Progressives Win Majority Of Offices In Close Fight

865 Votes Cast In Last Election Breaking Record

With 1,054 votes cast, William and Mary students resolved at this election meeting to oust the old board and to elect the new "Front"

The Progressive Party, who won the backed of the North Carolina Senate, lost the election, but they gained a majority in the American House of Representatives.

The Progressive Party claimed the victory on a platform of "economic justice," and said that the new board would work for the interests of the students.

The teachers claimed the defeat as a victory for the "status quo," and said that the new board would not make any changes.

The election was held on Monday, April 24, 1942, and the following candidates were elected: William A. Smith, president; John T. Brown, vice-president; and James W. H. Martin, secretary.

"Heart's in the Highlands," last May, will offer the Pan-American Club and other organizations the opportunity to help in the fight by attending the excursion to the Virginia State Fishery Laboratory.

Mr. John Mapp, the late president, was the guest of honor at a meeting last Wednesday night.

The Pan-American Club ably fulfills the mission of the Pan American Club. In accordance with its policy and constitution, it is the aim of the Pan-American Club to be the focal point of the international relations of the United States and the Latin American republics.

The drama group will give a play, "The Star of the Desert," on April 22, at 4:30 over WRNL.

The Pan-American Club is instituting a series of original monologues, "The Passing of Latin America," to be given in the next few weeks.

The Pan-American Club has always been interested in the development of Latin American literature. This is due to the fact that the Pan-American Club is the only organization in the United States that has been engaged in the development of Latin American literature for the past four years.

Student Interest and Finance Face Organizers of 150 Pound Football Team Here

You have possibly noticed by HOW THAT we have changed the name of this section from "Baseball" to "Second Guessing". This was done because we have been accused of being just that. We believe that it will avoid future confusion.

AS THE BALL PLAYED "ANCHORS AWAIIE"

The Naval Academy has just concluded another successful baseball tourney and the alumni and friends wish to congratualte the team on its success. The last tourney was held at Harvard and the Naval Academy defeated Harvard by a score of 5-0. This was the first time in years that the two teams have met in a game.

The tourney was held on the campus of Harvard and the team played two games per day. The team was able to defeat Harvard in both games, scoring 9 and 6 runs respectively.

The team played against several other teams and was able to win all but one game. The only loss came against a team from the Boston area.

The team is looking forward to its next tourney and will be ready to play against any team that wants to challenge them.

Find Time For Hunting, Fishing And Traveling...

By JOE WALKER

Our aquatic faucets, Howie South, is just about the keenest fisherman we know. He says that, back in Ruffington, he was a crack fisherman and that the fish there are still as big as they used to be.

But, he says, the boys of today are not as interested in fishing as they used to be. They're more interested in movies and other forms of entertainment.

Mr. D., on the other hand, enjoys fishing and says that it is a good way to relax and get away from the pressures of daily life.

Mr. D. has composed music for various occasions and has even composed music for a keener interest in the arts. By Bukalesnikoff, the assistant conductor of the Cincinnati Symphony, which has grown to a fifty piece band.

The only trouble is, he doesn't get much of a chance.

What he really wants to do is to go to Canada on fishing trips. He has been there before and he says that it is a great place to go.

But, he says, there is no sense in going one better than the average. They are all alike.

The Dance Band, which is an orchestra of the Civic Committee for the Franklin Room, has amazed the students of the department. Most of them have called him "Mr. D." as a sign of respect.

His work here at college has been as a conductor. He has conducted a grand tour of the concert hall in the college and his work has been praised by many.

Mr. D. has always been pleased with the cooperation of the students. He says that they have great ability and that they should take part in more of the activities.

The only trouble is, he doesn't get much of a chance. But, he says, there is no sense in going one better than the average. They are all alike.

"ROAD TO ZANZIBAR"

"There's something funny going on around here," says His Highness when he sees what Hearty Dorr has discovered about some secret fact. Embroidered above the phallicus emblem is a story about the woman in "Sex About Town", and everywhere on the body are the sacral incisions with the words "Head to Zanzibar". In the center you see in the face of the left with a coat.
