The General Cooperative Committee re-elected Professor George J. Oliver to the office of vice-chairman at its initial meeting of the current session on October 12 at 4 p.m. in the Apollo Room. Charles Quittmeyer, assistant professor of business administration, was elected secretary of the Committee on his perseverance in the accomplishment of this project.

The secretary was instructed to revise the correspondence of last year and to prepare for the current session on October 13 at 4 p.m. in the Apollo Room. There was a great need for housing the Student Government Office. It was also decided to appoint a committee to go to the next meeting of the Committee.

The Student, senior class presi- dors, brought up the matter of returning from Christmas holidays on January 3 at 11 a.m. He reported that many students felt this was a good time to spend the holidays, particularly on those returning from the South. Dean D. J. Willard Lamb stated that this would be the subject of a workshop made up in advance by the Dean of the College according to a formula. Later that afternoon Lamb organized a meeting that decided whether to allow students to leave campus all year. Nicky reported that there was no way to keep the campus from becoming a junior and senior home in 100 and 200 courses. The present regulation allows one cut for each hour some students were appointed to a committee to identify and bring up the matter of the subject of the next meeting of the Committee. Lamb was instructed to write a letter to the college band asking them to contribute a performance.

Victorian Stage Suggests Feeling Of “Little Foxes”

"Take the foxes, the little foxes that spoil the vines, for our vines have tender grapes." (Second Quotation Upon Which Not Only To Make Foxes Or Vines Have Tender Grapes."

The next meeting of the Committee will be held on Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in the Apollo Room.

Backdrop Begins Script 'Try-Outs'

Try-out script outlines for the spring production of the Backdrop Club were presented at the first meeting of the Committee on November first. It was announced that Reverend Churchill G. Gibson, assistant professor of fine arts, will be the guest speaker at chapel services on Wednesday at 3:30 p.m.

Gibson To Address Chapel Wednesday

Reverend Churchill G. Gibson, assistant professor of fine arts, will be the guest speaker at chapel services on Wednesday at 3:30 p.m.

Reverend Gibson is coming here upon his return from the General Convention of the Episcopal Church, which he attended.

It is the custom of the Student Government Office, which makes charge of weekly chapel programs, to have one speaker from each of the religious denominations represented here on campus. Reverend Gibson was appointed to be the speaker for this week.

Immediately following chapel services there will be a brief reception for Reverend Gibson in the east small hall of the Student Union Building. Everyone is urged to attend.

Dean Lambert remarked that the matter in question was governed by faculty regulations, and after further discussion, Nicky and Dean D. J. Willard Lamb przesident of the Judicial Council, were appointed to study the matter and report to the Committee at its next meeting.

The records of last year's show were made a part of the records of the Student Council and that 90 per cent of the income from the show will be used to purchase new costumes for the spring production of the Backdrop Club. There is still a great need for more design and scenery and for the community to continue to support this program.

Younger Personnel

On the faculty situation, the Dean spoke to the student body last Wednesday on Admissions Policy and the subject of the faculty he met with his trip abroad who have through the havoc and destruction of war, become more unselfish and understanding people.

To Build Or Not to Build

President Powmont's annual report (which is unnamed elsewhere in this paper) in the Board of Visitors makes highly interesting reading. Frankly this is the first time we've seen one of the reports, and we believe that you, the reader, are unaware of the existence of such a report.

Campus Crossroads
By Shirley Spain

Quite a stir was created at On-campus when the Flat Hat board invited Paul Reuben, negro singer who recently has been touring the country explaining his views on world peace and presenting his conception of the pro-v viewpoint, to speak at the college. As inclement weather and race time prevented the college from purchasing the negro singer, different views appeared on the question of whether or not another negro speaker would be acceptable. While Robert had accepted theiggins, he refused to share the platform with another speaker as he felt that such action was not in harmony with the "rights of an artist to be heard and the needs of all citizens to come together to guarantee fuller democracy."

At Duke University a new low policy has begun at the Katara. dress will now be served for 35 cents, lunch for 50 cents and supper for 75 cents. Dancing in the cafeteria will be prevented in the evening until 10 p.m. A new outfit dresser and a doughnut machine is also being installed for the benefit of the students and faculty.

In the first meeting of the Men's Honor Council at the College of William and Mary every Tuesday of the college year an "open discussion" is held, where students may discuss problems they feel should be resolved by the council. The purpose of the council is to uphold the spirit of a better campus.

The construction of the new dormitory units, student union, and fine arts building will round out the construction programs as the funds are badly needed. The outstanding debt of the college has been reduced from $475,000 to $299,500 in the last 6 years. Social functions will now be held in the old Taliferro dining room. The publications, like most other things, have been caught in the post-war inflation, and the recent proposals to move the publications to smaller quarters will have to be taken, if the institution is to continue another temporary housing and sub-standard dwellings.

We hope the General Assembly will see the pressing need for additional dormitory space and this construction can be started this session.

Another question mark in the post-war building plans is the construction of a Student Activities Building. This project has been kicked around since it was first mentioned in 1940. The college has received no unconditional appropriation from the State House, and the construction will be cut. The reason given for the delay is "prohibitively building costs." Building costs are thought to be higher than they were before the war, but there is little likelihood of any action being taken.

The most recent offer is for the construction of a Student Union at a cost of $120,000. This would have provided student accommodation, from the already inadequate activity fee which every student pays. The most recent offer is for the construction of a Student Union at a cost of $120,000. This would have provided student accommodation, from the already inadequate activity fee which every student pays.

We do not feel that student publications or student government should have to pay the College for office space. Since we already have money for the publications, which we believe the sensible thing to do is to build it. It will be a real "whitewash" of the community facilities and permanent quarters for the various publications, the Men's and Women's Honor Councils, the Judicial and Executive Committees, Student Government offices, several committees, lounges, a small dance floor and snack bar.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

Out-of-state students have undoubtedly invested somewhat of a financial problem for the state, but I'm sure the students would be a lot better if they had the opportunity to save money on their expenses in the state of Virginia.

On Saturday, October 15, about 50 members of the Westminster Fellowship journeyed to Manassas' Cabin on the Cholchester River near Yorktown, for the Fellowship's annual "Day Out." Under this new plan, each student religious organization at William and Mary will sponsor an event on the Saturday before the Mills Circus, but at different times. In this way, it is hoped, each student religious organization will be covered by the Chesterfield Council of Religious Educators, while at the same time the Baptist Student Union will have its annual picnic.

Student Activities Fee Committee

The Student Activities Fee Committee held its first meeting of the 1949-50 session at 3 p.m. on Friday, October 14. All members were present.

A second proposal concerning the use of Taliferro Dining Hall as offices for student publications and student government was presented to the Committee. The original proposal, received from the Student Senate, was accepted. The Committee will propose that the annual hall will be called for a rent of $1290 per year.

Revise Proposal

The revised proposal offered the use of Taliferro Dining Hall at a cost of $475 for a 10 month period.

Proposals for Thursday night, since Thomas Thorne's office is vacant, there will be an exhibit coming from Richmond, which is scheduled to occupy the room on the second floor. Thomas Thorne can be persuaded to delay putting up the exhibit if the faculty will open the following day to the public.

High Student Morale

Dr. Pomfret called the fraternity lodges a "chief contributing factor to high student morale throughout the session. He stated, "Although the majority of men students at the College do not join fraternities, the fraternity element certainly is a healthy minority." He reported that the lodge plan had worked well and added, "I am hopeful that the system may make, in time, a positive contribution to the campus."

After noting the modernization of the Wigwam, and the opening of the Pagoda Room for social activities, the president states, "the College has grown steadily in 30 years from an institution of 150 to one of 2,000. Consequently, it has been impossible with limited resources, to maintain adequate recreational and social facilities. Fortunately the climate during most of the regular session is such that outdoor recreation is possible in most months."

Deficit

On the minus side, the president reports the general picture good but calls attention to disconcerting elements in the situation. The budget for 1948-49 was not in balance and "no part of the huge deficit of 1947-48 years scrupulously, so that the College will need to take stringent steps to clear up these deficits during the forthcoming session." Dr. Pomfret reported an expected deficit in tuition income of $30,000 in spite of tuition increases of $10 per semester for Virginia students and $20 for out-of-state students.

Stresses Economy

The loss of this revenue combined with additions to the faculty budget make it necessary for the college to "economize to the limit of $18,000 before it can make any inroad upon the 1947-48 and the 1948-49 deficits." The president continues, "There is hope, by practicing strict economy, of balancing the budget of the forthcoming session."

Endowment Increases

More encouraging in the long view is the news that the college endowment now stands at $1,946,000; nearly $300,000 being added last semester. The president reported that in the last seven years the endowment has been reduced from $267,000 to $189,500 and he stated, "It is my hope that this policy of debt reduction may be adhered to." He called this the ''gains of deficit financing "glory."

George Blow Of Yorktown, Mrs. Blow Adds Papers

Mrs. Robert Jurgeson Adds Papers To Blow Family Collection

"George Blow family papers in the College of William and Mary Library. Mrs. Jurgeson has made the library the depository of 6,075 pieces dating from 1760 to 1900. Business, political, farming, education and military information before published appears in the papers, together with original pen and ink drawings of "Tower Hill" and typical scenes and activities of the times."

These documents relate primarily to Richard Blow's business career, 1796-1833, rounding out the period of Virginia history gained by other members of the family: Edward Jeffcott of Edgartown, Mass. and Mrs. F. S. Sargent of Norfolk. Thus the total number of Blow papers now in the Library is raised to more than 36,000 pieces, one of the most valuable groups of family papers extant for the period of Virginia history which it covers. To Be Exhibited

The papers will be exhibited in the Library during the meeting of the Southern Historical Association at Williamsburg, November 10-13. One eight-section exhibit case will be devoted to plantation life at "Tower Hill." Other cases will display letters and documents related to the college life of the Blow family; military history of the American Revolution and War of 1812 and Civil War.
Indians Fall To Spartans; Face Deacons Saturday

Strong Michigan Team Tramples Redskins, 42-13

By Dick Sayford

The battle that ended made Ruben McCray the busier I've ever been after a football game because the injuries suffered will undoubtedly darken the shape of blue as the band march to get the Wolf Creek back. Jack Coyle re-injured his knee on the first play from scrimmage, and was replaced by the band's Dickie Lewis, who sprained his already swollen ankle on the third play of the game. Randy Davis was carried from the field in third quarter with a badly bruised ankle. Frank Heban suffered a twisted wrist; John Kirk a bruised ankle, and Paul Trisno is on the team's injury list with a head injury.

Coach Clarence (Biggie) Munn's team wasted no time in getting started as they opened the second two minutes after the kickoff. Bud Lewis intercepted the pass at the 12-yard line and took it to the 50-yard line where George Smith downed the ball on the 24-yard line.

Six minutes later the Spartans had a second touchdown as George Gluck passed 16 yards to end zone, finished off and finally fell on the ball. Again, two unsuccessful play lines, Leak pointed to Michigan State's 15 yard line. After three plays the ball was at the M. S. U. 10, and Leak scored a touchdown.

The Wolf Creek fought to the end zone, fumbled and finally fell on the ball for a touchdown. Again, two unsuccessful play lines, Leak pointed to Michigan State's 15 yard line. After three plays the ball was at the M. S. U. 10, and Leak scored a touchdown.

Michigan Staters Treat Indians Well In Pre-Game Tour

Friday morning the William and Mary football team boarded a 60 seat bus from Richmond's Byrd Airport, and after a 90 minute drive to East Lansing, Mich., the Tribe was in Lansing, Mich.

Welcoming the visiting team at the airport were representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, the Downtowners Club, and Michigan State College. After Coach Munn and captain Jack Cloud had been interviewed over the radio, the team was taken in 28 new Oldsmobiles on a tour of Lansing and the near General Motors plant.

The team worked out for two hours in Macklin Stadium, which is one of the most modern and well equipped stadiums in the country. They then returned for supper to their headquarters, the Old Hotel. That night all three or four members of the team suffered mild attacks of dysentery which trainer Dick Simonson laid to the water. As the team left the hotel for the game Saturday, the Alberts and the William and Mary Hymn were played. adidas

A group of 12 newspapermen WIVU's sports broadcaster Hugh Gredelius, and reporters from other newspapers and cheerleaders Sue Nice and Diana Price. Yellow Green departed on regularly scheduled flight from Richmond at noon.

Tickets for the North Carolina game are on sale until 6 p.m. Tuesday, November 23, at the William and Mary Women's Club, 818 E. Buccaneer, business manager of athletics.

Freshman Runners Hope For Schedule

A fresh cross-country team is being organized by assistant coach Herb Burkhart. It is expected to consist of some of the varsity members, of the Sorority team, and some of the women's teams. Burkhart has had a number of good reports on practices for the last two weeks. Burkhart expects to see a good number of runners tomorrow for the first practice of the team.

Freshmen can not run in conference meets, but they can compete against some of the varsity members, of the varsity university teams. Burkhart expects to see a good number of freshmen enter, but the opposition has not been announced yet.

Coach Burkhart expects to see some good compression form from men such as John Martin, Bob Lawson, Dwight Bohbock, George Southwell, Mark Simonton, and Heron. Burkhart has had his changes worked out and he expects to have one freshman meet each week, but the opposition has not been announced yet.

Women's Wiles

By Fran Jewell

"Now is The Hour" should be the open motto of the women students on this campus as far as sports go. There is no time like the present, gals, to get out there and support the intramurals and open tournaments. Even if you don't play, you can go to the games and provide that needed bit of enthusiasm which may mean the difference between a loss and a win. This doesn't apply simply to the freshmen, either, for here at William and Mary, it is the freshman women, as a rule, who make up most of the varsity squads, report the teams, and add the little zip and pep that is had.

The main gripe of the upper-classwomen about playing on a team is this: "Why should we spend five or six hours a week racing up and down a basketball court or hockey field when only half a dozen people show up to watch the game?" It's the same old story every year, so let's get started warming up those paddles and put the teams in action when the open tournaments begin October 24. You'd better begin the preparations with the push plate just ahead. The open tournaments are beginning October 24 and the present gals are urged to report to coach Howard Smith at Blow Gym as soon as possible. There is a special need for divers, this year, Smith states.

Swimmers Wanted

All candidates for the varsity swimming team are urged to report to coach Howard Smith at Blow Gym as soon as possible. There is a special need for divers this year, Smith stated.

Tennis Tournament Begins

Garrison is capable of holding his own with about any netter in school while Larkin, along with Ronnie Barnes, was one of the national junior finalists at Kalamazoo, Michigan in August, receiving a U. S. ranking. Expected to head the field are Ken Bellis, Roy Steeck, Stan Garrison, and George Larkin.

Jack Bruce Gains Ground For Paterson

Jack Bruce, formerly a stellar halfback and safety man for the Indians, is playing for the Paterson Panthers in the American Football League. In the recently released statistics, Bruce's name came up twice among the leaders for punt returners, picking up 78 yards on seven runs for an average of 5.2 yards per try. He ranks seventh in punt returners with 151 yards in 29 attempts, for an average of 5.2 yards per try.

New Excavation Unearth Buildings
On Ground Facing Chowning’s Tavern

Structural Arrangement
Considered Very Unusual

Foundations of three colonial buildings have been found here during recent archaeological excavations made by James Knight, Archaeologist of Colonial Williamsburg. The excavations, made on portions of the Lightfoot property, have revealed that a house, a kitchen, and what appears to be a blacksmith’s shop once occupied the site. Foundations of other buildings were also unearthed, but they continue on private property, and further excavations are impossible. The site of the new excavations, located on Duke of Gloucester Street across from Chowning’s Tavern, was recently cleared of a post-colonial dwelling, the Roger House, for excavation work.

Little data is available on the three buildings, and the famous “Premium Map” of 1719 shows only one building on the site, believed to be the blacksmith’s shop. Knight says it is possible the other buildings had been destroyed by the time the Frenchman’s Map was made.

The kitchen, built apart from the house, has a cellar, a rare occurrence in 18th century structures and is the second arrangement found in Williamsburg excavations. This was the most unusual in the eighteenth century. Another unusual feature of the group is the large size of the fireplace of the dwelling, measuring over eight feet across.

Program Of Debates
Planned By Robinson

With plans already underway for the fourth annual Marshall Debate Festival to be held for April 21, Bruce Robinson, chairman of the committee, is inaugurating a program of intramural debating.

The National Collegiate Debate, with resolutions to be made, will be held in Washington 300 for those who still wish to make the team. Students are urged to submit their suggestions for the intramural debating to Robinson.

Naval Reserve 5-5
To Meet Thursday

Naval Reserve Composite Unit 5-5 will meet in room 212 Rodgers Hall on Thursday, October 20, from 7-9 p.m.

Any members of the Naval Reserve enrolled in classes, all ratings and classifications are invited to attend the meeting and to affiliate with the local unit which meets twice each month. Members of the Naval Reserve who wish to join the unit may become eligible for Navy retirement in 20 years. The enthusiasm of the unit is growing for advancement in rate and rank.

Additional information may be obtained from Capt. R. House, Commanding Officer of the unit.

Council To Choose 1950 Cotton Queen

Announcing its 1950 Maid of Cotton contest, the Delta Delta Delta Council is now beginning to receive applications from women throughout the university’s colleges and universities.

The appointee selected will tour the country as the American cotton industry’s goodwill and fashion ambassador. The 1950 Maid will be twelfth in the Maid of Cotton line.

The Maid of Cotton contest is not the ordinary beauty contest. Judges place equal emphasis on back-ground, poise, personality, and appearance, looking for such qualities as poise, friendliness, intelligence, wholesome attitude and ability to speak before an audience.

Eligibility requirements allow any girl, between the ages of 19 and 25, single and a native of a cotton-producing state, to enter the contest. The ‘50 Maid will travel more than 32,000 miles, both state and national, and will make many other cotton producing states.

Library Offers Audio-Visual Plan

Mrs. Marjory Jolly of the college library has announced that once again the Audio-Visual Program will be offered.

She can obtain films on almost any subject. These films and most Audio-Visual equipment including projectors, are available to clubs, professors and students.

Anyone desiring to use the facilities of the Audio-Visual Department or wishing someone to show films should arrange for it by contacting Mrs. Jolly in the Audio-Visual office on the second floor of the college library.

Royalist Deadline Set

Deadline for all manuscripts to be submitted to the Royalist has been set at October 27 by Pat Stringham, editor of the magazine.

Manuscripts may be handed to Pat or any staff member or placed in the Royalist box in Marshall-Wythe. "When submitting manuscripts, don't forget to include your college address," Pat said.

Members of the editorial board are Jeanette Kestling, Willard Bridges, Jane Watts, Chris Moe and Patrick Lamberti.

Leading their talents to the Royalist as art staff members are Pat Adminer, Sue Wirgand and Hugh Haynie.

The art editor is yet to be appointed.

Club To Sponsor Campus Movies Of W&M Games

Again this year the Varsity Club is going to attempt to sponsor campus showings of movies taken at William and Mary’s games away from home.

George Hughes, president of the club, stated, “There is some hitch in the arrangements for the campus movies which will have to be cleared up before they can be shown.” Hughes pointed out that if satisfactory arrangements can be made, the first football movie of the year, that of the Pittsburgh game, will be shown tomorrow in Washington 300 at 8 p.m.

The club hopes to show excerpts of the Michigan state game on the following Wednesday night and of the Franklin game the next week. “Each week announcements will be made in the cafeteria and notices posted on the Fine Arts bulletin board,” said Hughes. He continued, “I think the charge will be 15 cents, the same as last year.”

The football coach at the University of Oklahoma receives a higher salary than the president of the university.

Due hunt follows last Freshman Tribunal of the year held in Phi Beta Kappa Hall last Thursday night. This was the only Tribunal open to upperclassmen. In charge of the event was Bob Hackler, president of the sophomore class.

Guilty Frosh Prosecuted Unmercifully

Final Tribunal Liberates Freshman Class; Heartless Sophomores Punish Accused

By Bob Hedelt

High lunacy and wild pandemonium marked the final meeting of this year’s Freshman Tribunal held in Phi Beta Kappa Hall last Thursday evening, October 13.

Long before 7 p.m. the auditorium was filled with a capacity crowd of upperclassmen and freshmen on hand to witness the yearly event.

In charge of the proceedings was Bob Hackler, president of the sophomore class, who was ably assisted by Carol Walker, clerk.

An unwilling defendant. However, all was intended in good fun and the freshmen class as a whole has been commended upon the good sportsmanship shown.

The evening’s happenings concluded with the “due hunt”, after which all rules and regulations governing frosh and new students became null, and the class of ’53 firmly established as full pledged members of the college.

Warren Sprouse Conducts W&M Choir After Three Years As Baritone Soloist
Son of Virginian Presbyterian Minister; Expects To Continue Study In New York

Those people at vespers in Wren chapel last Wednesday heard something which must have dynamized their artistic pulse. The power was the 50 voice William and Mary choir singing the beautiful and inspirational Now the Day Is Over. Pulling the strings was one of the youngest and handsomest men on our faculty: acting choral director, Warren Sprouse.

When we got together in Warren's office, he first had to lift his head, with the somewhat reddish curls, out of the reams of desk papers which surround him. "Got a lot of records to straighten out," he said. And so he does, for his job is by no means all baton waving. As he does his desk work, in the wing of the Methodist church, he is also surrounded by pictures of past William and Mary choir. And he can remember contributing to three of them, both as a member and as a baritone soloist, before moving in this year to take over. There is also a chart on the wall which illustrates the wide range of musical numbers done by his outfits: a chart of composers ranging from Bach to Gershwin.

It was in Staunton, Virginia, that this "very ordinary sort of a person" (his own words) was born. His high school days there saw him really become interested in music. And, although he didn't say so, it seems very likely that his being the son of a Presbyterian minister somewhat determined his own contributions in the religious field. When he was at William and Mary as an undergraduate, he was resident for two years of the Westminster Fellowship group at the school, and also top man for the state-wide organization. Now he helps his church by directing its choir.

Warren served on the General Competitive Committee and dance groups as a W. and M. student, and last year was chairman of the Men's Honor Council. Before being a member of Omicron Delta Kappa and an aide to the president, he took time out once in a while to do a little socializing with his KA brothers. On their serenades his mellow baritone must certainly be more than appreciated.

What holds the future for this clean-cut young man with the fine features and those clear brown eyes? Why, "more vocal study," says he—this time in New York. But, that's not until next year. So, if you're walking up N. Boundary some late afternoon and hear someone say, "All right, let's have law, lay, lee, low, lou," you can be sure it's our hard working young choir director rounding out his lads and lassies of the choir or chorus into shape for the musical year '49-'50.

Theta Delta Chi

 Theta Delt (Continued from Page 1) in any one inspection was 205 and for the semester 1435. The Theta Delta Chi score amounted to 85 per cent of the total possible.

Kappa Alpha was second with 1171 points and Pi Lambda Phi third with 1082 points. They were followed in order by Kappa Sigma, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Pi, Lambda Chi Alpha, Sigma Xi, Phi Alpha, Pi Kappa Alpha and Pi Kappa Tau.

At the same time it was announced that there would be a prize again this semester for the best housekeeping.
