Tony Pastor Will Play For Midwinter Ball

Who Cares?

This space was reserved for the names of the candidates for seven student government offices, including the president of the student government, the junior class and two senior members of the men's Honor Council. The election for these posts will be held in the lobby of Phi Beta Kappa Hall on Thursday, February 10, 1949, at 8:00 p.m. The following candidates have been nominated for each office, at a total of 26.

The elections committee just forgot about it until they were reminded by the Flat Hat editor, who made sure that the topic would get the front page bill. The fact that it hasn't been filled is evident, but the committee did not bother circulating a petition. The result is an opportunity to fit students who have the necessary grades to run for office, are members of the freshmen class, or do not have the necessary grades to run for office, are members of the freshman class, to have an equal chance of being elected.

It is evident, first of all, that although students have been aware that these seven offices were to be filled for the past month, they did not find a single list on any of the bulletin boards.

It is evident, secondly, that the elections committee, which is composed of student government officials, among them the president of the 1939 class (three-time class president), and the chairman of the women's Honor Council (vice elected to the Honor Council by the apprenticeship committee), is apathetic as the students' representatives. One can hardly consider the students for their lack of interest in the election when the people so interested don't even bother to fill the front page.

It is evident, lastly, that only two men were interested enough in student government to bother circulating a petition. The result is an opportunity to fit students who have the necessary grades to run for office, are members of the freshmen class, or do not have the necessary grades to run for office, are members of the freshman class, to have an equal chance of being elected.

It is evident, finally, that William and Mary really has no priorities of which we are so proud; such as the founding of the Flat Hat, the Voice of America, the Italian Political Parties and Their Recent Developments is the topic on which Dr. Paolo Treves, member of the Italian Cultural Delegation, is speaking tonight at 8:00 p.m. in Marshall-Wythe Hall.

Dr. Treves, the son of the noted Italian Socialist leader, Claudio Treves, spent a total of seven years in the University of Turin, and his last 30 years of European history.

Dr. Treves has been translated into seven languages, and is now Vice Chairman of the Chamber of Deputies in the Italian government. He has also been re-elected to the Chamber of Deputies and is now Vice Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee. He is also a member of the Executive of the Independent Society of French students.

A recent book on Britain by Dr. Treves has been published in English and published in London under the title, The Mysterious Island. He is an accomplished writer, having written a long historical essay on the last 50 years of European history.

Tony Pastor, the man whose last appearance on this campus was reported to be nothing short of sensational, was named Thomas Thomson, chairman of the college dance committee, as the band to play at the annual Midwinter Ball. The dance will be held on Friday, March 25.

At the same time it was announced that Tony Pastor will play for the Midwinter Ball at the university. Pastor, who formerly sang with Artie Shaw's orchestra played for finals in 1941 and again in 1942. According to all reports, he was seen several times during the week. His vocal rendition of "Make Believe" brought his success to the campus, and when the last verse of the song was played, the audience begged for more. As popular was Pastor's version of "How Much More" for the final verse of the song.

The Flat Hat editor, who made sure that this Midwinter dance will have to call some of the other students to fill the men's Honor Council. The Italian Cultural Delegation promised to fill the gap by nominating four candidates for each office, as per the student government constitution; the elections committee, which is composed of student government officials, among them the president of the 1939 class (three-time class president), and the chairman of the women's Honor Council (vice elected to the Honor Council by the apprenticeship committee), is apathetic as the students' representatives. One can hardly consider the students for their lack of interest in the election when the people so interested don't even bother to fill the front page.

The Candidates

With the new session of Congress getting ready for its Spring session, we find that the candidates they will have to face is a positive legislation in regard to a federal bonus for veterans of the two World Wars. This bill, which was introduced in the House of Representatives, is being actively debated in both houses. The bill, if passed, will provide a bonus of $1 for each day of service in the armed forces, up to a maximum of $200. It is hoped that this bill will be signed into law soon and will become effective as early as possible.

Our candidate is not a glory-monger. He has on several occasions stated that the nomination was not for him. Nonetheless, he continues to work hard and to fight for his cause. We believe that he deserves your consideration. We feel certain that he will make a fine candidate and that he will do everything in his power to help those in need.

King Slams Exams

King Jaylen, a senior at our college, has written an article criticizing the current exam system. He argues that students are not being fairly assessed, and that the exams are too difficult. He suggests that a new system be developed that rewards students for their hard work and dedication.

Letters To The Editor

To the editor:

I hereby disagree with the sentiments expressed in the letter "The Flat Hat" concerning the interests of the women's intramural activities. As a member of the tennis team, I feel that the time we spend playing tennis is well worth it. It is a fun activity that helps us stay healthy and fit.

Retention disgusted the women of the intramural tennis team. We are frustrated with the lack of interest from the men in our league. We feel that more publicity and encouragement are needed to get more men involved.

A new proposal has been introduced in Congress that would provide a bonus for veterans of World War II. The bonus would be equal to the amount of money the veteran invested in the country during the war. This proposal is supported by many members of Congress and is expected to be debated in the near future.
It is seldom that a football coach is able to hire an ex-player from a team of his own as his assistant and get a man of the obvious ability and outstanding personal stature. And when he does, this is a coaching coup, one hesitates to call it, for he must be ready at all times to give up to a school which can offer greater opportunity or advantages to that individual.

In the case at William and Mary with the likeable Marvin Bass, who served as line coach of the Big Green for the past five seasons following a very successful tenure as star tackle here, and some men have seen better days.

Bass will be leaving Williamstown this week to take a job which offers many new possibilities to the big grid teacher from Petersburg. His new position at Randolph-Macon offers many new possibilities to the big grid teacher from Petersburg. His new position at Randolph-Macon.

Nine-Game 1949 Football Schedule Lists Tilts With Pitt, Michigan State

As an ambitious and attractive 1949 football schedule was released last week by Athletic Director Rube McCray. That slate will see the Indian play four home games and five other contests at widely separated points. It is expected that another contest will be added to fill the November 12 spot which was occupied by Boston College last season but is listed as open now.

The schedule in its form is the slate in the form of North Carolina, Wake Forest and N. C. State. William and Mary is sandwiched between Delaware and Notre Dame on the Carolina schedule, incidentally.

McCray Appoints Stockroth Intramural Program Director

Bob Stockroth, popular co-captain of the 1947 Southern Conference champion Indians, has been appointed to assist with intramurals and the freshman basketball team. R. N. (Rube) McCray, head of the physical education department, made the announcement last week, stating, "He will assist in the absence of Howard Smith, who has been given leave of absence this semester to complete the requirements for his master's degree at Syracuse University."

Steckroth, who graduated last August, is at present working on his master's degree in physical education. He first arrived on the reservation in September, 1941, playing on the freshman football squad as a guard. During the 1942 season, he was switched to end, which position he is best remembered. "Steck," as he is called by his friends, left in February, 1943, for a three-year term in the Air Force. He re-entered school in February, 1946. The fall of 1946 was his first varsity season, when he played end, making the All-State team.

The next year, 1947, was "Steck's" best season with the Big Indians. See STECKROTH, Page 2.

W&M Ranks Among Leaders In National Cage Statistics

William and Mary or an individual Big Green player, appears in every department of statistics released by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, but very few of the nation's top ranking teams appear among the standout hon­eys. In team defense, Oklahoma A&M, with their defensive style of basketball, have held all their opponents down to an average of 34.3 points a game. University of Cincinnati is leading with an average of 72.7 points scored per game, but very few of the nation's top ranking teams appear among the uppermost leaders.

Two powerful newcomers, the University of Pittsburgh and Michigan State add some big names to the slate, which also lists the University of Arkansas among the able intersectional foes of the Big Green Indians.

Three of the "Big Four" for the tough Wake-Orange county loop from North Carolina are on the slate in the form of North Carolina, Wake Forest and N. C. State. William and Mary is sandwiched between Delaware and Notre Dame on the Carolina schedule, incidentally.

As usual, three Virginia "Big Nine" schools are on the card. They are Richmond, Virginia Tech and VMI. Again the University of Virginia is conspicuous only by its absence from the William and Mary schedule.

At present, six Southern Conference games are listed on the slate, and if the other date is filled, it is not likely to be with a loop school.

The schedule:

Sept. 24 — Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh.
Oct. 1 — Virginia Tech at Williamsburg.
Oct. 15 — Virginia Military at Williamsburg.
Oct. 29 — East Lansing.
Nov. 5 — North Carolina at Little Rock.
Nov. 12 — Open.
Nov. 19 — Arkansas at Little Rock.
Nov. 26 — N. C. State at Williamsburg.

All men interested in forming a William and Mary golf team are requested to meet Coach William G. Gooch at 1:30 p. m., Monday, February 14, in the Blow Gymnasium Lounge.

W&M ranks fourth with .345 in field goal percentage, having scored 317 times out of 814 shots, some scoring in any man's basket. W&M ranks fourth with .247, with 524 field goals made out of 1391 attempted. The free throw percentage leader is the University of Colorado with .716, the Tribe being 11th with .470.

The individual leader in points scored is Tony Lavelli, who has averaged 23.0 points in the 13 games that he has played. Champion Giermak still ranks fourth, averaging 20.1 points per game exactly. He is the only one of two players in the nation that has scored over 400 points.

No William and Mary player appears in the free throw department. Schoen of Valparaiso is leading with .874. He has scored 42 free throws out of 47 tried. But forward Bob Holley of William and Mary is first in the country in field goal percentage, having racked up .570, and the Tribe's try in field goal percentage, having racked up .570, and the Tribe's try in field goal percentage, having racked up .570, and the Tribe's try in field goal percentage, having racked up .570, and the Tribe's try in field goal percentage, having racked up .570, and the Tribe's try in field goal percentage, having racked up .570, and the Tribe's try in field goal percentage, having racked up .570, and the Tribe's try in field goal percentage, having racked up .570, and the Tribe's try in field goal percentage, having racked up .570. Braves Top Virginia Tech, Amphibs into a one-point lead in the first half. The Braves downed Little Valley, 83-79, with scoring. The Indians played a good game, but they have been guilty of.

Since the last issue of THE FLAT HAT, the William and Mary basketball team ventured forth four times and broke even, not counting last night's contest with the Newport News Boys' Club. The Tribe, with a remarkable winning streak, hit 80 percent from the floor and 90 percent from the field. But when the State reserves started in the second half and the Tribe began their one-man show, it was strictly no contest.

The Tribe encountered the Chapel Hill January 20, and fell behind. But after the class White Phantom of North Carolina by a 58-41 count. It was strictly Carolina all the way, with the Indians trailing throughout, although threatening to come quite a bit toward the end of both halves. Combining the sharpshooting of Coy Carson, who bucketed 39 points, with the twin stars work by Robert Neuman, the Tribe rocketed to a 15-point lead before the Braves knew the game had started.

The game continued about even in the second stanza until, with about five minutes to play remaining, Terrell coach Tom Dick died to pound the ball. The Indians caught fire then and closed the gap to 48-49, the final score. All was not dark for the Tribe, however, because the big man himself McMillan dropped in 21 points to lead the visiting squad. Chin Giermak opened the scoring on a tip-in, Giermak-to-Bunting-to-Giermak and then pulled up to within a single point of the Wolfpack at 49-48.

But when the State reserves started, the Tribe never lost their footing and McMillan unleashed a 12-point outburst in the second half to give the Tribe a 69-61 victory. The Tribe have now been guilty of.

The top contest of that group was played in Norfolk Saturday night with Cow's Arms of State. It was simply too much for Virginia. The Tribesmen journeyed to Blow Monday tomorrow afternoon in preparation for their opening day. A recent addition to the schedule finds the foremost meeting the Puppets, now under the direction of Nick Forrest and Ronnie Barnes with nine markers each, and Charlie Broadus and Johnny Cope, each with seven, in the spotlight.

In their first tilt after returning to the court following exams, a game played on the Central YMCA Court in Richmond, Friday night, the Puppets toppled Union Theological Seminary by a 75-54 count.

"It's all over but the shouting. The last game of the women's basketball intramurals were played the week before exams, as Jefferson and Barrett fought it out for the 1948-49 championship, which was thoroughly discussed.

The one that follows came to the following forwards, Lee Riggins, Jefferson, Ludy Hoover,

the Jefferson team. Nancy Jackson was chosen to captain this team.

As usual the end of every sport season seems to call for various and sundry All-Star teams, and this one is no exception. The one that follows came about as the result of several heads being put together and the relative merits of all teams being thoroughly discussed.

The first team forwards include "BZ" Reavis and Ann Huffman of the winning Jefferson team and Nancy Alexander of Chillicothe;
the guards are Susie Tillott, Avery Leavitt and Nancy Jackson, all of the Jefferson team. Nancy Jackson was chosen to explain this mythical team.

As for the second team, the forwards are Juanita Pomeroy, Chan-

Overwhelmed last Saturday by a strong, experienced St. James

Architects Reconstruct Craig House
From Newly Discovered Photograph

The authentic reconstruction of a colonial dwelling here—largely made possible from an old photograph taken at a young people's outing of the 1890's—has been completed as the second project to be finished in the $189,000 post-war building program of Colonial Williamsburg. Work on the James Craig House, next to the historic Raleigh Tavern on Duke of Gloucester Street here, was started early this month and the house is now to be used as a private residence.

The principal key to the accurate reconstruction of the quaint structure was found in an old photograph taken of a school class of the city in the 1890s. The old photograph, which was made available to Colonial Williamsburg by Elizabeth Agnes and Catherine Moreover, local residents, shows the front of the Craig House and gave the architects invaluable clues as to the structural and decorative details of cornice, window treatments and doorways.

Reconstruction was begun in April of 1948 as part of the final phase of the physical restoration of the city to "fill in the gaps" in the colonial scene here.

GI Bill Requires Veterans To Abide By Regulations

Veterans enrolled in schools and colleges under the GI Bill must comply with the regulations prescribed standards and practices of the educational institutions during their period of enrollment, Veterans Administration said.

Students must abide by all the rules and regulations of the institutions where they are enrolled. They must maintain satisfactory academic marks. They must also comply with the regulations of probation and tuition payments.

Insurance
Veterans holding National Service Life Insurance policies are urged by Veterans Administration to review their GI benefits. VA said changes may be made at any time, and as often as necessary, by notifying the VA's office maintaining the policies. Changes can be authorized only for veterans with service-connected disabilities or injuries or diseases incurred in service. Some wives now erroneous believe they also are entitled to hospital treatment under VA policies.

Hospitalization
Hospitalization and outpatient treatment provided by Veterans Administration are not available to members of veterans' families, although their family status has changed, VA said. Changes may be made at any time, and as often as necessary, by notifying the VA's office maintaining the policies. Changes can be authorized only for veterans with service-connected disabilities or injuries or diseases incurred in service.

Outpatient treatment is available only for veterans with service-connected disabilities. Their eligibility must be determined by VA before treatment under the following priority system:

First—Emergency cases.
Second—Those suffering from injuries or diseases incurred in or aggravated by military service.
Third—Those who are under age and are unable to pay hospital charges for treatment of non-service-connected disabilities or illnesses. These veterans, if not in the emergency category, must wait until a bed becomes available.

A trophy will be awarded to the outstanding basketball player on this year's Indian squad by the sophomore class. It was announced this week by Buddy Grady, vice-president of the class. The plan for the presentation by the class was presented at a recent class meeting.

A student poll of the entire student body determined the selection of the player to whom the trophy will be presented. The voting will take place this week at college corner, and the announcement will be made at the last home game, which is February 21, when the Indians meet the Washington and Lee Generals.

The award will be made at the end of the game and those attending the game are asked to remain seated until the ceremonies are completed, stated Grady. Plans are being made to have station WLOW cover the event.

Student Elections Reveal Apathetic U.S. Attitude

By Dick Haggis, Vice-President, National Students Association.

In a student election held at one large university last month, the total vote recorded represented only one-fourth of the eligible student body. If this event were an isolated one, there would not be great cause to worry. But such a vote is far from an unusual United States college and university event. One college, a tiny, tightly-knit school has the vote normally been relatively large, but in knitted school has the vote normally been less than one-fourth of the eligible student body. If this event were an isolated one, there would be an isolated event.

The incapacity cited must be eliminated if student governments are to become more than the playthings of the few. Every student and every educator interested in the development of a more intelligent and aware citizenry must redouble his efforts toward such elimination of his hopes to reach fruition. The NSA stands ready at all times to assist and promote these efforts.

A climax to the band concert which is to be presented late in March under the direction of Alan C. Stewart, will be the debut of an original student song, William and Mary Victory March, words by R. E. Kennard, class of 1956, and music by O. C. Zinsmeister.

W&M To Administer Pre-Engineering Test

The Pre-Engineering Inventory examination, which will be used by colleges and universities to determine a student's qualifications for admission to their engineering schools, will be held in Washington 213 on March 8, between the hours of 9 a.m. to noon and from 2 to 5 p.m.

Under a new system an application for the examination and a bulletin of information will be distributed to all prospective registrants by the Educational Testing Service upon request. Registration for the examination which is open to both men and women, may be completed through appropriate applications and the seven dollar fee directed the Educational Testing Service at least two weeks in advance of the examination date.

Richard R. Brooks, director of Counseling, will administer the test.

Wilkins Announces WSSF Drive For Students Of War-Torn Countries

The chairman of the World Student Service Fund, W. Elliott Wilkins, Jr., today urged all students to contribute when they are asked to give to the fund. The drive will begin February 21 and will end on the 28th.

Each student is asked to give one dollar a year to help buy textbooks, provide clothing, food, and medical care for students in war-torn countries. The World Student Service Fund plays an important role in the reconstruction and re-establishment of academic life in which sometimes as many as 10 students use a single textbook, often students live and study in unheated rooms and have not enough clothes to keep them warm. The WSSF provides only the barest necessities for them, and every contribution counts for something.

"Most WSSF workers—all of those at Williams and Mary donate their time and labor, and almost all of your dollar, in the form of shoes, books, food, and the like, will reach some student who might not have them at all without WSSF help," Wilkins stated.

"A dollar is not much in a year's time—an afternoon movie once in four months, or a milkshake about every other month, or less than two ice cream cones a month—and when it is given to the WSSF, the return on the investment is immeasurable in terms of goodwill and the satisfaction of doing for someone else what every one of us would like to have done for himself if the circumstances were reversed," he concluded.
