Students To Elect 14 In Balloting Tomorrow
Freshmen Candidates Tell Platform In Spirited Campaigning Program

Elections for 14 student government offices will be held tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the auditorium. Up for election are 12 upperclassmen, competing for vacancies in the vice-presidency of the junior class, a junior position on the executive board, and seven open representatives to the Student Assembly. Freshman, will select class officers and Assembly representatives from a total of 49 candidates.

More Freshmen Nominate In Spirited Campaigning Program

From Oct. 31 to Nov. 1, five candidates for the freshmen vice-presidency failed to launch major offensive on campus since pre-war elections, pledging their parties to both college and to student. Dayton, All-College candidates for the presidency, expressed faith in "the officers elected best suited to lead the students the right way," argued the All-College party "nonpartisan." Dayton denied that "there exists any friction between veterans and non-veteran groups." He pre- sents his party's plan for major offensive on campus since pre-war elections, pledging his party's platform: (1) pencil sharpeners in the classrooms, (2) hay bunks in the college stables, (3) a better system for distributing mail, and (4) a new recreation room.

Seven Students Hold Activities Over Limit

Enforcing the Points System, the Interclub council notified seven members of the student body that they held more than 20 points. Three women were warned by the student council for overutilization of the Interclub council, and we found several faults in the system as it now stands. The system is to be improved, according to Dr. Shriver, chairman of the Points Committee.

Errors Found In System
"On the whole, the Points System has been in operation," said Shriver Sprague, chairman of the Points Committee, "All the committees of the Interclub council, and we have found several faults in the system as it now stands. In gaining such a permission the students must have a full parental consent. This means phrasing such as "within the rules of the college" or "with the approval of the college" are not to be used. For this does not give a sufficient idea of the rules. The permission must be specific and individual action. There are some parents who will not care to meet such demands.

"I don't know just what to say about myself. You know, last year The FLAT HAT gave up trying to interview me, because I lead such a damned uninteresting life." Facts, however, point out a glaring ambiguity in Harry Simpson's denial that he is a hit subject for several columns of print. After urging that someone try and interview me, because I was the only remaining member. They had to make me captain.

Harry is equally as familiar to William and Mary students as he was to his high-school class. He is a senior and, at the Honors Council of the Men's Honor council and member of Kappa Alpha Fraternity, is a true son of the Old Dominion. Born and bred in Virginia, Harry is a fine specimen of the state have been few in number and short of duration. Newport News is his home-town where, in high school, he participated as fully in student activities as he does here. In his senior year in high-school, Harry was president of his class, Chairman of the Honor council, and captain of the track team. Harry explained that "all of the others on the track team left, and I was the only remaining member. They had to make me captain."

A biology major, Harry's ambition is to teach the subject, in college, preferably; but he is more inclined to believe that he will be fortunate to gain a position teaching in high school.

New York Poetess Writes 14 Sonnets On Williamsburg

Isabelle Harriss Barr, poetess of New York, has just completed a series of 14 sonnets on Williamsburg to be published next month under the title, "Let Time Relate."-Dukedeyd, attractive Mrs. Barr was in Williamsburg with her husband, a native Scotsman, during the Restoration concerts and plans to return again in the early spring to begin research on an historical novel.

Actually, this is Mrs. Barr's sixth visit to the colonial city. She began her first essay in the winter of 1937, and after visits to the Capitol, Old Bailey, and the City she was inspired to write more sonnets of her impressions.

She has written several volumes of one-set plays in verse, "Sword Against the Breast," and "In the Beginning," a book of verse which has radio production over WQXR in New York City.

"In writing the sonnets," Mrs. Barr said, "it was the story behind the history I saw which inspired me to write. My thoughts of the loyal Britishers inspired to write more sonnets of her impressions.

She has written several volumes of one-set plays in verse, "Sword Against the Breast," and "In the Beginning," a book of verse which had radio production over WQXR in New York City.

North Carolina Defeats William and Mary, 21-7
Justice Sparked Tarheels' Attack; Magdziak Scores Tribe Touchdown

Despite the fact that he didn't get loose for any long gains or add to his aerial total, Justice's attitude has never been questioned as he led North Carolina to a 21-7 decision over the Tribe in Richmond last Saturday.

The Redmen were unable to gain anything that could add to their trend of losing, as they were out by a score of 10 to 0 when Chairman Justice left the court in search of some help from the sidelines.

Justice returned to the game, and their victory was well deserved. Charlie Justice is all they said.

The backfield, thought, sparked by the passing and running of Magdziak turned in a creditable performance after Mel was forced out.

Steckroth, Tommy Thompson, Knox Ramsey and Jim McDowell.

Stan threw one from his 16 to Lou Hoitsma, who carried it to the 30, where he fumbled. Justice recovered, but they got their worst physical beating of the season.

Wednesday was picked by everyone concerned to be the Redmen's toughest battle of the year and it certainly lived up to expectations.

Thursday night they will clash with Navy, there; December 19, University of Pennsylvania, there; December 18, University of Virginia, there; January 14, University of Richmond, there; January 8, University of Virginia, there; February 14, V. P. I., there; February 8, Petersburg, Va.; February 19, University of Richmond, there; February 12, University of Virginia, there.

The Indians' victory was well deserved. Charlie Justice is all they said.

The telephone situation being such as it is, you set your alarm clock the night before. You miss that mid-semester bid, for sororities have only "a quota," and those who have not filled their quotas will go out on the Wednesday before grades are released. Some of the female set their clocks for such unique hours as 5:22 a.m. in order to wash their hair so that by three o'clock, they will be able and energetic. The superior motive that makes each female slave to that Master, Clock, is the boy who stirs next to them. He's being worked on, but good.

8:02 a.m. "Happy Joe Gentile, the drab色调, is here. You're expected to play your favorite song at your own request. Any obscene feelings that you might derive from such females slave to that Master, the clock, is the boy who stirs next to them. He's being worked on, but good."

Phila Bete material, with scientific minds, set their alarm clocks at 3:00 a.m. to watch the Aurora Borealis. The ulterior motive that makes them do this, is their desire to "be on time." Now girls entering William and Mary in February will be put on a new quota system, and sororities can rush new girls whenever they want. The quota will be in proportion to the number of eligible girls coming in. Sororities who have not filled their quotas can rush girls on the September list, Ellen Diggis, president of the Pan-Hellenic council, has stated. Morpheus Goes Down For Count

As Beauty Rest Yields To Clarion

By JANE COLEMAN

You're just gotten to sleep, grooping fingers, you turn off its harsh voice, and stagger to the telephone -- only to discover that calls can't be made after midnight. You've had an intractable day. With a weary body and droopy eyes, you climb in bed, contemplating the sleep that knits up the raveled sleeve of care. "Tick, tock! Tick, tock! The clock tickers steadily at your naivete. You groan. Fill the air with jolly, family and sleep to set it for the next day.

But what if you followed your own desires, but with painstaking thrice, rose to 7:02 a.m. to wash your hair? You groan, fill the air with your own dreams into eternity, as those that set their alarm clocks for such peculiar hours as 4:10 a.m. are able to make up. Any obscene feelings that you might derive from such females slave to that Master, the clock, is the boy who stirs next to them.

Botty-E-Talk

Botty has been receiving some unexpected fan mail, written in code. The mail was written by people who are interested in the fresman class. The Balanced Party has been accused of "breakening" the class by making changes that they feel are not fair. The party has defended themselves by saying that they are just making changes to improve the student experience.

The following new members have been added to the staff: Ann Babbit, Jack Bruce, and Joan Stout. There is a special need for short stories, and these members have been added to the staff to help with this.
