in the Flat Hat

By CONNIE COOKWAY

Mysterious black-coated figures have been wandering around campus, and an effigy had been hung at the gate. Among the student body in general...it's the same principle now, only a little change; we have 90% war circles around campus, and tailors hanging at the gate... Not much difference, and so much more fun, (they say) so...

We beat Frederickson 10 to 5 in basketball, and the temperature had gone down to almost eight above zero. There was the good old days, good old days, or something...

A certain title of fellows, (no names given), were asked to please refrain from buying up any of the Huyler's Candy, from buying up any of the Huyler's Candy, from buying up any of the Huyler's Candy, from buying up any of the Huyler's Candy, from buying up any of the Huyler's Candy, from buying up any of the Huyler's Candy, from buying up any of the Huyler's Candy, from buying up any of the Huyler's Candy.

Report Reveals Great Progress In Sororities

Extensive War Activities, Social Work, Intramural Program Among Activities

In twelve years, from 1921 to 1933, the women students of the College of William and Mary built up nine sororities, all of national standing. In spite of the many attacks on the sorority idea, these organizations have thrived and grown in prosperity, prestige and membership. With the aid of the National War Council, they are being assisted in their work by students of the college campus and are inherently associated with the word "college." They are called social fraternities because their aim is fundamentally social as well as recreational, with an added work of educational work.

The College received a grant of $27,000 from the General Education Board for the requirements of the library. This grant is to be shared by the College. Thus a total of more than $10,000 will be spent over the next five years and significantly will be used toward the Library of the one of the most outstanding of its kind in the United States.

The Alpha Chi and the Gamma Phi are also contributing to the War Relief Fund. Besides intramural athletic competition between the sororities, scholarships requirements and rewards within the sororities, and social work, there is another angle that adds to the pleasing appearance of the campus. This is the pledging of individual students to broader individual viewpoints on the problems that concern women and work on individual group work. Pledge-active meetings are being held and planned to discuss these problems and to get public support by many of the sororities, including Kappa Alpha Theta, Chi Omega, Phi Mu, Tri Delta and Gamma Phi.

Singing has never failed to bring people together and in classic group pictures, the vocal chords have long been a phenomenon among the students. To sum it all up, in spite of adverse propaganda, it seems quite evident that sorority girls do something besides party and socialize most Monday night meetings. Organizing into groups and "producing" is just an American custom.

Quiet Hour Situation Becomes Deplorable

A rather deplorable situation seems to exist in the women's dormitories at the present time. An overwhelming majority of the women students say that they want an atmosphere of quiet preserved in the halls and rooms. Yet, many students, on entering college to do study, are to be found talking in the most raucous of voices, and complaints are being received from neighboring students. It is discovered that many students have no idea that late-night talking is considered improper on the campus. It is asked why they wish to disturb the peaceful air they desirable to consider thoughtful, ill-bred, and uncooperative.

If you can't keep the rules all by yourself, she's not going to appoint the police to do the job. Nevada would have introduced.

"Quiet Hour" should be considered thoughtless, ill-bred, and uncooperative.

"Quiet Hour" is often poorly observed. It is asked why you might not report such behavior to the authorities?

Fed, and others. Not a pleasant thought, is it, to think you might never have approved of a William and Mary; and I know they had not made it a better place.

Some frnenfs who dined the Al. Rev. 2-18-44.

In the midst of these changes, the administration has shown a spurt of activity. The Student Assembly of the College of William and Mary has held a regular meeting January 11 at 7:10 p.m. in the Student Assembly Hall, Wren building.

Mary Wilser Carter, serving President of the Student Body, called the meeting to order.

The minutes were read and approved.

"Quiet Hour" situation be made a judicial offense and carry a punishment of so.

The coeds to govern themselves successfully.

The problem should not be met through coercion, but through attempting to make the women students cognizant of the feelings of their associates to make everyone realize that the hall of residence is the place to study and other suggestions were made. Besides, Dr. Pomfret, Dean Grace Landrum, Dr. George Smythe, and Miss Margaret K. Carter next read a letter from the Baffin Club stating that if we don't need them. Perhaps all that is necessary is a re-

from the Executive Committee stating that was passed.

The motion was then voted upon, and it was carried.
