The following editorial is reprinted from the March, 1967 issue of The WIGWAM, Williamsburg, Va. Many people seem to agree that they are interested in our college, but it is not very noticeable. Not many student take advantage of this opportunity, the election is held for the past few years as a result of all the unprepared publicity in the year, it is recalled.

The move to abolish the ballot and its renewal a year later, the irregularities at the Norfolk Division, followed by the College's new resources, between these two ballot resulting from a Flat Hat editorial, the disturbances at the Fishburne Laboratory, operated by the State and the College; and the social status of the status, as reported in a general student organization, the most important, though not by any means, are those which have tended to keep the students involved.

What are the reasons for all this? There are probably several. For one thing, the lack of sound good "thinking" on the part of the Board of Visitors as the high purpose of educative society, and the struggle with their minds to that end, and the absence of competition in the minds of students, that William and Mary, like other institutions of higher education, have no tradition of "thinking" on the real purpose and aims of the College.

It is not surprising that William and Mary, like other institutions of higher education, have no tradition of "thinking" on the real purpose and aims of the College.

One sound "thinking" on the part of the Board of Visitors would be to present the highest possible view of the "purpose and aims of the College." Is it not time for the Board of Visitors to exhibit some more understanding of William and Mary? Yes, some sound "thinking" on the part of the Board of Visitors would be to present the highest possible view of the "purpose and aims of the College."

Raymond MasseyDiscloses Past,

The tall, gaunt man took long strides as he walked into the lounge of the Williamsburg Inn. He thrust his huge hand into that of your reporter, and announced, "My name is Raymond Massey."

At his suggestion, the interview was held in a small anteroom, amid several rounds of beer. Mr. Massey looked little more than 40, although he admits being older. The trace of grey at the temples was somewhat incongruous with his youthful, sensitive face, and those eyes, wide and luminous, as they met memorably on the screen to reflect a bygone twinkle in real life.

First off, he wanted to spice the rumor that his daughter may ac­ tend William and Mary. Following a barrage of questions, he gave a complete account of his recent activities: "My wife and I were more from Canada, and happened to be in Williamsburg as the sun set, and decided to spend the night. Liked the place so well, we decided to stay a week. What I have seen here has been most delightful. The Restoration is a

100 Applications For Men

There are 900 applications on file for men who desire entrance to William and Mary next fall. Of this number, about 150 will be accepted. The number of men whom the college will admit in 1947-1948, opens in the fall. It is hard to see how any more students can be accommodated here without the greatest inconvenience, that is, over and above the class which graduates this June. William and Mary Besieged;
3000 Applicants Seek Admission

By JANE COLEMAN

With a multitude of men and women clamoring for admission to colleges all over the country, Wil­

Overcrowding cases is a common danger everywhere around the campus, and it is not difficult to see that this 3600 number will have to be pared down consid­

Tri-Color Track Season Opens With Dartmouth

Six dual engagements and competition in three other meets, the Virginia "Big Six," are immediately ahead, the dual track schedule announced by Athletic Director R. N. (Ruby) McCrory.

The Indians, coached for the first time by Thomas E. Power, one-storey dormitory which has now been constructed, now face Dartmouth College April 1 and conclude their slate almost two months later by competing in the "Big Six," April 21-22.

With less than three weeks of practice behind him, Mr. Power, former track coach at Richmond High School, Williamsburg, has proved a valuable weight man. Harry Washington, of Richmond, N. - J., who has managed the VMI track line, assures Mr. Powers' track will prove a valuable weight man.

A recent shoulder injury in March to Walter C. Bond, Director of Buildings, N. Y. U., removeded him from the game.

World Federalist Chapter To Make Plans For Broadcast, Town Meeting

Last Wednesday night, the United World Federalists chapter at William and Mary began formu­lating plans for a town meeting in Williamsburg, a radio broadcast on Mar. 21, and future public dis­cussions of problems of world government.

John Heilich, Virginia repre­sentative to the Asheville, N.C., conference of all world federalists, read a conference report. Heilich, who is in charge of spon­soring new chapters of United World Federalists for the William and Mary chapter, will speak on the general subject of world government. The results will be tabulated and pub­lished in THE FLAT HAT.

Extroverts Gather In "Tryouts For Backdrop's "Hell and William and Mary"

By JOHN ROTHERY

"Let's get the important people to have a look at our new photographer. Four men and a girl grouped hurriedly around a table in front of the camera. As I stepped into the racing form, the flash bulb went off, and the tryouts for the costume there were under way.

Warren Spence, to the accom­paniment of a piano which had the tone of two mandolins pounded on it, glanced with interest at the group of models. After much coaxing, Jay McKay cli­med rustically on the stage, divided the piano, and sang a revivified "Pansy." "It is a background of long low whistle and a few remarks such as, "Who cares if she can sing?" Neverthe­less, she can.

Two Fuses Blown

The high point of the evening was Givens Lewis's high blood-pressure rendition of "Minnie From Trinidad." which blew out two fuses in the cooling system and brought about recommen­dations that a wire screen be erected between her and the mike.

"Hell and William and Mary" eluded two French sailors whose operatic version of "Daydream." It was followed by Ronnie King who presented several original songs, and brought about recommendations that a wire screen be erected between her and the mike.

Two Fuses Blown

The high point of the evening was Givens Lewis's high blood-pressure rendition of "Minnie From Trinidad." which blew out two fuses in the cooling system and brought about recommen­dations that a wire screen be erected between her and the mike.

"Let's get the important people to have a look at our new photographer. Four men and a girl grouped hurriedly around a table in front of the camera. As I stepped into the racing form, the flash bulb went off, and the tryouts for the costume there were under way.

Warren Spence, to the accom­paniment of a piano which had the tone of two mandolins pounded on it, glanced with interest at the group of models. After much coaxing, Jay McKay cli­med rustically on the stage, divided the piano, and sang a revivified "Pansy." "It is a background of long low whistle and a few remarks such as, "Who cares if she can sing?" Neverthe­less, she can.
