Phi Beti Will Initiate Dec. 4
Dr. James F. Baxter /To Deliver Address

At the one hundred sixty-seventh anniversary of the Phi Beta Kappa society, the Alpha chapter of Virginia of the Phi Beta Kappa society, Dr. James F. Baxter, the thirty-second president of Bowdoin College, will deliver an address at 8 P. M. Saturday, December 4, in Phi Beta Kappa audiorium. Dr. Baxter received his B. S. and Ph. D. at Harvard. He was President of Hunter College from 1897 until 1937, when he became pres­ident of Williams College. In 1941, he became director of research and analyst for coordination informa­tion in Washington, D. C.

The annual Phi Beta Kappa poem, written by Robert F. Tria­man Coffin, a member of the faculty of Bowdoin College and Pulitzer prize winner in 1960 for his book of poems, “Strange Belongings,” was also written for this occasion. All members of the faculty and student body are invited to attend this lecture. Following this, there will be the formal meeting of the officers and members in Memorial Hall and the Dodge Room.

Proceeding the evening program, and a reflection on the response of the newly elected members from the alumni and class of '44, there will be the placing of the gavel of the Wren Building. Following the installation, the members and their individual guests will dine at the Williamsburg Inn.

Klaus Liepmann Says William Mary the violinist expressed the idea all, there is a general need for co­ordinated Government Association.

Chi Omega Leads With Twenty-Nine As Sorority Pledging Totals 150 Girls

American Art On Exhibition

Freshmen will be entertained Tuesday, November 30, at an Open House at Brattleton Kitchens. The Alumni Office has sponsored an Open House for each class, this one being the last in the series. To date, the largest group was pres­ent at the party for Juniors.

Seniors are invited to attend the Phi Beta Kappa exercises in the auditorium, Saturday, December 4, the reception following, in an­nounced costume.

The Rec-office in Phi Beta Kappa Hall will be open Monday, December 1, from 1 to 4 P. M., for the sale of tickets to “The Patriots.” The sale will continue through Thu­rsday, December 8.

The names of any students in­vited to join Phi Beta Kappa by the Dean of Women will be published in the week­ly report to the faculty of students’ affairs. Both the Dean of Wo­men and the Dean of Men are re­ceiving names for addition to the list.

Prof. Weygandt To Lecture Here

Beginning on Wednesday, De­cember 1, Dr. Weygandt, professor at the University of Pennsylvania, will give a series of lectures. Dr. Weygandt is listed as one of the three outstanding living Pennsyl­vanian authors. His best known books are “Philadelphia Police” and “The Dutch Country,” and “Down Jersey.”

These lectures will be held, let alone the Dodge Room, at 8:00 Wednesday evening, and the subject will be “The Gardener’s Library.” Following this lecture, an informal re­ception will be given for Dr. Wey­gandt and the various members of the administrative and govern­ment association.

All undergraduates present at the (Continued on Page 4)

Echo Material Due; Cooperation Urged

Deedee Armor, editor of the Col­legian Echo, would like to remind all the seniors that lists of their articles, which are due at the same time, and that they must be turned in assoon as possible to Joan Pau­kel, Mirror and Echo Office at the earliest possible time. Then will return, various clubs have not written their histories—and, all in­terest in Classical Music.

Lacks Interest In Classical Music

The response of the audience to the lecture of Professor Liepmann, who drew out a piece of paper, says, “I don’t know what to do. Liepmann praised the hir­ering.” Liepmann praised the hir­ering.” Liepmann praised the hir­ering.” Liepmann praised the hir­ering.” Liepmann praised the hir­ering.”

Echoes from an American group are now on exhibition in the Williamsburg Inn. There were two men taken—“Orchestra” and “Colleges are going to be the center of musical culture,” says Klaus Liepmann, “and it is up to the University of Pennsylvania, to which he is now on tour with a cast of ten weeks.” The University will be presented here on the evenings of December 2 and 8 and be­ing held at the University of Penn­sylvania, where the students are invited to attend the party for Juniors.

Klaus Liepmann Says William Mary
Lacks Interest In Classical Music

By JEAN BEAZLEY

In the intermin between finishing his duties for the University of Penn­sylvania, Klaus Liepmann, noted violinist, took time out to give an informal interview about the University of Pennsylvania, a European, Mr. Liepmann, tall, dark, and charming, expressed his pleasure in being here at Will­liam Mary, but commented on the lack of interest in classical music of the students at William Mary. He and other colleges he had visited.

On the subject of the importance of music, Mr. Liepmann believes that the violinist expressed the idea that there is a large portion of the concert audience of today are comprised of service men who en­joy classical music. The college girls had better show some inter­est in it if they want to remain on the cultural level with the men. The American attitude must be changed, and is coming gradually to the point where music will be consid­ered an interesting, entertaining, and worthwhile art.

“Colleges should be the center of musical culture,” says Klaus Liepmann, “and it is up to the students to take their proper part.” He also advocated practical appli­cation of the ideas of music in the education. “Education would not stop with the conclusion of a lecture, but it would have to be a com­bined series of everyday life and not ignored as being ‘highfalutin’.”

The response of the audience to the lecture of Professor Liepmann, who drew out a piece of paper, says, “I don’t know what to do. Liepmann praised the hiring.” Liepmann praised the hiring.” Liepmann praised the hiring.” Liepmann praised the hiring.” Liepmann praised the hiring.”

Music is a part of a balanced education, it should be a fac­tory of our intellectual life as well as appreciation of the beauty of life are shown in the “Round House” and “New York” as a traveling display. Numerous color prints in the group.

A™* Pf Bids Wednesday

“The Patriots” Given Dec. 8-9

“During the present throes and convulsions of the Aflrican world, a world which has been rendered blood and slaughter abroad, it was not to be expected that the agitation of the race should ever reach this distant and peaceful shore; that it should be more felt and feared by some than by others. I believe this is the strongest government on earth. I believe this government is the world’s best hope.”

With these stirring lines from Thomas Jefferson’s inaugural address, the curtain falls on “The Patri­ots,” the outstanding historical drama by Sidney Kingsley, to be presented here on the evenings of December 8 and 9 by the Wil­liam Mary Players. The play received in Philadelphia, Rochester, and other cities with much success, and is at present playing a two-week run in Washington, D. C.

This play, winner of the Drama Critics Circle Award, and named by Beren Mantle as one of the best plays of the past New York season, is now on tour with a cast including Walter Hampden, Julie Haydon, Cecil Hemphill, and Guy Kibbe Martin. It has been received in Philadelphia, Rochester, and other cities with much success, and is at present playing a two-week run in Washington, D. C.

To the action taken place in the years between 1790 and 1801, from the time Jefferson returns from France as minister of state, until he is inaugurated as President. The dialogue brings forth the (Continued on Page 4)

PKB Poet Gits Lecture, Readings

Mr. Robert P. Tristram Coffin, the Phi Beta Kappa poet for the exercises on December 4, will give an informal lecture and readings in the Dodge Room, Friday even­ing, December 3, at 8:00 o'clock.

Mr. Coffin is a distinguished poet, essayist, biographer, and novel­list. He is Professor of English at Barnard and won the Pulitzer Prize in 1966.
ASTU Chooses Council; Six Trainees Are Officers

Robert B. Holland-Heads New Cadet Council
With Baets, Slater, Three Councilmen-at-Large

In Phi Beta Kappa Hall, on Tuesday, November 23, 1943, the ASTU elected a Cadet Council of six men, consisting of three officers and three councilmen-at-large. Officers of the council are trainees. President, Robert B. Holland; Vice-President, Paul E. Baets; Secretary-Treasurer, Nelson Slater, Jr.; Councilmen-at-Large: Solvin Schmid, Edward Neville, and Robert C. Vail Ramsey.

The Council is to function as a medium for the exchange of ideas concerning mutual problems between the trainees and the administration.

Analytically, the election itself left much to be desired. There was no previous announcement that an election was coming, nor may not organize to function as a Clerical School of the Sixth Service. There was no previous announcement concerning mutual problems between the trainees and the administration. "

Lt: To Attend QMC School
At Camp Lee
Expected To Return
At End of January

Second officer to leave 3321 ASTU in November was Lt. Alfred G. Worner, Captain Silas Smith, Georgia Tech, Major George F. McGinn was detached from the Naval Reserve and took a leave of absence prior to going to sea duty. In the outside Army, soldiers cooperate in many programs and activities. Almost of the 460 men enrolled in the 3321 S.U. have had some previous college education in 114 universities, colleges, military academies, and technological institutions throughout the United States. From Maine to Texas, from Florida to California, these men have attended some of the finest educational institutions in America. In the Army, he was engaged in military intelligence, and, before his assignment to the 3321 S.U, he was on the staff of the Chaplain General School of the sixth service command. His absence, will be brief, but last the Graduation Day, he will return and resume his duties with the A.F.T. Before entering the Army, Lt. Worner had attended the American Institute of Banking in California.

In the Army, he was engaged in military intelligence, and, before his assignment to the 3321 S.U, he was on the staff of the Chaplain General School of the sixth service command. His absence, will be brief, but last the Graduation Day, he will return and resume his duties with the A.F.T. Before entering the Army, Lt. Worner had attended the American Institute of Banking in California.

Chaplains Assist In W.A.M. Athletics

Although members of the Chaplain School and members of the trainee body are greatly separated, all students can cooperate in many programs and other activities. At many of the new and former colleges, the official staff of the Chaplain School, Ensign Lenhoff and Chap. Betty Officer Miller officiate as head linemen and timekeeper in the Thanksgiving game with the Norfolk Marines.

Another impetus was given by the Chaplain Aides just Thursday, November 25, for the college students and faculty. These entertainment programs have been arranged by various academic courses, and cooperated with many in programs and other activities. At many of the new and former colleges, the official staff of the Chaplain School, Ensign Lenhoff and Chap. Betty Officer Miller officiate as head linemen and timekeeper in the Thanksgiving game with the Norfolk Marines.

Barclay & Sons
CERTIFIED OROLOGISTS
2012 Washington Avenue
Newport News, Va.

C A L L 1 2 7
For Your Winter Needs
Coal and Fuel Oil

Williamsburg Coal Co., Inc.

The Trading Post

Many ASTU Men Have Had Previous Education In College

By Pvt. Pletcher Cox, Jr.

When that ASTU GI does have a turn over in career, try to find words to express himself, don't be too quick to judge him. Many of these men have served the nation unable to hit the nail on the head first thing—don't try to push a soldier off on your room-mate. The chances are 50-50 that he has several years of college under his belt, and could debate a topic such as "Russia and the Post-War World" pretty well on his own home grounds.

Half of the soldier-students of the 3321 S.U. have had some previous college education in 114 universities, colleges, military academies, and technological institutions throughout the United States. From Maine to Texas, from Florida to California, these men have attended some of the finest educational institutions in America. In the Army, he was engaged in military intelligence, and, before his assignment to the 3321 S.U, he was on the staff of the Chaplain General School of the sixth service command. His absence, will be brief, but last the Graduation Day, he will return and resume his duties with the A.F.T. Before entering the Army, Lt. Worner had attended the American Institute of Banking in California.

The real value and significance of such an establishment cannot be over-emphasized. It is a fortunate fact that the Army, as a whole, cannot permit explanation or public rationalization of its decisions, refusal or requests, or of the myriad facets of its organization. It must function in any other way. But here at ASCU Men Have Had Previous Education In College

By Pvt. Pletcher Cox, Jr.

When that ASTU GI does have a turn over in career, try to find words to express himself, don't be too quick to judge him. Many of these men have served the nation unable to hit the nail on the head first thing—don't try to push a soldier off on your room-mate. The chances are 50-50 that he has several years of college under his belt, and could debate a topic such as "Russia and the Post-War World" pretty well on his own home grounds.

Half of the soldier-students of the 3321 S.U. have had some previous college education in 114 universities, colleges, military academies, and technological institutions throughout the United States. From Maine to Texas, from Florida to California, these men have attended some of the finest educational institutions in America. In the Army, he was engaged in military intelligence, and, before his assignment to the 3321 S.U, he was on the staff of the Chaplain General School of the sixth service command. His absence, will be brief, but last the Graduation Day, he will return and resume his duties with the A.F.T. Before entering the Army, Lt. Worner had attended the American Institute of Banking in California.

The real value and significance of such an establishment cannot be over-emphasized. It is a fortunate fact that the Army, as a whole, cannot permit explanation or public rationalization of its decisions, refusal or requests, or of the myriad facets of its organization. It must function in any other way. But here at
WAM Jobs Are Varied; Serve Food, Sell Corsages

The WAMS' on the U.S.O. division of the War Council are now working in regularly scheduled activities. Last week they decorated the Matthews Whaley gymnasium for the Thanksgiving Eve dance, conducted a tour of the campus on Wednesday afternoon and helped in the noon hour and library. The newest duty of the students is that of serving breakfast to service men in the Presbyterian and Baptist churches from 7:30 to 9:30 on Tuesdays. Last week they decorated the chapel for Thanksgiving. This party was a great success. Decorators were done so well that the committee was asked to leave them up for a dance in the near future. Kay Leav'ey and Ruth Schmitz were in charge of this special dance. Midge Mitchell took care of the refreshments. Klinnie Lowrie was put in charge of the entertainment. Ann James did the invitations, and Fran Butler and Dolly Pitchesch were chairmen of the clean-up committee and decoration, respectively.

Dean of Women for working at the Student Assembly. She wears an all-wool dress from the Williamsburg Movie

Rush Week Scene

She has regained her former self. As President of the Phi Pi chapter here, since Representative to the Student Assembly, and Head of the U.S.O. Committee, and editor of the aforementioned post on radio, she seems to have done a great deal of work here that can't be sacrificed.

Pet. Against some, I think we would all profit by the arrangements. As for the time thing, I don't think we should have a separate team. If it is possible, I think it's the only way to play really good games.

Butt McGillicuddy: Certainly, the Army should play with the students if they are allowed to. They are college students, and both teams will be improved by combination. I'm afraid they didn't have that many girls on this team from here that could be spared.

Pet. Everett Beattie: Yes, I think we would all profit by the arrangements. As for the time thing, I don't think we should have a separate team. If it is possible, I think it's the only way to play really good games.

Kernit Kitman: The army will have a good team anyway, but we wouldn't play to play many other students in the team unless they combine with the students. It would be hard to pick a really first-rate team from two mediocre ones.

Paul Meinhold: Such an arrangement would bring students and army into better contact. The army will be ready to play any college that the Student Assembly suggests. So much for the arrangement.

Butt McGillicuddy: Yes, it is suggested that there be some small impertinent quantities of the method is simple and it takes little time to acquire a collection. The most important thing is to be cautious and not commit yourself to your ownartenf and make it a collection.

Committee, public relations officer of the A.S.P. staff: "Unfortunately nothing can be done. You've never gone to quote here 47 of the A.S.P. regulations.

Will be a great sportsman, and I'm not sure that the Happy Bunk at times does always exactly what he's supposed to. The Happy Bunk is a gold star. She has now two gold stars ahead of me and one ahead of the Other Bunk. She is a real sportsman and has never had much time to acquire a collection. The most important thing is to be cautious and not commit yourself to your ownartenf and make it a collection. She is the only one who has ever had much time to acquire a collection.

On the magazine counter—so reaction from short-haired designs—a further and more effective strategy, "I must buy the NEW YORKER for the Other Bunk to shag, pocket a long and painful search, and then there is the other Bunk's other Bunk." She will be a great sportsman, and I'm not sure that the Happy Bunk at times does always exactly what she's supposed to. The Happy Bunk is a gold star. She has now two gold stars ahead of me and one ahead of the Other Bunk. She is a real sportsman and has never had much time to acquire a collection. The most important thing is to be cautious and not commit yourself to your ownartenf and make it a collection. She is the only one who has ever had much time to acquire a collection. The Happy Bunk will be a great sportsman, and I'm not sure that the Happy Bunk at times does always exactly what she's supposed to. The Happy Bunk is a gold star. She has now two gold stars ahead of me and one ahead of the Other Bunk. She is a real sportsman and has never had much time to acquire a collection. The most important thing is to be cautious and not commit yourself to your ownartenf and make it a collection. She is the only one who has ever had much time to acquire a collection. The Happy Bunk will be a great sportsman, and I'm not sure that the Happy Bunk at times does always exactly what she's supposed to. The Happy Bunk is a gold star. She has now two gold stars ahead of me and one ahead of the Other Bunk. She is a real sportsman and has never had much time to acquire a collection. The most important thing is to be cautious and not commit yourself to your ownartenf and make it a collection. She is the only one who has ever had much time to acquire a collection. The Happy Bunk will be a great sportsman, and I'm not sure that the Happy Bunk at times does always exactly what she's supposed to. The Happy Bunk is a gold star. She has now two gold stars ahead of me and one ahead of the Other Bunk. She is a real sportsman and has never had much time to acquire a collection. The most important thing is to be cautious and not commit yourself to your ownartenf and make it a collection. She is the only one who has ever had much time to acquire a collection. The Happy Bunk will be a great sportsman, and I'm not sure that the Happy Bunk at times does always exactly what she's supposed to. The Happy Bunk is a gold star. She has now two gold stars ahead of me and one ahead of the Other Bunk. She is a real sportsman and has never had much time to acquire a collection. The most important thing is to be cautious and not commit yourself to your ownartenf and make it a collection. She is the only one who has ever had much time to acquire a collection.

THURSDAY — The Other Bunk has made some rather effective gestures this week over the latest news from home. For many years her father has impatiently awaited a letter from a distant parent. The Other Bunk engaged in other element activities has never found that she could overcome the handicaps that such an effort confronted. Today, however, she sent the following picture to the photograph writer, and he made an appointment for an early morning presentation, to the two at home.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Dec. 2 — The Happy Bunk got a gold star with the presentation of the magazine to the students. The Happy Bunk has a gold star. She has now two gold stars ahead of me and one ahead of the Other Bunk. She is a real sportsman and has never had much time to acquire a collection. The most important thing is to be cautious and not commit yourself to your ownartenf and make it a collection.
The Patriots
(Continued from Page 1)
view of all classes of people from the aristocratic Hamilton and his followers to a blacksmith and a frontiersman.
As Jefferson and Madison were both students here, and George Washington was the first channel of the college, it is very fitting that William and Mary be one of the first non-professional companies to produce this play.

Playwright Kingsley, author of such successes as "Dead End" and "Men in White", has woven into his dialogue the significance of the fact that we are so far as we have not accomplished so far with and with a minority of the people. With the word of George Washington, "We walk between two pitfalls and the danger of anarchy."

The picture are invited to attend. Continuing through the week, Dr. Weigandt will speak on Thursday at 4:30 on "Poets I Have Known", and at 8:00 that same evening his subject will be the "Background of Frost". He will conclude his series on Friday at 4:30 with a lecture on "The Miracle of Joseph Conrad." These lectures, like Professor Harbison's lectures of two weeks ago, are sponsored by the Friends of the College of William and Mary, and represent a plan to bring this campus the outstanding lecturers of other campuses.

During the second semester, lectures will be given by Dr. Walter M. Baker of the University of Chicago, and Dr. Robert W. Browning of the University of Texas.

Tuesday, November 30—
War Cabinet meeting. Jefferson.
CHI Omega Owl Hoot.
Kappa Omicron Fl. pledging.
Washington 200.
5 P. M.
7:30 P. M.
8:15 P. M.
Kappa Delta Phi.
Barrett.
9-10 P. M.
Y.W.C.A. Cabinet.
Jefferson Gym.
9:30 P. M.
W. D. C. Room.
8:30 P. M.
College Committee.
Kappa Alpha Theta tea.
Jefferson.
5 P. M.
Thursday, December 2—
4:15-5:00 P. M.
Y.W.C.A. Washington 300.
7:30 P. M.
Play practice. Phi Beta.
10:15-11:15 A. M.
Kappa Delta Phi. 6 and 7:30 P. M.
Kappa Delta Phi. 7:30 P. M.
Kappa Delta Phi.
7:30 P. M.

We will meet at the LODGE
coffee shop and recreation room

Thursday, November 30, 1943

(Continued From Page 1)

Weigandt To Talk On Frost, Conrad
(Continued From Page 1)

The FLAT HAT

WILLIAMSBURG

BINN'S

APPLE FASHION FOR ALL OCCASIONS

SUIT PIE
Royan Gumbard

POCKET PRIDE
Rhnexon1005 wool

NOSIE POSIE
Royal American Crepe Rayon

Tuesday, November 30, 1943

William and Mary in "White", has woven into his dialogue the significance of the fact that we are so far as we have not accomplished so far with and with a minority of the people. With the word of George Washington, "We walk between two pitfalls and the danger of anarchy."

Tuesday, November 30—
War Cabinet meeting. Jefferson.
Kappa Omicron Fl. pledging.
Washington 200.
5 P. M.
7:30 P. M.
8:15 P. M.
Kappa Delta Phi.
Barrett.
9-10 P. M.
Y.W.C.A. Cabinet.
Jefferson Gym.
9:30 P. M.
W. D. C. Room.
8:30 P. M.
College Committee.
Kappa Alpha Theta tea.
Jefferson.
5 P. M.
Thursday, December 2—
4:15-5:00 P. M.
Y.W.C.A. Washington 300.
7:30 P. M.
Play practice. Phi Beta.
10:15-11:15 A. M.
Kappa Delta Phi. 6 and 7:30 P. M.
Kappa Delta Phi. 7:30 P. M.
Kappa Delta Phi.
7:30 P. M.

We will meet at the LODGE
coffee shop and recreation room

Thursday, November 30, 1943

(Continued From Page 1)
William And Mary Slaughtered Marines in Final, 72-0

War Time Cage Schedule Of 11 Games Announced

On the Inside with Bill Albert

Hockey Squad Bows to Strong Richmonders

By Laurie Pitchard

The William and Mary varsity hockey squad was edged out 2-1 by the highly favored Richmond Hockey Club last Saturday on the home field. The games consisted of two periods, the Richmond team proved too much for the younger players. As a result of the game, the play dominated by the William and Mary forward line with the ball seldom finding its way to the Indian backfield. Everett, Raimondi and De Risi proved to be the best of the players, as the Indians lost in their last game 7-0 against N.M.W.A. at Fort Eustis after an X-ray by Dr. Levering removed his arm to the hospital at Fort Eustis. Joe Och's untimely injury was the only thing that could have marred the contest. Och managed Raimondi's pass for the first six points and brought the ball in a perfect manner. Och's position was remarked by the contest. Och managed Raimondi's pass for the first six points, and brought the ball in a perfect manner, as he did in his more celebrated roommates, Sydnor's position without a host of blocks but he is soon to return.

Bill rooms with Ronny Raimondi, star Indian peace and rooms with Captain Buddy Gauthier, his great defensive and, Sydnor's position without a host of blocks, but he is soon to return.

Bill rooms with Ronny Raimondi, star Indian peace and rooms with Captain Buddy Gauthier, his great defensive and, Sydnor's position without a host of blocks, but he is soon to return.

Bill rooms with Ronny Raimondi, star Indian peace and rooms with Captain Buddy Gauthier, his great defensive and, Sydnor's position without a host of blocks, but he is soon to return.

Bill rooms with Ronny Raimondi, star Indian peace and rooms with Captain Buddy Gauthier, his great defensive and, Sydnor's position without a host of blocks, but he is soon to return.

Bill rooms with Ronny Raimondi, star Indian peace and rooms with Captain Buddy Gauthier, his great defensive and, Sydnor's position without a host of blocks, but he is soon to return.

Bill rooms with Ronny Raimondi, star Indian peace and rooms with Captain Buddy Gauthier, his great defensive and, Sydnor's position without a host of blocks, but he is soon to return.

Bill rooms with Ronny Raimondi, star Indian peace and rooms with Captain Buddy Gauthier, his great defensive and, Sydnor's position without a host of blocks, but he is soon to return.

Bill rooms with Ronny Raimondi, star Indian peace and rooms with Captain Buddy Gauthier, his great defensive and, Sydnor's position without a host of blocks, but he is soon to return.

Bill rooms with Ronny Raimondi, star Indian peace and rooms with Captain Buddy Gauthier, his great defensive and, Sydnor's position without a host of blocks, but he is soon to return.

Bill rooms with Ronny Raimondi, star Indian peace and rooms with Captain Buddy Gauthier, his great defensive and, Sydnor's position without a host of blocks, but he is soon to return.
Jefferson: antitip Chandler and the Intramural Contest will be held December 14. Each original, must be original, should be turn-

Martin crashed over the guard, which was evidenced by the war.<n...
It was a perfect fall day at Willamsburg, Virginia. The college was buzzing with activity as the students prepared for the holiday season. The Student Government was in full swing, with the Student Body President, Mary Wilson Carver, announcing the start of the annual holiday drive. She urged students to participate in the “orders” they received to fill boxes with gifts for servicemen.

Mary and William Carver, President of the Student Body, and Bill Albert, Senior Representative to the Home Council, received letters last week from the Army Signal Corps, advising them that they would have to report to the nearest induction center, from whence they would be sent to Camp Crowder, Missouri. The letter stated that they are to be in Camp Crowder between December 20th and 25th. Mary and Albert volunteered for the Signal Corps a few weeks ago and, since college rules permit, will graduate with their degrees and full credit.

The committee on Elections is to meet next Tuesday to give the final decision on this matter.

The War Council, up on the latest with new activities which can be carried out at William and Mary, announced the start of its three-point salvage drive last week. Collections are being made of old clothes, books, and junk jewelry.

The old clothes drive is being sponsored nationally by the Salvage Division of the War Production Board and locally by the A.A.U.W. It’s the WAMS on the book can do for our boys in prison camps. The “orders” they received are to be in Camp Crowder between December 20th and 25th.

The WAMS will be in Camp Crowder between December 20th and 25th.

The leftover letters from the Army Signal Corps were good, anyway.

For Service

WAMS start three point salvage drive for scrap

Old clothes, junk jewelry, books being collected to help war effort

By Edythe Marsh

WAMS cover the campus. There is a big activity on campus since participation. From sponsoring dances for the Chaplains’ Aides to selling apples in the Wigwam, most of the WAMS are doing their share to help in the small ways that they can.

The War Council, up on the latest with new activities which can be carried out at William and Mary, announced the start of its three-point salvage drive last week. Collections are being made of old clothes, books, and junk jewelry.

The old clothes drive is being sponsored nationally by the Salvage Division of the War Production Board and locally by the A.A.U.W. It’s the WAMS on the book can do for our boys in prison camps. The “orders” they received are to be in Camp Crowder between December 20th and 25th.

The leftover letters from the Army Signal Corps were good, anyway.
Students Uninterested In Lectures, Concerts?

In another section of this paper a visiting professor-musician-lecturer criticizes the students of William and Mary for their lack of interest in classical music. It is probable that he based his statement on the lack of student-attendance at his performances. However, it is true that many of the students do not have the time to attend these lectures and concerts due to their busy schedules.

The Friends of the College have been sponsoring many projects beneficial to the students and faculty of the college, among them being a lecture series which began two weeks ago with Dr. William Harbeson's talk, "Interpretative Arts." The attendance at this first lecture was very small. Admittedly, the date chosen for the program was a bad one, coming right in the middle of the rush week. However, the entire student body was not affected by rush activities, and a greater number could have attended with no difficulty.

The attitude of the student body seems to be reflected in the words of Dr. Harbeson, who stated (November 23) "We have cause to shed tears over the absence of any worthwhile lectures this year. In the past years, Phi Beta has sung in the speeches of outstanding men. This year has been singularly empty."

The students either regard this year's lectures as "not worthwhile," they are looking for the sort of speech that will make Phi Beta "famous". Let us hope that it is the latter reason, and that it was merely through neglecting to notice numerous Flat Hat announcements and college posters that so many failed to attend these programs.

This week, the second speaker in the lecture series will give several interesting and "worthwhile" readings on December 3. Here are several interesting and "worthwhile" lectures to satiate the student appetite for such things. Here is the opportunity for those who wish to avail themselves of it. Let the gripper be silent.

---

To Editor

Dear Editor,

I would like to take this time to express our opinion of the bohiope events which took place at the residence of the President, Mr. and Mrs. William Monroe. I am writing this letter not only to express our thanks to those members of the Class of 1947 who proved themselves welcomers of the student body but also to express our gratitude for the excellent hospitality shown to us.

I am sure that most of the freshmen, just as big a kisst off the "due" banner and our enrollment as we did. Although the administration and the president himself are very sorry that everyone will concede that such things as these should be included in an end list for which the administration will be thankful. Such things as these are just a lot of fun.

Not many of the people on campus this year will be back next year. In fact, many of the students will leave on one of William and Mary's oldest traditions. And, in this connection, I hope you get as big a kick out of the Flat Hat as we did in making friends in the Class of '47. We will be doing such a swell bunch of kids.

Truly,

[Signature]

Rummy Banks.

---

Books Have Bookstore Fulfilled Purpose?

By JERRY HYMAN

For the past two years, the students have been purchasing books from a new bookstore, the College Book store in the Whip store which was first established, it has been said, because of the almost unanimous approval of the students. The College Book store is for the students. It was established because of continued agitation by The Flat Hat and by members of the Student Senate. The administration who were anxious to see the students receive fair treatment.

The Flat Hat has been continually for something, then, when it is given to us, turn it down? The Friends of the College have been sponsoring many projects beneficial to the students and faculty of the college, among them being a lecture series which began two weeks ago with Dr. William Harbeson's talk, "Interpretative Arts." The attendance at this first lecture was very small. Admittedly, the date chosen for the program was a bad one, coming right in the middle of the rush week. However, the entire student body was not affected by rush activities, and a greater number could have attended with no difficulty.

The attitude of the student body seems to be reflected in the words of Dr. Harbeson, who stated (November 23) "We have cause to shed tears over the absence of any worthwhile lectures this year. In the past years, Phi Beta has sung in the speeches of outstanding men. This year has been singularly empty."

The students either regard this year's lectures as "not worthwhile," they are looking for the sort of speech that will make Phi Beta "famous". Let us hope that it is the latter reason, and that it was merely through neglecting to notice numerous Flat Hat announcements and college posters that so many failed to attend these programs.

This week, the second speaker in the lecture series will give several interesting and "worthwhile" readings on December 3. Here are several interesting and "worthwhile" lectures to satiate the student appetite for such things. Here is the opportunity for those who wish to avail themselves of it. Let the gripper be silent.

---

To Editor

Dear Editor,

I would like to take this time to express our opinion of the bohiope events which took place at the residence of the President, Mr. and Mrs. William Monroe. I am writing this letter not only to express our thanks to those members of the Class of 1947 who proved themselves welcomers of the student body but also to express our gratitude for the excellent hospitality shown to us.

I am sure that most of the freshmen, just as big a kisst off the "due" banner and our enrollment as we did. Although the administration and the president himself are very sorry that everyone will concede that such things as these should be included in an end list for which the administration will be thankful. Such things as these are just a lot of fun.

Not many of the people on campus this year will be back next year. In fact, many of the students will leave on one of William and Mary's oldest traditions. And, in this connection, I hope you get as big a kick out of the Flat Hat as we did in making friends in the Class of '47. We will be doing such a swell bunch of kids.

Truly,

[Signature]

Rummy Banks.

---

Books Have Bookstore Fulfilled Purpose?

By JERRY HYMAN

For the past two years, the students have been purchasing books from a new bookstore, the College Book store in the Whip store which was first established, it has been said, because of the almost unanimous approval of the students. The College Book store is for the students. It was established because of continued agitation by The Flat Hat and by members of the Student Senate. The administration who were anxious to see the students receive fair treatment.

The Flat Hat has been continually for something, then, when it is given to us, turn it down? The Friends of the College have been sponsoring many projects beneficial to the students and faculty of the college, among them being a lecture series which began two weeks ago with Dr. William Harbeson's talk, "Interpretative Arts." The attendance at this first lecture was very small. Admittedly, the date chosen for the program was a bad one, coming right in the middle of the rush week. However, the entire student body was not affected by rush activities, and a greater number could have attended with no difficulty.

The attitude of the student body seems to be reflected in the words of Dr. Harbeson, who stated (November 23) "We have cause to shed tears over the absence of any worthwhile lectures this year. In the past years, Phi Beta has sung in the speeches of outstanding men. This year has been singularly empty."

The students either regard this year's lectures as "not worthwhile," they are looking for the sort of speech that will make Phi Beta "famous". Let us hope that it is the latter reason, and that it was merely through neglecting to notice numerous Flat Hat announcements and college posters that so many failed to attend these programs.

This week, the second speaker in the lecture series will give several interesting and "worthwhile" readings on December 3. Here are several interesting and "worthwhile" lectures to satiate the student appetite for such things. Here is the opportunity for those who wish to avail themselves of it. Let the gripper be silent.

---

To Editor

Dear Editor,

I would like to take this time to express our opinion of the bohiope events which took place at the residence of the President, Mr. and Mrs. William Monroe. I am writing this letter not only to express our thanks to those members of the Class of 1947 who proved themselves welcomers of the student body but also to express our gratitude for the excellent hospitality shown to us.

I am sure that most of the freshmen, just as big a kisst off the "due" banner and our enrollment as we did. Although the administration and the president himself are very sorry that everyone will concede that such things as these should be included in an end list for which the administration will be thankful. Such things as these are just a lot of fun.

Not many of the people on campus this year will be back next year. In fact, many of the students will leave on one of William and Mary's oldest traditions. And, in this connection, I hope you get as big a kick out of the Flat Hat as we did in making friends in the Class of '47. We will be doing such a swell bunch of kids.

Truly,

[Signature]

Rummy Banks.

---

Books Have Bookstore Fulfilled Purpose?

By JERRY HYMAN

For the past two years, the students have been purchasing books from a new bookstore, the College Book store in the Whip store which was first established, it has been said, because of the almost unanimous approval of the students. The College Book store is for the students. It was established because of continued agitation by The Flat Hat and by members of the Student Senate. The administration who were anxious to see the students receive fair treatment.

The Flat Hat has been continually for something, then, when it is given to us, turn it down? The Friends of the College have been sponsoring many projects beneficial to the students and faculty of the college, among them being a lecture series which began two weeks ago with Dr. William Harbeson's talk, "Interpretative Arts." The attendance at this first lecture was very small. Admittedly, the date chosen for the program was a bad one, coming right in the middle of the rush week. However, the entire student body was not affected by rush activities, and a greater number could have attended with no difficulty.

The attitude of the student body seems to be reflected in the words of Dr. Harbeson, who stated (November 23) "We have cause to shed tears over the absence of any worthwhile lectures this year. In the past years, Phi Beta has sung in the speeches of outstanding men. This year has been singularly empty."

The students either regard this year's lectures as "not worthwhile," they are looking for the sort of speech that will make Phi Beta "famous". Let us hope that it is the latter reason, and that it was merely through neglecting to notice numerous Flat Hat announcements and college posters that so many failed to attend these programs.

This week, the second speaker in the lecture series will give several interesting and "worthwhile" readings on December 3. Here are several interesting and "worthwhile" lectures to satiate the student appetite for such things. Here is the opportunity for those who wish to avail themselves of it. Let the gripper be silent.