Sub-Committee To Seek Board Action On Student Activities Building

At the December meeting of the General Cooperative Committee, vice-chairman George J. Oliver named Nicky Dillard chairman of a sub-committee which is to appear before the Board of Visitors at its February meeting.

The committee will report that the Board of Visitors give "consideration to the construction of the student activities building at the earliest possible time." Other members of the committee are Miss Margarette Wyman-Bohens, Charles P. McCamley, Jr., Dick Scottfield and Dick Mattox.

There was an extended discussion over the proposed annual contributions to the student government of $9,800 in the year 1954-55. It was recommended that these be increased to $10,000, which the Student Assembly shall include in the university's budget for these purposes. The student government shall be present before the Board of Visitors at its February meeting with their report.

A new Inter-Club Council was organized by a Committee of the Student Government of Campus Organizations. The Committee consisted of a chairman and two members and was approved by the president of the Student Assembly and member of the Student Assembly. The Committee shall recommend to the student government any recommendation that the Student Assembly may make to the Board of Visitors.

The Assembly would be empowered to recommend any recommendation that the Student Assembly may make to the Board of Visitors. The student government shall be present before the Board of Visitors at its February meeting with their report.

Dear Sir:
I have long been interested in confidences that are not meant to affect me personally, and I found the recent column of the student assembly's recent action to be just such a case. The true, and perhaps only, reason for the student assembly's recent action was to right a wrong. The true, and perhaps only, reason for the student assembly's recent action was to correct a wrong that had been committed.

In conclusion, nothing will be done to correct the cafeteria as a college operation. Furthermore, the college apparatus is not intended to subsidize the cafeteria as a college operation. One point which seemed to have been lost on the student body was the fact that cafeteria operation is a business, not a charity. The true, and perhaps only, reason for the student assembly's recent action was to correct a wrong that had been committed.

Sincerely yours,

A Spirit of Confidence

Student-administration relations reach a new low last Thursday night at the first town meeting. The present of any constructive action coming out of such meetings appears more remote than it did when the idea was first presented, and the meeting, althoughBombastic in many respects, revealed an essentially tragic situation.

The cafeteria was the most explosive topic that could have been presented, and we doubt that the students are merely unanimous in their condemnation of the present cafeteria. Given this background, it is not too difficult to understand the display of violent emotion.

We regret that the student body went beyond the bounds of legitimate expression. We regret far more the unfortunate choice of the cafeteria as the topic of their remarks. One point which seemed to have been lost on the student body for their utterly cold reception of it.

Both Mr. Duke and Mr. Henderson presented an interesting and revealing picture of the operation and the margin of profit resulting from cafeteria operation. One point which seemed to have been lost on the students was the fact that cafeteria operation is a business, not a charity. The true, and perhaps only, reason for the student assembly's recent action was to correct a wrong that had been committed.

The most striking insight into the cafeteria situation was Mr. Henderson's point that cafeteria operation is not intended to subsidize the cafeteria as a college operation. Furthermore, the college apparatus is not intended to subsidize the cafeteria as a college operation. One point which seemed to have been lost on the student body was the fact that cafeteria operation is a business, not a charity. The true, and perhaps only, reason for the student assembly's recent action was to correct a wrong that had been committed.

Confidence is a fragile plant. It must be carefully nurtured by time and mutual respect, and strong enough to withstand the scrutiny of the student body. William and Mary are to achieve greatness. The students, faculty and administration must be able to tolerate each other's problems with a spirit of confidence.

How many times have you gone grocery shopping and found that you no longer enjoy the cafeteria as a college operation? Perhaps you even wonder whether the cafeteria is one of the finest in the country. Have you been willing to accept the fact that the cafeteria should be commended for its reasonable prices, cause the atmosphere, the delicious food, and the cafeteria one of the finest in the country.

Tribe To Tangle With Four SC Teams This Week

By Dick Sayford

"Very commendable," Assistant Coach Bob Eshleman said in describing the performance of the Tribe's touring basketball team during the Christmas vacation, as he reflected upon two victories, one loss, and absorbing three setbacks.

The ten-man Indian travel team left Byrd Airport in Richmond Thursday afternoon, December 16, and flew to Cleveland, where undefeated John Carroll handed the Tribe its first defeat in five starts. A crowd of 6,000, the largest to date, witnessed the 63-54 setback.

The moral of our little tale is, how much better it was to have played and lost, than not to have played at all.

However one of the freshmen had determined not to forfeit and managed to find three others who felt the same. The four of them reported on the court and were allowed to play, much less support than they would have received had they not been there.

The Theta II's and the Kappa Delta's fought to a 12-12 stalemate, and the Theta II's took a 27-13 lead over the Kappa Delta's. Tall Marion Hough, with nine points, held the scoring spotlight for the losers.

Otis Douglas Named Head Grid Coach At Arkansas After Barnhill Resigns

Otis Douglas, whose name has been in the football limelight for much of the past two years, has accepted an appointment as football coach at the University of Arkansas, replacing John Barnhill, who resigned. The appointment was made just December 10. Douglas, at the time of announcement, was head coach of Drexel High, and trainer and part-time tackle for the professional football champion Philadelphia Eagles.

W & M Star

Douglas, a star tackle at W & M in the early thirties, and captain in 1932, has had considerable experience in the coaching field. After graduation, he held an assistant coaching position at W & M until 1938, when he moved to Alcorn University as head coach. During the war, he served in the Navy, doing some coaching and training, and returning to the football field after his service was completed.

Plato T-Party

An exponent of the Y-formations, Douglass plans to install that type of play at Arkansas, and promised a variety of wide open passing of fense and razzle-dazzle.

While at W & M, Douglas also coached the basketball team, and was undusted during his college career. He is from Beecville.

SAE’s Swamp Field In “Mural” Swimming; PI KA’s Burke Cracks Two Meet Records

By swimming at least one mile every event, SAE capped its intramural swimming meet with points to spare on the Wednesday preceding the meet. The Violets scored a total of 53 points in the victory, and were followed by PI KA and KA in a tie for second with 55 points a piece.

 Theta Delta Chi was fourth with 33 points, followed by Phi Kappa Tau, Sigma Kappa, Lambda Chi, Sigma Xi and Pi Lambda Chi in that order. Sigma Pi and Phi Alpha failed to enter teams.

Theta Delta Chi’s team was led by Harvey Jaffe, who took the breast stroke with a time of 2.10 minutes. Both old records were held by Ted Uhler, former coach of the Violets, and Joe Markos, who won the event.

Burke was followed in the 50 by Bill Richards, Theta Delta Chi, E. W. Ware, PI KA and David DeLapp, SAE, in that order. In the medley, Ware was second, ten yards behind Burke, followed by Dave Strubinger, Phi Kappa Tau, and DeLappmer.

Taylor Toppens’ Breast Stroke

Harry Taylor gave Pi KA their first place finish as he swam to victory in the 50-yard breast stroke with a time of 2.38 seconds. While at W & M, Taylor also won the 50-yard free style in the same time of 2.38 seconds, and capped the meet in the 100-yard medley.

The winning time was 2.13.4. Bill Sinton, KA, topped the 100-yard freestyle with a 1.08.4 effort to win going away. DeLappmer was second, followed by team-mates Melton Mackland and Bob Myers, Theta Delta Chi.

Hardie versus Larkin

North Carolina State shut out the outstanding swimmer, as he set two new intramural records. He raced to victory in the 50-yard free style in the new time of 2.38 seconds, and capped the meet in the 100-yard medley in the time of 2.13.4.

Four Tribe Seniors Play In Bowls

Four William and Mary football players participated in the bowl game as the new year burst into bloom, and their teams won both times. At Montgomery, Ala., in the annual Blue-Gray classic, Otis Hardie, George Hughes and Ernest Loomis took the Grays as they annexed a 27-13 win.

Ted Tidwell’s "puncher’s" mender was the touchy position on the team, while Hughes and Creekman were the stars in the Assateague Bowl. Poland, who missed the above-mentioned game because of a leg injury, turned out to be one man in the lookout. Mitchell lost the Assateague Bowl to the North and West in the Senior Bowl, 9-0, Saturday in Jacksonville, Fla. He recovered a fumbled ball at his 16-yard line in the final.

U. S. Army To Offer Direct Commissions to Qualified Women

Opportunities in a new career field will be open to qualified women college graduates and to women who will graduate with the Class of 1950, announced Dr. Katharine H. Burt, director of the Women's Army Corps Service on January 4.

The Army is offering direct commissions as Second Lieutenants in the Women's Army Corps Service to any woman who meets the requirements for women as volunteer officers in the Army. These requirements are the same as those to which men are subject. Students who have already signed up may obtain a commission on presentation of the necessary papers before January 17.

Applicants for these commissions may be appointed at any time during the duration of the course, during which they will receive training. Upon completion of the course, the applicant may be appointed as Second Lieutenant in the Women's Army Corps.

The Commissioner of the Army said that it was not her intention to be selective in filling these vacancies, but to fill them as quickly as possible after exams. As much as possible of the Army's time is spent in Philadelphia, and she plans to be married in two or three years.

"When I get settled and have a family," she said, "I want to go back to the University of Pennsylvania to get my master's degree in psychology and then work in the home." A psychology major, she said, will give her the opportunity to work in the field.

Psychology Major

"Strangely enough," Dr. Burt said, "Bob is not as strong in psychology as he is in music. But he knew he wanted to go into psychology and music almost immediately. He has been fishing and boating since he was a boy, and has been attracted to the field of psychology. He has been reading as much as possible on the subject. As much as possible of the Army's time is spent in Philadelphia, and he plans to be married in two or three years.

Fire Routes Old Dominion Hall Residents; Midnight Blaze Damages Student Laundry

By Hugh DeSamper

A fire, determined origin of unknown, origin of the fire was discovered at approximately 12:30 a.m., by David Lindner, who immediately arous ed the residents on the third floor, and then descended to the first floor and began pulling burning bundles off the pile.

DAMAGE SIGHT

Damage to the building was about $12,000; out of some 500 boxes deposited in the area, about 25 were burned or soaked with water. Others were soaked with water.

The Williamsburg Fire Department was notified of the fire by Harry Billing but it was extinguished when they arrived. Instrumental in bringing the fire under control were two members of the Philadelphia Volunteer Fire Department, Tommy Lewis and Phil Puller, who manned fire extinguishers and saw that doors were kept closed to eliminate the spread of smoke.

Smoke escaped from the building for about 15 minutes before the fire was discovered, but it was attributed to firecrackers that had been exploded about that time. The smell of smoke was so intense that the building was discovered hitting the third floor, and was not burned.

The origin of the fire is uncertain, but is believed to have come from a lighted cigarette, match or possibly a firecracker. Some smoke may have been created by a lighted cigarette, but was not observed.

The college carries insurance on the building, but not on personal property.

Dr. Glenwood Clark
Will Address Chapel
Wednesday Evening

Dr. Glenwood C. Clark, associate professor of English, will deliver the Chapel address tomorrow evening in Wren Chapel.

At the Chapel Service last Wednesday, Dr. Andrew C. Haigh, associate professor of fine arts, spoke on the subject entitled A Review of H. A. O. Overstreet's "The Nature Mind."

Dr. Haigh said that one of the essential qualities of a mature mind, according to Mr. Overstreet, is the ability to evaluate independently any given situation, problem or printed matter. A person having this type of mental makeup does not blindly accept makeup or blemish or peris or believe everything he hears or reads; he displays the courage and the ability to analyze with penetrating insight the various aspects of his daily life. He can readily accept responsibility and continues to grow mentally and emotionally as an adult.

Dr. Haigh also reviewed the contributions made by Freud and Thorndike in their study of the human mind. He stressed the deep inter-relation of the community in which a person lives, his church fellowship and his home background in developing a mature personality.

It was also announced that there will be an election held some time after the examination period to fill three vacant senior class offices. A vice-president and two assemblers must be chosen.

Article 7 of the Student Assembly By-Laws was passed concerning revision of the Inter-Club Council. In outlining the plans for the Town Hall meeting, which was held last Thursday, the results of the last student poll were announced. According to Bill Lee, Co-Chairman of the Tidewater Student Alumni Association, some William and Mary students either have bad eyes or poor memories, or both. It seems that people were trying to get in the Association's holiday games with everything from Xmas cards to last year's Xmas ball was enclosed in square, white envelopes. One such white covering contained a very lovely, personal Xmas card, cordially signed, "The Schloofvandus!"

Fake Bids

The more appropriate fake bid, however, came in the form of a small—but business greeting card containing the following wish: "Seasons Greeting—It is our pleasure, indeed, at this time of year, gratefully acknowledge the favors we have received—and extend to you our compliments and best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year."

Lee's only comment: "Believe me, I don't believe in Christmas!"

Sue Blankin, who graduated last June and who is now residing in Kentucky, sent a Xmas card, cordially signed, "The Blankin family."

According to Dick Scott, She's a member of the junior class from Norfolk had his father bring him back to school after spending the week-end before the Christmas vacation at home. His father had to rush right back to Norfolk to catch a plane to Washington. Because he was detained in Williamsburg he missed his plane. The next morning the Norfolk Virginia Pilot carried the following headline: "Plane Bound From Norfolk to Washington Crashes Into Potomac." What was it Billy Shakespeare once said, "All the world's a stage and all the men and women mere players..." I sort think he had something there.

Co-op Returns Proposed Amendments
To Student Assembly For Reconsideration

Dorton brought up the matter of a higher rate of pay for students employed by the college. Professor Croy reported that a recent survey, conducted by John C. Bright, director of the Work-Study Plan, showed that student wages at Williams and Mary compared favorably with other colleges. He added, however, that William and Mary should tend in student wages, if possible. Dean Houtch mentioned that the Student Aid Committee had been studying his position, and that efforts were being made to raise student pay.

The Committee heard a report regarding new by-laws for the various buildings. The sub-committee reported that a meeting had been held with Charles J. Duke, chairman, and that he had reported several additions to the by-laws that had resulted in a "clean slate" for the college.
