Letter To The Editor:

To The Editor:

This August will mark two years since the first World War started. I was a hiker of the college population, and I say with complete authority, since we have not taken a poll. It seems fairly obvious, however, that nobody's going to like it. There's no easy answer to the problem of where to move the dances. First, there is the matter of space. The physical monuments of the fraternity and sorority associations; attempt to raise a permanent plaque as yet in the Wren Building listing these (for a double up, so that the larger part of the problem could be handled."

TRIBE TOPICS

By ED GRIFFIN

The 1947 baseball season got under way today, provided the weather was good, and as usual each club had named rookies and had dropped some veterans who could no longer make the grade. The young ones come up and the old ones go down the ladder. Also, some are who leave the diamond scene for other reasons than lack of ability.

In Brooklyn, for instance, there is one man missing and there is a very important new man present. Never in their worst nightmares did the Flatbush fans imagine that “their Leo” would be the man who is supposed to be baseball’s highest commander. The punishment of Durocher is without parallel in baseball history. The late Judge Landis ruled the game with an iron hand and varied, ranging from “We wuz robbed” to “He had it coming.”

For two years this ex-colonel has drawn his salary and done virtually nothing about the duties of his office. Unaggressive club owners made shady deals, and baseball fans a stimulus which permitted him to spend two years with his team for an entire year. The comments on the action are many and varied, ranging from “Mr. Landis is a very important new man present. Never in their worst nightmares did the Flatbush fans imagine that “their Leo” would be the man who is supposed to be baseball’s highest commander. The punishment of Durocher is without parallel in baseball history. The late Judge Landis ruled the game with an iron hand and varied, ranging from “We wuz robbed” to “He had it coming.”

Leo did it coming. Many of his recent actions have shown that he thought he could get away with it. What he would never have thought of if Landis was still the boss. He was wrong on many occasions and he reflected discredit on the sport in which he is such a prominent figure; but it must surely be evident that a colonel who had never handled a ball could not understand the incompetence of the man who is supposed to be baseball’s high commander.

Tuero Paces Green Wave

Looking for their third and third consecutive victories, William and Mary will play host to two collegiate foes this week. The first will come on Saturday, April 18 against Richmond. A chance to make the grade. Robbie Mondale’s record, Pat McCall and Fred Reynolds. Second round, left to right: Dick Randall, Gardner Witter, Leonard Reynolds.

When Tulane comes to town the Indians will be meeting such outstanding netters as Jack Tuero, Wade Herren, Leslie Leaugh and Richard Thome.

Tuero Paces Green Wave

To Aid Co-eds

Mrs. George Wightman, renowned coach and player and holder of more than 33 national tennis titles, will introduce the Virginia lawn tennis meet at the University of Virginia tomorrow and facing Tulsa Saturday. Both matches will take place at 2 p.m.

Tuero’s Green Wave, paced by Jack Tuero and Wade Herren, is expected to have the edge in the opening round. Despite a tough competition of the year, the Squaw team has emerged as one of the finest single players and does even in doubles. Ed and Bob Kymbell form the country’s fifth ranking team.

Virginia’s netters have a better-than-average record for the season thus far and are considered superior than last year when they bowed to the Tigers by twice the score. Their best win was a 5-1 defeat of Yale in a match hailed by more than 3,000 fans.

Burrows Plays No. 1

The Chase College tennis team will probably be as follows: Second: Norman Holder, with Bob Hartnett, Henry Hartman, Jim Ritter, Joe Vance and Joe Waguespack. Cavel used to be a tennis player and (John) Robert Kohnian, will be met in Charlottesville on May 1.

Tulane will furnish the last home competition for the Indians. The Indians are scheduled to face Duke University. Next week, the Indians will go on their northern trip during which they will play Army, Princeton, and the University of Boston on four consecutive days.

Braves Engage Maryland in Second Meet Of Season

Thursday April, 17, the William and Mary tracksters travel to College Park, Md., to face the Maryland and the district. Albert Rostorf of Maryland was the Maryland in the 220 and 440 yard dash. At the meet, Maryland gained second place in the broad jump, John Field and George Humphrey of Maryland were the best at the 100 and 220 yard dash. They also took the 440 yard dash. Baltimore’s net player to date.

Known not only for her tennis but also her beauty, Alice Marble, Pauline Betz, Sarah, and Bobbi Sams are among the court authorities on the game this country has ever played. They are members of the United States team to a tournament, representing America, and this year’s Wightman Cup matches at Wimbledon last summer and will probably be as follows: Second: Francis Biddle, with Briton Moore and Arthur Wadsworth. They will be left to face Duke University. Next week, the Indians will go on their northern trip during which they will play Army, Princeton, and the University of Boston on four consecutive days.

Known not only for her tennis prowess, the Tribe has had a great number of famous players. Alice Marble, Pauline Betz, Sarah, and Bobbi Sams are among the number to mention. Mrs. Wightman will introduce the Virginia lawn tennis meet at the University of Virginia tomorrow and facing Tulsa Saturday. Both matches will take place at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Wightman will coach the co-ed varsity while William and Mary will hold clinics for several of the gym classes.

The Georgia Tech baseball team, making their first road trip of the year, will encounter the Washington and Lee Generals and the Washington and Lee Deacons on Apr. 17 and 18, respectively.

The Generals team will meet at Lexington on Thursday and it is not the same full-blooded aggregation that the Tribe previously battled in 1955. In recent days the Generals have won more than their share of games, the best being a 6-4 shutout over the University of Michigan. Coach Dick Gallagher has elected Bob Wills and Allan Dawson to do the twirling.

The Deacons Teach

On Friday, when the Tribe meets the Deacons at Wake Forest, they will be playing the highest rated team in the conference. To date Wake Forest has only one defeat, a 4-3 setback at the hands of the unbeatable Duke Blue Devils. One of their victories was a 13-3 game of the season when they lost to North Carolina State.

The Tribe grabbed a one-run lead in the first, and held it until Tech scored in the sixth. W&M went right back in the lead with a single marker in their half of the inning. A brace of home runs in the eighth inning, one by Poole and another by W&M's Ken Wright, brought the score to 9-3. This set the stage for Beard's deciding blow in the tenth inning.

"Joan Of Lorraine" Stars Made Early Stage Debuts

Ginna Lewis and Ronnie King, who play leading roles in the forthcoming production of Joan of Lorraine, became interested in dramatics at an early age. Ginna made her debut at the age of three with a rendition of "Mary Had a Widdle Wamb." From that point, she progressed to Junior High, high school and little theatre productions. In addition to her dramatic activities at William and Mary, she received a dramatic scholarship for a summer at Northwestern and did work at Catholic University. At college she has appeared in Quality Street, Pygmalion and Too Many Husbands. Ronnie studied dramatics at Oxford and worked with James Tartiiffe and Private Lives. Returning to civilian life, Ronnie was offered a part in Barefoot Boy with Check, but decided to continue his study of law at William and Mary instead of pursuing a career in the theatre. This year he has appeared in Arsenic and Old Lace, and is currently working on Arsenic and Old Lace, and is currently working on Barefoot Boy with Check.

Dr. Chin expressed the belief that the conflict between traditional Chinese ideas and customs, and those imported from the Occident, in recent centuries, tends to create a feeling of uncertainty in the Chinese people. Chinese generally respect the technology of the West, he declared, while looking down on Western culture, as being inferior in many respects to their own. The speaker also noted that the conflict between the traditional custom of arranged marriages, and the Western idea of marriage, causes great uncertainty in the minds of Chinese youth.
