Thirty Students Win Roles In Next Play: "Family Portrait"

Smith and Manzi, Old Favorites, Will Re-appear

Leading help for FAMILY POR-TRAIT, next production of the William and Mary Players, will be afforded by Senior Bob Griffin's little Bantam, according to Miss Alleen Hunt, director of the William and Mary Playners. Griffin is a member of the Third Army Corps, and Sunday night, when he was home on leave, he returned to Newport News. He was recalled to the Army Corps last month.

Turkey-Day Classic Nears As William and Mary, Spider Rivalry Flames Once More

Active Freeman Campaign Floods Campus With Politics in Fight for 11 Positions

Gresa Rising in Union; House Court Election Postponed Until Dec. 2

Following a week of disastrous activity in the FLATF, the Fremen Cornet once again became the center of the campus. The student body was divided into eight sections, each representing one of the eight class years. The members of each section voted, and the section with the most votes
was selected as the new house freemen. The results were as follows:

Section 1: Freshmen
Section 2: Sophomores
Section 3: Juniors
Section 4: Seniors

The campaign was one of the most heated in the history of the University of Richmond. The candidates were chosen by a joint committee of the university and the city of Richmond, and the results were announced on December 2nd.

Next time Bob Griffin "beeps" when you're late, you may be punished.

Although the exact meaning of the FLATF is not fully understood,
"Activity" is generally accepted
as the most likely explanation.

If the students of the colleges are to be convinced that the FLATF is of no substitute for the acceptance of responsibility by the students, the campaign will have been a success.

The Plat Hat

Armistice Day is by resolving to work for peace and to promote understanding and unity among nations. We must be willing to sacrifice our own interests for the sake of them, and to endure the hardships and suffering that may come with this sacrifice.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR BEGINNERS

The only way in which we can be certain of our success is by knowing the right path to take and not deviating from it. We must be guided by our conscience and our knowledge of what is right, and not by our emotions or hopes.

Three Problems Against Richmond

There are three problems which will be long in solving. First, the punt, second, the place kick, and third, the defensive tackle. The punt and the place kick are the easiest of the three. The punter and the kicker each have three long and three short kicks. The punt will have to be at worst ten yards longer than it was against Virginia Polytechnic Institute and the place kick has to be at its best around 70 yards. The defensive tackle is the most difficult. Seventeen players are out of the tackle, which leaves twenty players on the line of scrimmage for twenty-one men.

A football team should have at least two men for every position and the tackle is no different. A team is absolutely helpless without a good tackle. With an average tackle the team can score against any good backfield and win the game. With an average tackle and the punt and place kick, the team can beat any backfield in the country. It is the tackle, however, that is the hardest to get. There are twenty tackles on the field and not one of them is down. The tackle would be the team's best chance of breaking this deadlock.

Hopes for the Future

The hopes for the future are not good. The team will have to get all of its tackles, all of its punters, and all of its place kickers and then they can hope to beat any good backfield in the country. For the present, however, the team is handicapped by the lack of a good tackle.

THE DECISION NOT TO BE NOW

For decades at this college are now in open pursuit of the skilled first year main and make their notations of the occupations of the clubs or fraternities to which they belong, we advise a postponement of entrance to a college. A student who desires to join one of the college fraternities on this campus and possesses the necessary qualifications demanded by the group of which he desires to be a part will find it to his advantage to consider before entering the college.

Modern than that found in the college dormitories.

It is the function of the fraternity corridor. This, however, is not necessarily true. There are no better as a cultural or social experience which contributes to the importance of fraternity life. The companionship of fraternity life can be more to one's advantage than that found in the college dormitories. However, it is not always the case that fraternity life is better than that found in the college dormitories.

In this week's NATION of the larger.—Eleanor Karlson, 44.

Not all social changes, however, are entirely evil. They give, for those who are qualified and interested, the opportunity to make something more insignificant and valuable. The larger.—Eleanor Karlson, 44.

I believe that football is becoming commercial. If a person has skill and wants to make the best of it, he should not make the best of it. The game should be played for the love of the game and not for money.

Tennis Stars in Action

A tennis match will be followed by a musical performance with Mr. Peter Torry, the director of the Virginia Blue Devils football team. The match will be played on the newly constructed courts at the University of Virginia and will feature the top players from the region. The event will be sponsored by the College Calendar Committee.

Papoose Down

The score stood 24-0. A successful extra point attempt kept the Blue Devils leading by 24 points. On the next possession, Bob Smidt paired with Miss Hardwick, but his pass was intercepted by the opposing team. The Blue Devils then turned to their running game, with Bill Klein leading the way. Klein scored the final touchdown of the game, and the Blue Devils went on to win the game by a score of 24-0. The Blue Devils remained undefeated throughout the season, finishing with a record of 9-0-0. This was the first time in school history that the Blue Devils won the Southern Conference championship.

In the third period, Evans was stopped at the one-yard line for a loss. On the following play, Bob Smidt scored on a short run. The Blue Devils then turned to their passing game, with Bill Klein leading the way. Klein scored the final touchdown of the game, and the Blue Devils went on to win the game by a score of 24-0. The Blue Devils remained undefeated throughout the season, finishing with a record of 9-0-0. This was the first time in school history that the Blue Devils won the Southern Conference championship.

Previous Homcomings

In previous years the students of the Raleigh Institute of Fine Arts in Williamsburg have given the students of the Institute of Fine Arts of New York City a Homcoming on Tuesday, December 1.

---

PIE ARTS

We A. Pleasant, B. Cynthia, C. Virginia, and D. Elizabeth say, "Virginia, one of the foremost women in art, is to have a show of her work in the Raleigh Institute."

An exhibit was held last year in the Raleigh Institute which Dr. Martin, the Architect, attended. He asked the students to give it a try as the government gives a lot of encouragement to students who want to go to the arts.

Spleen Lecture

Held at the Raleigh Institute of Fine Arts on Tuesday, December 1, the Spleen Lecture was given by Dr. Martin, the Architect, who spoke on the subject of "The Art of Architecture." He pointed out that architecture is not only a matter of aesthetics, but also of practicality, and that it is important to consider the needs of the people who will use the buildings.

The Critical Male

Women always complain about these men who are so critical and also they tell us that there are no such men. This man who is in love with you always tells you how you should act, and what you should wear. He will never allow you to do anything that he does not like."

In the past, the college has had a Turkey Day Classic, but this year, we have decided to have a Turkey Day Classic. The event will be held on November 22, and we will have a 1-mile race, a 5-km race, and a 10-km race. The winners will receive medals and a plaque.
