Rehearsals in Progress

The Flat Hat, the college newspaper, is in the process of preparing for the next issue. The newspaper will be published in the university's new "Thornton Wilder Hall." The newspaper will be followed by a reception in the university's new "Thornton Wilder Hall."
Survival of the Fittest

A 1887:Trump's busiest winter and spring season is almost over and the survival of the fittest begins. The surplus Mink fur coat is certain dead stock, but the cost of the pashmina is a question. The best-looking soft collar is one of Arrow's least-sold wares and Arrow styled by a true professional.

Take the case of Harry Rudy, the new Trimpr shirtmaker. Two orders delivered, one from each of his best customers. The other day H. Royal, the fashion buyer for the Toledo Trust, submitted a special order for 100 shirts, size 14. H. Royal avowed he had never bought a shirt of this size before in his life. It was the first time he had bought a shirt of any size above 13.5. The order was for a special edition of the Trimpr line, which is being introduced in the spring.

Barney Philo, seen off again

The meeting is the fifth "Barney Philo" off again. Barney Philo, who has been away from the campus for a year, will return next week. He will give a lecture on "Lobster Potting," which will be a highly interesting and entertaining talk. Barney Philo will also give a demonstration of his lobster potting methods, and the audience is cordially invited to participate in the demonstration.

THE PLAY HAY

Dr. Robert Maynard Hutchins has designated 1927 as the year of the "playwright" at the University of Chicago. This is in keeping with the national emphasis on the arts and the development of new talent. The Play Festival, held in conjunction with the Drama Week, will feature a number of talented students and faculty members. The festival will include plays written and directed by students and faculty members, as well as a number of well-known professional productions. The festival will run from February fourth to eleventh.

Harmian to Lead Virginia Cavaliers Against William and Mary

In the first of two basketball games in five days played before a huge crowd of 700, the visiting Virginia Cavaliers defeated the William and Mary Indians 40-33. The game was played on the William and Mary court.

The Cavaliers, under the leadership of Harmian, led the Indians in the early stages of the game, but William and Mary fought back to tie the score. The game was decided in the final moments, when the Cavaliers went on a 10-point run to secure the victory.

The average non-colonialist usually passes off his ignorance of why things happened in the American Revolution as being caused by saying "irrational," or "po­litically motivated." Unfortunately, his in­ability to understand the motives behind these two words are among the hardest mysteries to solve. Students (and presumably the general public and the con­gregations) are no better at politics and history than we are. It is, therefore, a natural reaction to just avoid defining these words, but since they are part of the American political lexicon (it may be a blue law in Holland and it is among the American Revolution of our language), I believe it is high time to say it and it is re­quired to explain the reasons behind these words in the context of the American Revolution.

The politics of politics playing its old game in this hectic country is not a pressing issue because this is not a vital issue, and, anyway,voucher全身がえないfor doing so is not the price of fifty cents; just when it comes to the long budget election in the paying-

There will be a meeting of the Foreign Travel Council in the Wythe Hall, 111, at 10 a. m., Tuesday, February 5th. All students are invited to attend.

John Page's descendants, according to the family records, were owners of the estate in the beginning of the 18th century. This tradition has been continued through the generations until the present day. The Page family has been prominent in Williamsburg, Virginia since the settlement of the colony.

Here's a Practical Instructor...

"The truth doesn't hurt" seems to be the policy of Mr. William S. Willard, instructor in economics at Loyola University. In a recent accounting class, Mr. Willard instructed students to bring the money they would need to support themselves while attending college. He also warned them to think first of their own affairs before thinking about others. Mr. Willard's advice is obvious. But the coin? Mr. Willard instructed them to bring a coin for the Tip of the Hat, which is a popular student newspaper at Loyola. The coin is used to support the newspaper and its activities. Mr. Willard's advice is welcome for students who want to support their campus newspapers.

FLICKER FLASHER

Opening gun on this week’s film program is something well off the beaten track here. It is in Earl’s Court, 625 W. 23rd St., where the mystery program is presented, that the audience will be treated to a fast, zippy sequel to the original “Brother Rat,” and features practically the entire cast of the original picture.

And the baby assumes the screen. This, of course, is the climax arrives with bombs and an air raid. One note that will jar with Edward Arnold in “Earl of Chicago,” playing Wednesday only.

A good deal of second-hand destruction takes place as a comedy of errors and genuine moments of suspense transpire. The comedy moments are handled with elan and air raid, thus note that will jar with Edward Arnold in “Earl of Chicago,” playing Wednesday only.
