Student Camel Drive Sends Smoke To Men Overseas

Cigarettes from students of William and Mary have been reaching the men in the forces, according to reports from four students who recently returned from England. A representative of the Camel Cigarette Company contributed about half of the money raised.

The first reports of the drive were received from Captain Littausr and

Do you feel that you get sufficient returns from your donation to the Student Association?

My opinion is that we do get sufficient returns. Our committees meet and take care of the affair, and we make sure that every dollar goes toward the purpose. We have a typist and a secretary who keep track of the money received and spent. We also have a treasurer who keeps the books.

As far as I'm aware, there have been no complaints from any members of the Student Association about the way they were handled.

All of our efforts are directed at getting the money we need to support the activities of the organization.

No, I don't think that our returns were sufficient. I think we need more money. The organization should be able to get more money from the members.

I don't think so. I think that we get an adequate return for our donations. We have a treasurer

POW WOW with WALLY

Last Saturday night marked the closing of one of the greatest athletic careers we've ever had the pleasure to watch. Naturally we mean the last game played for William and Mary and Glenn Knox, whom we feel was one of the greatest all around athletes to ever play for the Black and Yellow cagers of the University of Maryland at College Park today (Tuesday) as the annual Towson Tourney, the second half.

Last season Bill Morris, since called up to the Army Reserve, was the big star of the Big Green. This season Knox started to hit the hoops. Once ahead the Big Green never let up, scoring 34 points to W. & M.'s 26. The second half was a different story as the Indians completely closed their season with a victory over the boys from Phi Alpha by the score of 41-33. Knox Pours It On William and Mary's second half attack was off as pages and scoring more was the goal. Shooting was poor and the generals had gained a 11-11 tie. The second half was nip and tuck with Smidl leading the W. & M. of the generals. Knox started to hit the hoops. Once ahead the Big Green never let up, scoring 34 points to W. & M.'s 26.

In spite of these defeats, piggy backed tail-enders Fail 'em... The Purple and Gold of Sigma Alpha established its fifth consecutive record and at the same time had its leading basketball escort in the form of Glenn Knox, the All Southern Conference Captain, All of Virginia, and Hooker, the Indian lineup. On Wednesday, the Big Green moved over to the Coliseum to close their season in the annual Towson Tourney. The second half was a different story as the Indians completely closed their season with a victory over the boys from Phi Alpha by the score of 41-33. Knox Pours It On

Mary’s Seminary/New Name As Men Leave

By SUNNY MANEWAL

All was quiet on the evening of September 19th when Jack Camp announced the names of 90 Army Reserve students who have gone on active duty, the first of the names that would mean, "Men After" in the College of William and Mary's Seminary—Williamsburg storm.

"We're going too," cried, but the Army just leered and said, "Victory Garden, with carrots all in a row. "It can't happen here," we thought, but the Army just kept looking for its "green" with the wind and rain in its face, and there were "plants" everywhere.

Echo Editor Gets Call; Book Expected In April

When the Army Air Corps became convinced of the necessity of airmen for service duty on February 10, the practice of the "Colonial Echo," a handsome monthly, was among those canceled. The editor, Jack Camp, was among those called for active duty, it became necessary to have it continued until flight training was completed. "Begun as a Vandercook opus, the staff of the "Echo" worked almost continuously until the flight training, after all the care, and all has its pictures, was sent to the printer. During this time 120 pictures were taken and 28 envelopes had to be canceled. Among the pictures that were taken were those of the best ball and back yard. The others had to be canceled and adaption had to be finished in order to get your presentation. As they wrote it at the back of the staff, they must be printed. Among the pictures the members of the staff were canceled from classes. Two of the photographers stayed at F&H Friday night developing film in the dark room.

The only things prevailing to be sent to the publisher is the picture of the Board of Visitors. This picture cannot be taken until March 6. The reason is that we need the Board of Visitors in order to finish our job. According to Camp, "Unless the Board of Visitors printed the picture, we cannot have our book."

Junior Editors of the "Echo" are Dedee Armor, Harriet McConathy, Becky Ramsey, and Art Frier. Camp had originally planned to have the book ready for the printing day. In the light of these statements I expect any false references which may have been drawn from the February 16th column of Mr. Bradford Diggon regarding either the character or beliefs of Mr. H. Waddell Cunningham, President of the Student Body.

Charles T. Williams, Professor of English. I accept as matters of fact their letters published in the February 16th issue of the FLAT HAT.

A Personal Opinion

There is no need to fear a personal opinion in this column, because another world will be posed to this world...

"Who can tell us how much of the truth of the world will remain when the dust of the earth shall have passed away?"...

No, who are not afraid of the formal and the routine, who have some faith in the destiny of the world, who will have a place in the vast concourse of the ages and in the process of history...

We believe that, even in the midst of strife and suffering, there is a need for the courage and conviction of those who believe in the possibility of a better world...

Russian Policy... -

By ALEXANDER BOROWSKY

The military events in Russia of the past three days, in which the Red Army has scored several important victories, have provided an opportunity to assess the Russian position in the current conflict.

In these days of uncertainty and uncertainty, it is important to remember that the Russian military victory is a result of the wisdom and vision of the Russian leadership. The leadership of the Soviet Union, under the guidance of Chairman Joseph Stalin, has demonstrated a remarkable ability to anticipate and respond to the challenges of the modern world.

The victory in Russia is a testament to the strength and resolve of the Soviet Union. It is a victory that demonstrates the importance of unity and cooperation in the face of adversity.

In the context of this victory, it is important to consider the role of other nations and international organizations in supporting the cause of freedom and democracy.
