Plea To Students

To students everywhere, we urge you to vote: vote. don't just come to the polls and let your friends do it. We don't want to vote for any particular candidate, we just want to vote for the right thing, the right idea. We're not going to vote for the candidate who's going to do the least damage, we're going to vote for the candidate who's going to do the most good.

Let's make this a decided issue. Let's make it clear that we want a government that will work for the people, not against them. We don't want a government that's going to try to keep us down, we want a government that's going to help us up. We don't want a government that's going to tell us what to do, we want a government that's going to listen to us and help us. We don't want a government that's going to be controlled by the rich, we want a government that's going to be controlled by the people.

Yes, we know it's hard to make up our minds. It's hard to know which candidate is the best. But we have to make up our minds. We have to vote. And we have to vote for the candidate that we think is the best. And we have to vote for the candidate that we think is the one that's going to make the most difference.

So let's do it. Let's vote. And let's do it for the right reasons. Let's do it for the right idea. Let's do it for the right thing. Let's do it for the people. Let's do it for the future. Let's do it for the country. Let's do it for the world. Let's do it for the right thing.
