Kiyoishi Tanimoto Depicts Revages Of Atomic Blast

Hero Of Hersey's 'Hiroshima' Describes Bomb Explosion At Missionary Service

By Ed Brown

"The people of Hiroshima today told me of the horror they endured over their city was a divine judgment, a punishment for their excesses," declared the Reverend Kiyoishi Tanimoto, who became famous as the hero of John Hersey's "Hiroshima," at a missionary service sponsored by the Williamsburg Council of Churches.

Dr. Tanimoto was in the first city to be hit. "I am glad for atomic destruction at the time the bomb was dropped," he reported in Hersey's account that Dr. Tanimoto was the first to enter the center of the blast but even at that age a building was pulverized leaving such a cloud of dust that the immediate neighborhood was completely blinded.

"No one heard the explosion," the Methodist minister continued, "and immediately after the flash there were no sounds, only a deep, lingering calm." A doctor rushed into a hospital darkroom and found that every one of the people in it had light-bulb eyes, was all exhaled by the instant vacuum created.

Rendered Festive

For days after, the devastation Dr. Tanimoto moved about the devastated areas, and whatever first aid he could for the thousands of bewildered and whimpering humanity, the doctors heaping arms, like so many rows of four arms. The blackened buildings, shrouding away from the nose as far as the lips, the black cloud of smoke and dust apparently having four arms. The blackened buildings, shrouding away from the nose as far as the lips, the black cloud of smoke and dust apparently having four arms. The blackened buildings, shrouding away from the nose as far as the lips, the black cloud of smoke and dust apparently having four arms.

Apparently, all is forgiven.

Dr. Tanimoto then held his fist full to radiation sickness.

American Forces

Not long after the dropping of the American forces, they attacked the city, peace by the personalities of the occupation troops, especially the chaplains.

Dr. Tanimoto is in this country making a tour sponsored by the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church in order to raise funds for war-destroyed churches in Japan.

The speaker, who drew a large audience and was welcomed with a standing ovation, ended by saying, "The bomb united the people in a bid spirit, which had been devastated by the humanity of so many nations. America can generously greater than the atomic bomb."

John Wollaston To Supplement Play

The first one-man exhibition of the paintings of John Wollaston, colonial painter, will be held on the campus of the Williamsburg Council of Churches.

Dr. Wollaston, who is known to have painted over 200 portraits. Some 85 paintings of Virginia and known, of which were Randolph County, states "John Wollaston was in some, ways, technique, the artist painter to emigrate to the colonies. His sitters constitute the bluebook of colonial artistry, including Lord Halifax, Lord North and John Thomas Flexner in his first Flaverti of the Wollaston, the most ambitious history of American painting. Historically, Wollaston is the most ambitious painter of the colonial aristocracy."

William and Mary-Go-Round

If last week's column was even more popular than usual, I had not entirely blamed the prides who wrote the sartorial publications in front of the three outlines of the most delightful paragraphs I have ever written.

True, the paragraph was not very long, and sufficiently potent to cause the editor to make his styling privileges. I guess they were used on me. (And I'll bet at least one of them didn't know what was conceived.)

Wolfpack Tilt Top Program

After completing a most trying week, the Wolfpack's injury-ridden basketball team will struggle through the rest of its engagements this week before taking a two-week breather for exams.

The Indians will take to the road once more Thursday when they trek to Chapel Hill for a game with the University of North Carolina Tarhees. Saturday night Coach Barney Wilson's boys wind up their season play with a tilt at the home floor with the Little Creek Amphibs.

Following the visit from court officials, the Tribe turns its attention more into the thick of Southern Conference play, entertaining three foes in four nights.

Friday, February 4, Virginia Tech puts in an appearance at Blow Gym. Followed closely in the same arena by Furman University on Monday evening. February 7, Sandwiched between these two, WMAM has its "home" game with a powerful North Carolina State College in Norfolk Saturday night.

Coach Tom Scott of the Carolina Tarhees, will bring a team predominantly sophomore in material to battle the local quintet, but however good they may seem on paper, the Tarhees are far from it.

Led by Roy Carson, a sharp-shooting forward who is points in the points at 15 per game ratio, and 6' 6" center Roni Newman, the Carolina quintet have bested only NYU in a Garden show and George Washington in an upset.

Pulling away in the last few minutes of the game, the Wolfpack overcame a 31-18 halftime deficit and George Giermak was high for the Indians with 16 and 15 points, respectively.

The Virginia Tech tilt will reveal, however, for the first time in that city, a thunderous and potent Hanes Hosiery quintet, an incredibly efficient group consisting of scoring to Charlie Sokol and other bastions of North Carolina State in 20 out of 35 shots from the foul line.

The intramural swimming schedule is set. The intramural swimming championships of Emory and Henry some years ago.

Although Alwyts - After, coach of the South Carolinians, has the loss of four regulars from a team that won only 13 of 37 games last season, his club already holds a 13-point win over the University of Georgia.

Volleyball Finals Scheduled After Swimming Tomorrow

The final week before exams will be a busy and varied week in intramural activities, with the volleyball championship to be determined, a swimming meet, and the free throw tournament.

The qualifying round of the free throw tournament was held. To qualify one had to make 20 out of 35 shots from the foul line. Today the final round will get underway by 3:15 p.m. The finals will be won by the participant who connects with the most out of 90 from the 25-foot distance.

The intramural swimming meet's qualifying heats started at 5:30 this afternoon, and the finals will get underway tomorrow night at 7 p.m.

When the final of the swimming meet is completed tomorrow, the math arithmetic will be the volleyball championship game, undefeated Sigma Rho, the frantically champion, will face the also undefeated Sigma Alpha, champ of the independent league.

No matter who wins the game some of the brothers in Sigma Rho will be celebrating.

After the volleyball game there will be a slight pause in intramural activities until the exams are over.

All men wishing to enter the basketball tournaments are required to sign up in person by February 4. The basketball leagues are slated to start February 4. The basketball managers are required to sign up in person by February 10.

Saturday afternoon in Blow Gym, the Wolfpack's speedy, well-trained team of North Carolina State intra-mural Indian attackers to overmatch the William and Mary squad 50 to 22.

The basketball tournaments require that the players have their referee's fund in by this Thursday or their application for the league entrance will not be honored.

James C. Sokol is the highest scorer in the nation. He will be missed.

Big Red tops a couple of strong opponents to win their third.

Coach Barney Wilson's boys wind up their season play with a tilt at the home floor with the Little Creek Amphibs.

The support offered by the visitors is important for this particular tournament. The teams have played well in the past and are expected to do better than they did in the past. The support is an important part of the tournament's success.

The Indian teams rank high in all of the national statistics released by the National College Athletic Association. The Tribe is close to the top in percentage of shots made and average per game.

The lean Tribe captain, modest about his performances, passes on much of the credit for his high mark to Captain Okol and the other Braves who set up much scoring.

At this writing, Chet Giermak is the highest scorer in the nation. He will be missed.

There is a strong possibility that Giermak will go on to eclipse the legendary Bob Sampson, the Techmen can be the pushover most folks imagine by very narrow margins.

Students have shown great zest for one of the types of crowds pleasing the Indians have shown. Lose games or games that the latter have been more in evidence, but the team has done equally well both on the road and at home. The support is an important part of the tournament's success.

With the class of the season, Howard Smith, director of student activities, is in a position to feature the William and Mary campus for one semester to conduct a series of special events.

Howard Smith will leave W & M on leave of absence for study

Howard Smith, instructor in the men's physical education department, has been granted a semester's leave of absence to complete his requirements for a master's degree in physical education. He will leave in February, guided by his Syrnanese University where he has been doing graduate work for the past two summers.

Smith, or Symity, as he is called by all who have known him at W&M, has been a very valuable assistant in the catalogue department, as an instructor in physical education, and director of the intramural program. He has been with the university for the past three years, in which time he has handled the Joyce basketball team, served as an assistant baseball coach and crew, and has coached the swimming team for one year. He is a member of the Sigma Pi fraternity and the Phi Kappa Delta fraternity.

While discussing the intramural program, Smith spoke highly of the cooperation of the men and women, and the splendid cooperation in organizing the intramural program. He said, "I expect the intramural program to continue as it has been. I hope that the dormitory teams will give as much credit, while the sorority teams give as much support as it has been."

Library Fills Vacancies

Three non-professional literary positions have recently been filled in the library staff. Miss George Meader has been named assistant in the catalogue department, Mrs. Mary Kearny Mitkie has been named secretary to the librarian, and Miss Reavis and An Huffman, who have filled the positions of assistant in the catalogue department, for the past two years, have been transferred to the office of the assistant director, Mrs. Frannie Pease.

Indian Center signs contract

William and Mary's great-center, Tommy Thompson, signed a two-year professional football contract with the Cleveland Browns of the All-American Football League on December 15. Thompson's signing ended one of the biggest recruiting stories of the present season on graduation college football players.

During the season, the rugged lineman from New Jersey was courted by both the Browns and the Washington Redskins of the National Football League. But the Browns won out when Dick Gallagher, former W&M guard and coach and new aide to Paul Brown of the pro team, pumped Thompson.

Thompson signed for an undisclosed, but sizable sum. He had played four seasons as a gridiron star with both William and Mary Indians, making his debut in 1944 and returning in 1946 after a period of time in the service. He was three times All-Southern and one of the most highly regarded centers in collegiate circles. In fact, Gallagher rated him as the best of the college linemen last fall.

Jack Bruce, defensive star, also has signed a contract. He led a balanced intramural program for the past two summers.

Women's Whle

Since the matter of intramural participation has been brought to the fore by the letter which appeared in last week's edition of The Flat Hat, I feel that some answer must be made to the assumptions and statements that were made therein. It is well to stress at the outset that the observations and opinions expressed in this column belong strictly to the author and do not reflect in any way the thoughts of the Women's Athletic Association or any other person, either family member or student.

Spirit is a word which has been applied about as many times by so many people in so many ways that it is difficult to be sure just exactly what it does connote. Often, however, spirit has been associated with extracurricular activities and in particular, in the case of intramural activities. It is a word which is to be used to describe a particular quality or condition of mind or spirit as it is used in the case of intramural activities. Spirit is not a quality which is to be used to describe a particular quality or condition of mind or spirit in the case of intramural activities. Spirit is not a quality which is to be used to describe a particular quality or condition of mind or spirit in the case of intramural activities. Spirit is not a quality which is to be used to describe a particular quality or condition of mind or spirit in the case of intramural activities.

Although many basketball experts believe that the game is being taken over to a great extent by the court giant, Virginia fans' ing taken over to a great extent by the court giant, Virginia fans' excitement is well taken, as Jere's play is outstanding. Tens of thousands of fans, including both the fans of the opposing team and the fans of the home team, will long be remembered in aggregation, but riot until Jere had distinguished himself.

Bunting distinguished himself. His outstanding work this season is well taken, as Jere's play is outstanding. Last year in the Southern Conference, Bunting contributed much to the team's success. His sports activities at the University of Virginia, where he was a member of the basketball team, were under the direction of his father, who was at that time coach at East Sone Gap. After the summer of '45, continuing. According to several sober estimates of Bunting's physical comfort, sensitivity, and safety, jumped into the fray hasty field conference the intrepid Miss Thedieck of the canine-feeding crowd which may be mouse-proof. Next met* Mary Slasky who expressed obvious, albeit polite, interest. No vegetables, hardy lot ...

Lost track of Thedieck as she disappeared. No cookies. A. screamed or yelped, hard to describe. When a Irian bites a dog, that's what happens. When one person takes a mouse into her hands, that's when one is to be admired. This phenomenon actually took place in front of the library last Wednesday. Jere Bunting, leaning light among the women countertops, with a lovely little mouse in hand, an all but done-in rodent whose name is Jere Bunting has been unable to learn.

According to several sober estimates of Bunting's physical comfort, sensitivity, and safety, jumped into the fray hasty field conference the intrepid Miss Thedieck and mouse. . . hardy lot ...
