WSCGA Members Elect Head In Balloting Today

Ferenbaugh, Jones, Seay Nominated For President

Elections will be held today from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. in the women's dormitories for six offices in Women Students' Cooperative Government.

Nominations from the floor were made at the WSCGA meeting Monday night, March 4, in addition to nominations by the Nominating Committee. Dorothy Ferenbaugh, Patricie Jones, and Susie Seay were nominated from the floor for the position of president of the Executive Council. Norene Feheu was put up from the floor, but declined the nomination.

For vice president of the Executive Council, Robbie Robinson, Barbara Romanz, Shirley Spraggis, and Helen Thompson were proposed. Nancy Adams, Lois Settle, Ruth Nevels, and Dorothy Theileck were nominated to be treasurer of the Executive Council.

Twelve sophsorines will run for the openings of three junior members of the Women's Honor CounciL, as follows: Carolyn Beach, Jane Beatty, Frances Fleming, Mary Kenney, Nancy Mandel, Londres Phelps, Mary More, Louise M. Roble, Elizabeth Mylander, Joan Matherson, Jo Ann Prince, Barbara Simon, and Lois Willis.

At the WSCGA meeting Monday night, the amendment to Article 3 of the Women's Student Constitution, which was introduced by Ann Batchelder and Emma Lawra at the February 11 meeting and talked for a month, was passed.

Jean Bentley, Chairman of the Judicial Council, then introduced suggestions made by student concerning social rules. Each suggestion was read, passed in the form of a motion, and voted on. The rule change will be distributed to non-fraternity men until formal rushing period ends and pledges can be made, in next year's rush Pete committee. Other suggestions will be read and voted on at the WSCGA meeting next Monday night in Washington 296.

Baker, Woodberry Lead Red Cross Cannavers

In full swing this week on the campus the Red Cross chapter is the annual American Red Cross drive. The drive, which began last Friday, March 1, will continue until Saturday, March 9.

Dick Baker and Marilyn Woodberry, co-chairmen of the drive, are in charge of 42 canvassers, 15 sorority houses, and 9 woodberry, co-chairmen of the drive, with Dick Baker and Marilyn Woodberry, co-chairmen of the drive, being the donators of the Red Cross chapter.

Feminist rust week has been held for April 8 through 15 by the Rusting rules committee of the Interfraternity Association, according to committee member Red Wood, Kappa Alpha.

Standing, left to right: Frank Siegman, Kemp Bost, Henry Dins, Red Wood, Harry Tanner, Red Bost, Fred Froehlich, Tom Albee, and Red Wood. Seated, Winifred Jester, secretary; Francis E. Clark, president.

A minimum of ten hours per week in the Red Cross membership paid by the end of the semester shall be received by the student. The student is required to attend the Red Cross meeting every Thursday night at 8:30 p.m. in Washington 316.

Poll Names Trapp Family for 46-'47 Concert Series

The Trapp Family Singers, who received 169 of the 479 votes cast in the student poll, Friday, February 22, will appear, if arrangements can be made, in next year's Concert Series. Otherwises, George Kastner, composer and violinist, who received 146 votes, and the students' second choice, will be substituted.

Search For Wigs and Cognac

Heralds Play Next Wednesday

By BARBARA SIMON

"Have you been bothered by collectors of seaweed and driftwood? Have they nested you to be on the lookout for dead birds and black feathers? Are you missing your last bottle of Cognac, 1937? And what happened to that red wig?" These are some of the questions that will be overheard during the last week. It seems as if the girls for ladies in Retirement have been busy. Arrangements have been made instead of reading letters to get the girls members with an extra cost of paint on their blue jeans, nart of the money raised in the costume room of Phi Beta Kappa. The need will be used to buy one wig. The full will be used to buy one wig. (Continued on Page 2)

INTERFRATERNITY ASSOCIATION SETS FORMAL RUSH WEEK FOR APRIL 8-14

FRATERNITY RUSH WEEK HAS BEEN HELD FOR APRIL 8 THROUGH 15 BY THE RUSHING RULES COMMITTEE OF THE INTERFRATERNITY ASSOCIATION, ACCORDING TO COMMITTEE MEMBER RED WOOD, KAPPA ALPHA.

WINSTON CHURCHILL, EISENHOWER TO INSPECT WREN BUILDING FRIDAY

Administration Dismisses Regular Classes At 2:55

Clashes will be dismissed at 2:55 p.m. Friday so that students may greet Winston Churchill and General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, and Mrs. Eisenhower, who will visit the college, Dr. A. D. Wagner, chairman of the Committee on Special Events, announced Tuesday.

The official party which will consist of Mr. and Mrs. Churchill, Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower, and Mrs. Eisenhower, will be received by President Colgate W. Darden at the front gate of the College at 3:30 p.m. They will be escorted to the president's house where they will be greeted by Dr. and Mrs. John H. Williams, and then there they proceed to the Wren building and will inspect it. The party will be made up of 20 people and will go north gate near Phi Beta Kappa Hall.

The Wren building will be cleared at 3:00 p.m., Dr. Wagner said, and that he intended to "students show the courtesy of the College by refraining from talking the walls." Members of the Student Interfraternity Association and the Phi Beta Kappa will act as special guards on campus.

The former British prime minister and his party will tour the grounds of the campus parlor, which will be served tea at the Raleigh tavern and will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller at dinner at the Williamsburg Inn. In the evening they will make a candlelight tour of the Capitol. The party will then go to Williamsburg by special train Friday night.

Yesterday afternoon Winston Churchill, who has been rested, appeared at cloistered little Wren House in the presence of the ex-prime minister giving an impromptu address to the men present.

"The college at Eulton made full preparations for the arrival of Churchill and Truman, making the day a happy one for the small campus was roped off and forbidden to all but ticket-holders at the crack of dawn Tuesday, and Maryland State guardsmen were posted at 19 intersections.

Search for Wigs, Cognac, Heralds Play Next Wednesday

By BARBARA SIMON

"Have you been bothered by collectors of seaweed and driftwood? Have they nested you to be on the lookout for dead birds and black feathers? Are you missing your last bottle of Cognac, 1937? And what happened to that red wig?" These are some of the questions that will be overheard during the last week. It seems as if the girls for ladies in Retirement have been busy. Arrangements have been made instead of reading letters to get the girls members with an extra cost of paint on their blue jeans, nart of the money raised in the costume room of Phi Beta Kappa. The need will be used to buy one wig. The full will be used to buy one wig. (Continued on Page 2)
a weekly newspaper published by the students at the College of William and Mary every Wednesday of the college year. It is acknowledged by the President and is mailed at the post office in Williamsburg, Virginia. Subscriptions are $3.00 per year; $1.50 per semester, postpaid. For advertising rates see back page of this issue.

DEAR DR. POMFRET:

March 1-10 marks the time of the annual Red Cross Fund Drive on this campus. Dormitory representatives have been designated to canvass each dorm and contact every student on campus for a contribution to the Red Cross.

This organization has always done some of the finest work of any service group. During the war it carried a load that was both on the war front and the home front. Now that the war is over the job has not lessened, but has really increased. With thousands of American soldiers still overseas, the Red Cross is helping to provide them with recreational facilities and subsistence that will enable them to endure the程程 of a long and thorough training.

To the veterans they offer counseling services and help with problems brought about by the readjustment to civilian life. In James City County during the war years most of the resources had to be turned to the needs of the armed forces. The Red Cross also helped in rehabilitation work, providing assistance in times of disaster.

The FLAT HAT this week has been under the supervision of Nancy Easley, Nancie Wampler, and Betsy Butler. This musical organization did not exist for the last year or two because there were no funds. We have been bestowed student government organization. However, when one begins to read through the pages of the campus paper, it becomes evident that there are few sharps of student government that have not been subjected to criticism. It is true that as a group we have been slow to catch on to the importance of student government. But we believe that from all the criticisms and suggestions made concerning student government, the mistakes which we have been able to catch for the whole of this year, our job has not lessened, but has really increased.

The prevailing attitude among William and Mary is that we all find something to do in life which will yield a fair remuneration. For the most part all that has been said about student government has been to doubt its importance. No one seems to have realized the fact that some day they will be completely on their own; there are others who haven’t realized that fact.

In the case of many of us don’t know what we’ve got to do after we get out of the College of William and Mary, but what is much worse, none of us haven’t thought about what we’re going to do after getting out. Of course, there are those who do what they want, but it is a waste for us to have some idea what our next move is going to be.

B. J. stinson demands interested officials

By HARRY STINSON

Probably more editorial space in this paper has been devoted to the many phases of student government than any other campus subject. There have been few campus subjects that have been ignored by the students, by the administration or by the student government. The students have been active in student government organization, and where there is student government, there are interested officials.

As State Supervisor of Music, I have thought worthy of emphasis here: "Our experiences in the past teach us that the people in an organization have the most to do towards the ultimate success of any project."

Perhaps such a project is too progressive for this college, but some kind of progress is needed. The Red Cross works with people in the community, and the lives they are expected to lead under the present social rules is too great to expect even a moderate degree of obedience to the rules. A good law is one which is respected, but students have nothing but contempt for those which exist here.

I believe that the parents who send their girls to William and Mary trust their children. If they didn’t, they would send the women to an institution, but a college.

HAVEN’T THE DARK AGES ENDED?

I have a suggestion: Let the women students govern themselves. The parents, who are most concerned with the girls’ welfare, their parents, allow the girls the greatest degree of liberty, give them more responsibility, and trust them to the college, assuming that it knows what is best for the girls?

I believe that the parents who send their girls to William and Mary trust their children. If they didn’t, they would send the women to an institution, but a college.

Perhaps such a project is too progressive for this college, but some kind of progress is needed. The Red Cross works with people in the community, and the lives they are expected to lead under the present social rules is too great to expect even a moderate degree of obedience to the rules. A good law is one which is respected, but students have nothing but contempt for those which exist here.

I believe that the parents who send their girls to William and Mary trust their children. If they didn’t, they would send the women to an institution, but a college.

HAVEN’T THE DARK AGES ENDED?

I have a suggestion: Let the women students govern themselves. The parents, who are most concerned with the girls’ welfare, allow the girls the greatest degree of liberty, give them more responsibility, and trust them to the college, assuming that it knows what is best for the girls?

I believe that the parents who send their girls to William and Mary trust their children. If they didn’t, they would send the women to an institution, but a college.

Perhaps such a project is too progressive for this college, but some kind of progress is needed. The Red Cross works with people in the community, and the lives they are expected to lead under the present social rules is too great to expect even a moderate degree of obedience to the rules. A good law is one which is respected, but students have nothing but contempt for those which exist here.

I believe that the parents who send their girls to William and Mary trust their children. If they didn’t, they would send the women to an institution, but a college.

Perhaps such a project is too progressive for this college, but some kind of progress is needed. The Red Cross works with people in the community, and the lives they are expected to lead under the present social rules is too great to expect even a moderate degree of obedience to the rules. A good law is one which is respected, but students have nothing but contempt for those which exist here.

I believe that the parents who send their girls to William and Mary trust their children. If they didn’t, they would send the women to an institution, but a college.

Perhaps such a project is too progressive for this college, but some kind of progress is needed. The Red Cross works with people in the community, and the lives they are expected to lead under the present social rules is too great to expect even a moderate degree of obedience to the rules. A good law is one which is respected, but students have nothing but contempt for those which exist here.

I believe that the parents who send their girls to William and Mary trust their children. If they didn’t, they would send the women to an institution, but a college.

Perhaps such a project is too progressive for this college, but some kind of progress is needed. The Red Cross works with people in the community, and the lives they are expected to lead under the present social rules is too great to expect even a moderate degree of obedience to the rules. A good law is one which is respected, but students have nothing but contempt for those which exist here.

I believe that the parents who send their girls to William and Mary trust their children. If they didn’t, they would send the women to an institution, but a college.

Perhaps such a project is too progressive for this college, but some kind of progress is needed. The Red Cross works with people in the community, and the lives they are expected to lead under the present social rules is too great to expect even a moderate degree of obedience to the rules. A good law is one which is respected, but students have nothing but contempt for those which exist here.
Ennis Rees About Faces From Football To "PBK"

English Major Enjoys Literature, Plans Harvard Graduate Work

"I didn't do much except play football in high school and I didn't do much except study in college," said tall, serious Ennis Rees, member of Phi Beta Kappa. Rees is a native Virginian, born in Newport News and living there ever since. Besides winning his letter in football, Ennis also participated in track while in high school.

During his senior year at Newport News High School, Newport News won the state track championship for several years in a row. Ennis admitted that it didn't make as good grades in high school as he did in college. He explained that he acquired a new sense of values and decide that it would be a good idea to study for a change.

Ennis was vice-president of the student body and also of the senior class in high school. According to him he is always being elected vice-president of something. A newly elected senior representative to Student Assembly, Ennis says he hasn't been installed yet so he doesn't know what it's all about.

"My hobby is reading, but I guess it is more of a vocation than anything else. I like poetry and almost any kind of greater literature." He admits that he hasn't read most of the best-sellers but would if he had the time. In between reading and working in the garden, he goes fishing and being with friends.

"I don't have time to do much else. He claims he is noted for his plain the phenomenal change from an athlete to a hard-working student in particular, Dr. Guy asks. "Sure, liberal arts don't make sense without science." Betty Smoakle: "Yes, everyone should be open to the evils of politics!"

College Paints Meeting Room

In preparation for the national Phi Beta Kappa celebration next fall, a particular concern is the physical plans will be held at William and Mary, where Phi Beta Kappa was founded, recreation of Phi Beta Kappa Hall is being undertaken this semester.

Cliff Anhalt: "You have to go to Harvard if you don't well understand a bit of it." Mary Blass: "I didn't do much except play football in high school and I didn't do much except study in college."

Is Science Necessary?

"Sure—it trains your mind to think." As for vices he said, "I'm not a smoker..."

The purpose of a liberal arts school is a well rounded background. Science is part of the background.

"Sure, liberal arts don't make sense without science." Betty Smoakle: "Yes, everyone should be open to the evils of politics!"

The best short story and the best article will each win a prize of $500, while second prize of these categories will be $250.

The choice of subject matter for both the short story and the article will be left to the discretion of the contest judges. Manuscripts will be judged on merit and clarity of expression. Tomorrow will publish both the prize winning story and article in its December, 1946 issue.

Length of manuscripts may range from 2500 to 5000 words. All manuscripts should be addressed to Dean of Students, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Penna.; and Columbia University, New York, N. Y. Three of these debates are decision debates, and two are non-decision debates.

This is the third trip made by the Debate Team under the direction of Virginia Stephens and Edith Hillman, who made the trip the previous year, which debated at Randolph-Macon College, Women's College, in Greensboro, N.C., on Thursday, February 28.

Library Displays Books On Religious Subjects

In keeping with the Lenten season, the library is featuring a religious book display starting to-day.

There are other graduate opportunities open at Syracuse University for research and personal assistantships. Requests for further information and application forms for all Graduate Assistantships should be addressed to Dean of Graduate School, Syracuse University, Syracuse, N. Y.
18 Men, 135 Women Meet Dean's List Requirements

A total of 135 students have met the qualifications required for the Dean's List. Special privileges were extended to these students for achieving not less than 90 percent on average in the first quarter of their college careers. In addition, 18 men and 135 women have been placed on the honor roll for the second quarter. This list will appear in a later edition of The Flat Hat.

The students are as follows:--

Men:--

Women:--

Dance Committee Chooses Officers

Election of officers will take place at a meeting of the Dance Committee tomorrow evening. This election was scheduled to take place last March but the absence of members prevented it. Pat Blandford is expected to be re-elected as captain of the dance committee. The secretary will be chosen by the students at the meeting.

Greek Letts

Alpha Chi Omega announces the election of the following girls as officers for the coming year:--

President--Marilyn Phillips, Elizabeth Burchard, Pat Patten.
Vice President--Potter, Lottie Pritchard, Eugene Dewey Thomsen.
Secretary-Treasurer--Grayson Green, Claire Satterfield, Ruth Withnell, Janet King.

The next meeting is slated to be held March 19 in Barratt Hall, as announced by Brenda Caffin, club president.

scene of Wren or Tem Myers is a

WPCYA Holds Elections For 1946-'47 Office

Elections for WPCYA offices will be held at a regular meeting, Tuesday, March 13, at 7:00 p.m., in the Union.

Theatre Gives Psychological Murder Story

(Continued from Page 1)

masculine, stilted, and st晷i-

The new play, "The Hand on the Piano," is based on a true story of a woman who has been tormented by a phantom hand. It opens on April 1 at the Union Theatre and runs through April 6.

Glowing, Glamorous, Life-Like Portraits by

WONJULBELL STUDIO

Dwaine Burke is a stogie-smoking, middle-aged man who smokes a pipe and is a regular at the local bar. He is the new editor of the Union Theatre's production of the new play "The Hand on the Piano," which opens next Monday and Tuesday.

Max Rig

Williamsburgh, Va.

The Shop of Distinctive Gifts

Old Pot Office Bldg.
SPORTS SPIEL

-BY ED GRIFFIN-

Last week's loss to Wake Forest was a tripe surprising to some people who thought the Indians had a better than even chance of winning. Then they looked at the box score and the situation became more puzzling than ever.

Last year they were 7-8 and had a nucleus of players that had been together four years. This year they were 6-10 and the nucleus was small, with one or two exceptions. One of the exceptions was Jere, the fastest man and most capable fullback on the squad, who has used his speed and skill to the greatest possible advantage.

Intramural News

In the Intramural ping pong tournament Monsuur defeated Travis Dunlap in the third round while Danny Goldenberg defeated Bill Amend in the second round.

The winners of these two matches will meet in the finals sometime before March 16 and the victor will get the perpetual trophy.

Intramural head Kenneth Rawson has announced that an intramural tennis tournament will begin about March 15.

One of his biggest tennis thrillers this year was the opening game in Jacksonville in 1943 by a score of 10-8. This year Gardner won the Illinois state title and in 1945 covered the Midwest on a U. S. tennis tour with Bobby Riggs.

The college pool has reopened after having been closed for several weeks because the chlorinated water had deteriorated at the time knocked a few pounds off the players.

The past three weeks have been filled with singing up on college to get the kids out, as few students are likely to be found in the library these days.

The learning of new and old players, which has been thoroughly good in intramurals, along with these new pack calls H. N. "Rube" McCray has tried out a variation of the popular "T" formation, but has stuck to the single wing, on the whole.

-Continued on Page 6-

Indian Football Team Continues Practice With Intramural Game

With three weeks of spring football practice behind them, the 1946 edition of the William and Mary football team is rounding into shape after three months of relaxation.

The team marked their third game under the direction of Coach R. N. Tippin, who has been spending the time adjusting them for the upcoming intramural game on March 9. The last game of the 1945-46 season was a 22-19 victory over the local squads after having been closed for several weeks because the chlorinated water had deteriorated at the time knocked a few pounds off the players.

The past three weeks have been filled with singing up on college to get the kids out, as few students are likely to be found in the library these days.

The learning of new and old players, which has been thoroughly good in intramurals, along with these new pack calls H. N. "Rube" McCray has tried out a variation of the popular "T" formation, but has stuck to the single wing, on the whole.

-Continued on Page 6-

Indian Football Team Continues Practice With Intramural Game

With three weeks of spring football practice behind them, the 1946 edition of the William and Mary football team is rounding into shape after three months of relaxation.

The team marked their third game under the direction of Coach R. N. Tippin, who has been spending the time adjusting them for the upcoming intramural game on March 9. The last game of the 1945-46 season was a 22-19 victory over the local squads after having been closed for several weeks because the chlorinated water had deteriorated at the time knocked a few pounds off the players.

The past three weeks have been filled with singing up on college to get the kids out, as few students are likely to be found in the library these days.

The learning of new and old players, which has been thoroughly good in intramurals, along with these new pack calls H. N. "Rube" McCray has tried out a variation of the popular "T" formation, but has stuck to the single wing, on the whole.

-Continued on Page 6-

Indian Football Team Continues Practice With Intramural Game

With three weeks of spring football practice behind them, the 1946 edition of the William and Mary football team is rounding into shape after three months of relaxation.

The team marked their third game under the direction of Coach R. N. Tippin, who has been spending the time adjusting them for the upcoming intramural game on March 9. The last game of the 1945-46 season was a 22-19 victory over the local squads after having been closed for several weeks because the chlorinated water had deteriorated at the time knocked a few pounds off the players.

The past three weeks have been filled with singing up on college to get the kids out, as few students are likely to be found in the library these days.

The learning of new and old players, which has been thoroughly good in intramurals, along with these new pack calls H. N. "Rube" McCray has tried out a variation of the popular "T" formation, but has stuck to the single wing, on the whole.

-Continued on Page 6-

Indian Football Team Continues Practice With Intramural Game

With three weeks of spring football practice behind them, the 1946 edition of the William and Mary football team is rounding into shape after three months of relaxation.

The team marked their third game under the direction of Coach R. N. Tippin, who has been spending the time adjusting them for the upcoming intramural game on March 9. The last game of the 1945-46 season was a 22-19 victory over the local squads after having been closed for several weeks because the chlorinated water had deteriorated at the time knocked a few pounds off the players.

The past three weeks have been filled with singing up on college to get the kids out, as few students are likely to be found in the library these days.

The learning of new and old players, which has been thoroughly good in intramurals, along with these new pack calls H. N. "Rube" McCray has tried out a variation of the popular "T" formation, but has stuck to the single wing, on the whole.

-Continued on Page 6-

Indian Football Team Continues Practice With Intramural Game

With three weeks of spring football practice behind them, the 1946 edition of the William and Mary football team is rounding into shape after three months of relaxation.

The team marked their third game under the direction of Coach R. N. Tippin, who has been spending the time adjusting them for the upcoming intramural game on March 9. The last game of the 1945-46 season was a 22-19 victory over the local squads after having been closed for several weeks because the chlorinated water had deteriorated at the time knocked a few pounds off the players.

The past three weeks have been filled with singing up on college to get the kids out, as few students are likely to be found in the library these days.

The learning of new and old players, which has been thoroughly good in intramurals, along with these new pack calls H. N. "Rube" McCray has tried out a variation of the popular "T" formation, but has stuck to the single wing, on the whole.

-Continued on Page 6-

Intramural News

In the Intramural ping pong tournament Monsuur defeated Travis Dunlap in the third round while Danny Goldenberg defeated Bill Amend in the second round.

The winners of these two matches will meet in the finals sometime before March 16 and the victor will get the perpetual trophy.

Intramural head Kenneth Rawson has announced that an intramural tennis tournament will begin about March 15.

One of his biggest tennis thrillers this year was the opening game in Jacksonville in 1943 by a score of 10-8. This year Gardner won the Illinois state title and in 1945 covered the Midwest on a U. S. tennis tour with Bobby Riggs.

The college pool has reopened after having been closed for several weeks because the chlorinated water had deteriorated at the time knocked a few pounds off the players.

The past three weeks have been filled with singing up on college to get the kids out, as few students are likely to be found in the library these days.

The learning of new and old players, which has been thoroughly good in intramurals, along with these new pack calls H. N. "Rube" McCray has tried out a variation of the popular "T" formation, but has stuck to the single wing, on the whole.
Westhampton Edges Out Squaw Sextet By 22-18

In a seamy court battle last Saturday afternoon, William and Mary's varsity co-ed sextet dropped a heart-pounding 22-18 decision to the Squaw Sextet. It was the fourth loss in five starts for the Squaws and marked the end of the current intercollegiate basketball season.

Drawing first blood, the locals took an early 3-0 lead when captain Anna Beatty was fouled on a fast break and a long set shot. Westhampton broke into the scoring column a few minutes later as Edward- son rang up 2 points and the first quarter ended with William and Mary holding a 4-2 margin.

Midway in the next quarter Sanford and Edwards combined for the lead once more, this time for the Richmonders. Gustafson also found the range and the half-time stanza proved a stalemate, 8-8.
Janitors and Maids Form Traditional Part of College

Mattie, James, Henry, Ernst, Walter, Hold Long W-M Service Records

As familiar a part of the College as the bell or the buildings are the janitors and maids who have been here most of their lives and others for a relatively short time.

Mattie Braxon, currently of Jefferson, has come to be practically a part of the College life. When Dr. Tyler in 1902 said, "I was a good one of the house. Chocolates, candies and novelties have been here since the girls entered the hall, she went to dorms. Jefferson is where she has been on the job, doing parties ever since. Since then the college has grown so, I'm afraid I won't be able to keep up with it, but I've been here so long it's a part of me."

George Carter, with his distant mustache, can't be missed as he does the housekeeping in the old dormitories. Henry's been five years, is a well-known figure on campus. Without his bell-ringing in the mornings, he has done everything from running the errands to waiting on tables. "I like most to see the students go by," George stated to the organization when they're gone."

"Ben Crowson Speaks on "Pan-Americanism"" Tuesday, February 26, in Barrett living room.

Of "Pan-Americanism", Tuesday, February 26, in Barrett living room.

"Ben Crowson Speaks on "Pan-Americanism"" Tuesday, February 26, in Barrett living room.

"Ben Crowson Speaks on "Pan-Americanism"" Tuesday, February 26, in Barrett living room.

"Ben Crowson Speaks on "Pan-Americanism"" Tuesday, February 26, in Barrett living room.

"Ben Crowson Speaks on "Pan-Americanism"" Tuesday, February 26, in Barrett living room.
De Francis Addresses Meeting On March 15

Originally scheduled for Friday March 6, the Manassas-Wythe Seminar has been postponed until the following Friday, March 15. The meeting will be held in Rogers 212 at 4:00 p.m.

John de Francis of Yale University, who has studied the problems of the Mongol in China and is an authority on the Chinese language, and the Humanization of the Chinese, will be the guest speaker. His topic will be "China and the Mongols of the Yuan Dynasty." The address will be followed by a panel discussion.

Students who will participate in the discussion are: Jane Archambault, Isabel Clark, Janet Killen, Carol MacNeill, Thalma Murray, Shirley Parrish, Mary Phillips, Joe Setchert, John Wine, Wil Zepke, Jane Davis, and Mary French.

Dr. W. Warner Moss, head of the department of government and faculty advisor of the group, stated that the meeting had been postponed because of the arrival of Winston Churchill on the campus due to 2:30 p.m. Friday, March 8. He declared that there were no

Oblender, Graves Lead Meeting Of Lutherans

Jane Oblender and Lynn Graves will conduct a program on some phase of the Reformation as applied to the Lutherans church at a meeting of the Lutheran Students Union of Yorktown, Thursday, April 17 at 7:30 p.m. in Barrett living room.

The Lutherans church will provide over the business meeting, which will take up election of officers for next year.

Thursday Evening Meeting

The Thursday Evening Meeting, sponsored by the Lutheran Student Association, was held in the Old Gymnasium on Thursday, April 17 at 7:30 p.m. The meeting included the election of officers for the year.

The meeting was called to order by President Oblender. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was presented by Mr. Henneman, and a primary disadvantage is the lack of officers.
pledges on campus, elected Kemp Lane and Howard Hyle.

Wood, treasurer. Co-rush chair
Bob Merriman, secretary; Dudley
Boot president and Frank Stevens gathering and probable election of secretary-treasurer. Theta Delts active members and three pledges quent meetings will be called by president of the Association.

surrounding property .except the pa Alpha chapter, as part of the possession date is September 1, r magnetic, conducted speaking of a performance.

shows Proficiency In Rendering Sweet and Swing

College Dance Band

Shows Proficiency In Rendering Sweet and Swing

involvement. The second rule is to the effect early rushing will be association between freshmen, transfers, and sororities are represented.

The second rule is to the effect that Reception of no association. This is one of Nellie Greenlaw, national honorary

our form of entertainment. The group hired to play are:

Standard pieces the College Band practice continues, these seem to and drums . . . "one-two-three!

octave nightly from the basement loser was planning to play are:

O.K., let's go", shouts Bob De-showing "Last Days of Pompeii" at William and Mary

The professors and students from teacher of fine arts; Robert John-

March 4, in Washing-

see Fine Arts Exhibit

Professor, students from comprise the rhythm section. Most of the surrounding property .except the

settings and practices, all WBM Stations

Wednesday, March 6, 1946

WIGWAM Book Store Fountain

Compliments of ROSE'S 5-10-25C STORE credit cards for large portraits of Perry Como and Jo Stafford. Address: Chesterfield Studio Box 21, New York 8, N. Y.

THE RIGHT COMBINATION OF THE WORLD'S BEST TOBACCO

THE FLAT HAT